

Grand Opening Sale!

Kujawa & Wilkin's New Store, Rudolph, Wis.,
Ten Days, commencing Nov. 20th.

To properly celebrate the opening to the public of our new store, we respectfully invite the people of this part of the county to visit us and take advantage of the money saving sale that marks this event.

To those who know us, it is unnecessary to say anything about the quality of the merchandise we sell.

To those who are strangers, we will say that we sell nothing but high grade goods. No "Cheap John" goods of any kind is handled by us. No short weight packages of fruit or other package goods. Nothing but full 16 ounces.

Dry Goods
Specials

Men's Wool Shirts.....$1.00
Cotton Batting.....8c
Linen Toweling, per yd.....7c
Thread, per spool.....4c
A sundry lot of two piece fleece lined underwear that sold at 50c, at this sale.....39c
Boys' and Men's Caps, now 10, 15, 25, 50c and $1.00
Canvas Gloves, per pair while they last.....6c

Nickel Plated Watch
FREE FREE

With every purchase amounting to $10.00 or more we will give free One Watch. These are not toy watches but the regular $1.00 kind of which several millions have been sold.

Chippewa Mackinaws.....$6.00
These usually sell for $7.00 to $7.50.

See us about fruit, cranberries, nuts, bread, jelly rolls, olives, pickles, frostings and jellies.

We Will Please You!

Grocery Specials

Ginger Snaps, per pound.....5c
Soda Crackers by the whole box per pound.....6c
Toasted Corn Flakes, 5 boxes for.....25c
6 large cans Tomatoes.....49c
1 Dozen large dill pickles.....10c
Olives, large jars.....15c and 25c
Rice, per pound.....4c
Birds' Eye Matches, 7 boxes for.....25c
Tea Duck, choice quality.....12c
Unadorned Japan Tea.....23c
Coffee, good quality, a lb.....14c
White Laundry Soap, 7 bars for.....25c
Yellow Laundry Soap, 8 bars for.....25c
Sugar, per 100 pounds.....$4.89
Yeast Foam, 2 packages for 5c

We earnestly invite you to come and visit us during this sale. We will try our best to make your visit pleasant and profitable. We are going to treat you so nice while here, that you will want to come again.

For the ladies we will have ice cream and it will be our treat, and for our gentlemen friends, we will have a box of cigars on tap.

KUJAWA & WILKINS, Rudolph, Wis.

It's a mighty good thing in this hustling age of ours to look backward now and then in order that we may look forward with greater hope and courage.

Thanksgiving is, and should be, one of our most important National events for it brings us back, in memory, to the very foundation stones of our National policy.

We recall the principles which carried those men of indomitable courage to the bleak New England shores in search of a greater freedom; we review with pride their struggles to build so perfectly as to withstand the storms of doubt, discouragement and criticism of nearly 300 years.

And today in big successful businesses, you will find those same sturdy, old fashioned principles uppermost. You will find honesty, pure and simple, dominating every transaction; you will find truthfulness and straightforward open-above-board methods being used in every trade-winning, success-bringing effort.

For these things this live store, the men in it and the men behind it are thankful. We realize that we are right in building our business along these lines, in associating ourselves with an institution such as

The House of Kuppenheimer

and we can look forward knowing that where our underlying principles are correct our greater growth, our larger success is assured.

We're simply good clothes sellers in every sense of the word. Our doors are always open in welcome to every man, woman and child in our community and whether you come here with a definite purchase in mind or simply to look, listen and learn; we're ready, willing and anxious to serve you.

KRUGER & WARNER CO.

The Home of Better Clothes
Grand Rapids, Wis.

GRAND RAPIDS SELECTED FOR THE NEXT MEETING.

At the Sunday school convention held in Sheboygan last week Grand Rapids was selected for the next annual meeting. Kenosha was also a bidder for the convention, but they withdrew in favor of Grand Rapids when it became known how many advantages there were here. No doubt our people will be able to entertain the delegates in proper style.

KELLNER

Wm. Gaulke, Jr., stepped on to the rose clad path of matrimony with Miss Ella Winkler on the lucky day of Nov. 12th. Rev. A. Krusche performed the ceremony, using the ring service. Miss Laura Gaulke acted as bridesmaid and Joe Winkler acted as best man. A bountiful dinner was served after the wedding ceremony which took place at 11 o'clock. After a social afternoon the bridal couple were taken to Stevens Point via auto where they remained until 2 o'clock a. m. when they boarded the north bound limited for Ashland where they will visit for some time after which they will be at home in Grand Rapids on 10th St. S. We all wish the new couple a long and happy wedded life.

Mrs. A. A. Richards of Stevens Point visited over Sunday at the home of Rev. A. Krusche.

Mrs. Wm. Schultz of Sigel is visiting at the home of her brother Aug. Bus.

John Glebie, who recently sold his farm will move into the old Moyer home for the present.

Eddie, the 8 year old son of Mr. and Mrs. Alb. Saeger is reported seriously ill at this writing with a combination of diseases. Dr. F. X. Pomainville is attending him.

The nice fall weather which we have had the past few days has been appreciated by everybody.

A daughter was born to Mr. and Mrs. Otto Bernau, Nov. 12.

Mrs. Fred Rieckhoff and children went to Stevens Point Tuesday to visit with friends and relatives for some time.

Ward Sunday at Amherst St. John A. Krusche received returns from his examination which he took at Milwaukee Oct. 8th for license as an embalmer and was awarded with a certificate. John's many friends wish him success in his new profession.

For Sale, Rent or Exchange, a good 140 acre farm close to school, church and market. Good set of buildings. See Edward Pomainville, the Real Estate Man over Otto's Drug store.

BIG IMPROVEMENT MADE AT RUDOLPH

At the snug little village of Rudolph the other day, the writer saw a remarkable building.

Though built most substantially of modern masonry, 60x70 feet, two floors and full basement, we were not so much concerned with its mechanical dimensions and detail as with its significance as a Monument to Good Faith—A Sign of Service.

The good book says something about whether it is a sign of things to come or a sign of things that have been. We know the man who repaid our confidence with pretense and failure and we've known the man who repaid our faith with service, two for one.

When Alex Kujawa, in the fall of 1906, succeeded F. M. Logan in business, he so promptly rewarded faith with service that from the very outset he was short of room. He kept turning the old premises into more and more room, as the while modestly wondering whether it was his unapproachable name or the fact that he kept the postoffice that attracted so many good people's patronage. But the sturdy farmers of Rudolph knew. They knew what it meant to deal with one who put the satisfaction of a customer ahead of every other consideration in trade—a man with whom you'd be perfectly safe to deal with your eyes shut—you could be sure you were getting the best money's worth your dollars could buy.

So it happened that when, on the morning of Feb. 21st this year, a fire wiped out the old premises and most of the stock, Kujawa came face to face with the question of changing locations. There came various offers that were hard to reject but the inducements of lighter work, shorter hours, bigger returns, better school facilities for the children all melted in the face of the touching expressions of encouragement, along with offers of assistance to rebuild tendered him by seemingly everyone within several miles of his humble establishment.

He had nourished and unconsciously become an important part of the community and the community wanted him to understand that it had faith in him. Henceforth no more thought of any other community but let the public witness his determination to reward good faith with good service. All that he had, strength, substance, energy, he would put into the work of advancing Rudolph.

Thus came the building that is considered the best and most up-to-date country store in Wisconsin. It is equipped with elevator, modern gas lighting system, hot water heat, underground kerosene and gasoline tanks with automatic measuring pumps, grocery counters that are absolutely sanitary and proof against bugs, worms, flies and dust, all built with a view of affording service.

After deciding to rebuild, Mr. Kujawa formed a partnership with J. A. Wilkins, who is no stranger to the patrons of this store, having clerked four years in the old establishment. The style of the firm now is Kujawa and Wilkins and this firm's capacity for making good, backed by the loyalty of the citizens of this region, is going to make a city out of Rudolph.

Play of the Naturalistic School
"The Deep Purple" the successful play by Paul Armstrong and Wilson Mizner, the Princess theatre (Chicago) production of which comes to Dal's Theatre Thursday Nov. 29 direct from its long New York and Chicago runs, is making its way in this country. Whatever name this new school is ultimately to be credited with, its origin is said to lurk in the realistic schools of France and the Teutonic countries. Yet its character has been greatly modified, by its application to things American, and its submission to the requirements of American audiences. There is none of the morbidness of the Scandinavian realist, or the gleeful exhibition of shocking detail that is so apt to characterize the work of the Frenchman of the same school.

"The Deep Purple" takes its audience into the haunts of the modern criminal, not a pet crook, the sneak-thief or the house-breaker, but he who works for big stakes through his analysis of the human weaknesses of those with whom he deals. The setting throughout breeds realism, though there is no claim made, for instance, that the boarding-house scene, located in the midst of New York's tenderloin district, has been transported intact from a real boarding house to the stage. That would be incompatible with the spirit of the so-called new-school, which believes in producing the effects or true realism through the accentuation of the essential and the subordination of detail.

An unusually fine cast of players have been assembled for the production of "The Deep Purple," make a point of the fact that the leading actors are endowed with naturalistic tendencies. The play, too, has been staged by Hugh Ford, a highly trained specialist in this field of endeavor.

ALTDORF

There was a surprise party at Anton Arnold's home Saturday evening. The evening was spent in dancing.

Frank and Tony Wipfi who spent some time at Mauston returned home last week.

Anna Frutich left last Saturday for Milwaukee where she will visit her sister Mrs. George Bel.

Frank Wipfi purchased a horse while in Mauston.

Emma Schiller and Bertha Arnold spent some time in Nekeosa.

There was a surprise party at the Albert Viertel home Sunday evening. The evening was spent in dancing.

Alfred Stemes of Mauston is visiting relatives and friends here.

John Schiller is working for Mr. Peterson who lives at the Joe Andrew place.

Mr. and Mrs. Sterling spent Sunday at the A. Huser home.

Sam Springberg, of the firm of Rock stein & Springberg, of Babcock, was in the city looking after some business matters on Monday and while here he was among the callers at the Tribune office.

New Laws for Wisconsin Cities.

The last legislature passed many laws giving cities more powers than they have heretofore possessed. In the way of bills of interest to the smaller cities, one of the most important measures adopted was a bill delegating to the common councils of municipalities the right to create or abolish offices as they might see fit. In other words, this measure is considerable of a home rule bill in itself, as it means that instead of having to come to the legislature to ask for the creation of public offices the cities will be in a position to create or discontinue offices as they may seem best to the citizens acting through their common council.

The same Fourth idea received a strong endorsement in a bill passed by the legislature providing that municipalities may make appropriations for Independence day celebrations.

Another bill of great importance to the smaller cities of the state provides that municipalities can erect public halls and auditoriums and lease these public halls and auditoriums for amusement purposes.

Another bill of importance gives to cities the right to acquire land outside their limits for park purposes.

The same Fourth idea received a strong endorsement in a bill passed by the legislature providing that municipalities may make appropriations for Independence day celebrations.

Another bill of great importance to the smaller cities of the state provides that municipalities can erect public halls and auditoriums and lease these public halls and auditoriums for amusement purposes.

Cities, villages and towns may acquire and operate utilities located outside their boundaries.

A council may by two-thirds vote construct streets and gutters without waiting for the usual petition and assess cost to the abutting property.

By two-thirds vote the council may change the number and boundaries of wards, and consolidate old ones, but there can be no further change in two years.

Death of Mrs. Knox.

Mrs. Richard Knox, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Wm. Lawrence of Port Edwards, died at her home at Rhineland, Saturday, November 15th, after an illness of some length from pleurisy. Deceased was born in Port Edwards on the 26th of September, 1888 and lived there all her life until her marriage to Mr. Knox in 1907. She is survived by two children, a girl 5 years old, and a boy of three years, and her husband. The remains were brought to Port Edwards for burial. The funeral being held this afternoon from the home of the parents, Rev. George Fierke to conduct the services.

New Way to Kill Quack Grass.

Wausau Record-Herald:—Supervisor A. B. Beebe of the village of McMillan brought to Wausau two samples of hemp stalks grown on the B. F. McMillan farm. The hemp was planted to kill off quack grass on a tract of about twenty-five acres. From the ground planted an average of twenty tons of hemp to the acre was secured. Aside from killing the quack grass the hemp will bring considerable profit into the hands of the owner.

Pratt Home Sold.

Louis Reichel has purchased the M. S. Pratt home on the corner of Oak and Eighth streets. The M. S. Reichel's intention to build a modern and up-to-date premises, which are ideally located for this purpose.

Killed a Bear.

Harold Argin, who has been hunting near Atlanta since the season opened, bagged a bear the fore part of the week. The animal was shipped here, and as it is a nice specimen the hide will be mounted and preserved.

FOR SALE.

—36 acre truck and garden farm adjoining limits of City of Grand Rapids. 25 acres under cultivation. Good seven roomed farm house with large cellar. The farm is very good but can be used for the present. Located on main traveled highway. J. R. P. D. Telephone. Good location for selling. A bargain for quick sale. Inquire of C. B. Boles, Lyon-block, Grand Rapids, Wis.

SIGEL

A theatre in Sigel will be given on Wednesday evening Nov. 26, 1913 at 8 p. m. at the hall, by the Polish church. Everybody welcome.

C. F. Kruger was a business visitor in Milwaukee and Chicago on Monday and Tuesday.

Mr. and Mrs. Rogers Mott departed on Sunday evening for a visit with relatives in Chicago.

Miss Orall Macdon of Stevens Point is spending a few days in the city the guest of Miss Ruth McCamley.

Word was received from the Nash hunting crowd on Friday that up to that time they had shot nine deer.

Please take your cutters and sleighs to the Anderson Carriage Works and have them put in proper condition for winter use.

Chas. Dixon, Fred Mosher and Louis Fritz returned on Sunday night from a week's successful deer hunt at Mercer. They report deer very plentiful there this year.

Messrs. M. H. Jackson, L. A. DeGuerre, Dr. Foote, Dr. Cottrill, Cabbie Krause, Jack Kinister, Judge Roberts, Edw. Coyle and Mr. Glennon were initiated into the Elks lodge on Tuesday evening.

Now is the time to take out Fire Insurance policies. See Ed. Pomainville over Otto's Drug Store for he has some good companies and he writes Insurance at low rates.

Messrs. J. J. Jeffrey, Chas. Natwick, D. D. Conway, Drs. E. J. Clark and Carl Bandelin, A. P. Hirzy, Roy Lester and August Miller returned on Tuesday evening from their hunt in Sawyer county. They each brought back a nice deer.

Mrs. Peter Love entertained the Daisy Chain at her home on Tuesday evening. The evening was spent at bridge whist. Mrs. L. Slatterer carrying off the honors. Light refreshments were served and a most enjoyable evening was spent by those present.

That New Jersey artist who painted a landscape miniature on a grain of corn some forty years ago couldn't afford such an expensive canvas now.

WOOD CO. TO HAVE ONE MORE SCHOOL

If the rising generation of Wood County does not acquire an education suitable to their needs and requirements it will not be because of stringency on the part of the county board members.

At the session of that body on Monday it was voted to establish an agricultural and domestic economy school in connection with the County Normal school in this city and steps will be taken at once to carry out the requirements as set forth in the resolution passed by the board.

There are many of the residents of the county who have felt for some time past that the county needed an agricultural school, it being their opinion that such an institution would be of more value to the rising generation than many of the things they are now being taught in some of the higher schools. It is certainly a fact that Wood county is going to be one of the great agricultural counties of the state; in fact it now occupies that position, and as time passes there will be a greater demand all the time for learning along this line. There is no question but what scientific knowledge of farming will be more necessary as time goes on, and that this knowledge will have a tendency to make farm life more pleasant and tolerable to those engaged in it.

Many a sermon has been preached on the subject: "As the twig is bent the tree's inclined," and it is not necessary to preach one here, for every body realizes that fact that the teachings of youth are the most firmly grounded in the mind and do more to influence the after life than any done that can be acquired later.

While it might be expected that the establishment of this school would do much toward increasing the expense to the county, it is not expected that such will be the case. The attendance at the Wood County Normal has increased from year to year until at the present time it is impossible to accommodate all of those who apply for admission. It is expected that with the establishment of this new school a considerable number of those who now attend the training school will go to the agricultural and domestic science school, and that also a large number of the children who go to the cities to obtain a high school education will, after the establishment of the new school, attend that, so that considerable money will be saved each year in tuition to the different high schools, so that the cost to the public at large will be little if any greater than at the present time.

Daily Joyce.

Miss Anna Daly of this city and Dr. Frank Joyce of Waterloo were married at 9 o'clock this morning at St. Peter & Paul Catholic church. Rev. Wm. Reding performing the ceremony that made them man and wife. After the ceremony the wedding party and their invited guests repaired to the home of the bride's parents, where a sumptuous wedding breakfast was served, and the young couple left the same day for the south on their wedding tour, after which they will make their home at Waterloo.

The bride is one of our home girls, being the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Chas. E. Daly, and is a young lady who has many friends in this city. For several years past she has made a business of stenography, at which she has been eminently successful, her last engagement being in the law office of Atty. Geo. L. Williams. While the groom is a comparative stranger in this city, he is reported to be a young man of sterling worth and good prospects. The Tribune extends congratulations.

Waterman-Steck.

Miss Mayme Waterman and Mr. Wm. A. Steck, of Oakland, California, were married on Tuesday of last week in Oakland. The bride is well known in this city having been employed as clerk in the local postoffice for a number of years past, and is a most estimable young lady who has many friends here who will join with the Tribune in extending the heartiest of congratulations and wishing the newlyweds a long life of happiness.

Death of Jens Bankins.

Jens M. Bankins, who resided with his daughter Mrs. Cella Batty, died on Sunday evening, after a lengthy illness. Mr. Bankins had been a resident of this city for only a short time, having come here with his wife from Plover last spring since which time they have made their home with their daughter. Besides Mrs. Batty, the deceased is survived by another daughter, Mrs. George Sherman, and his wife.

Deceased was born on the 8th of January, 1859, and was consequently 53 years old at his last birthday. The funeral was held on Monday from the home, the services being conducted by C. A. Wiley of Beloit.

Will Play at Sparta.

The local football team will go to Sparta next Saturday to play the team in that city.

Some Swim.

Two negro roustabouts at New Orleans were continually bragging about their ability as long-distance swimmers, and a steamboat man got up a match. The man who swam the longest distance was to receive $5.

The Alabama Whale immediately stripped on the dock, but the Human Steamboat said he had some business and would return in a few minutes. The Whale swam the river four or five times for exercise, and by that time the Human Steamboat returned.

He wore a pair of swimming trunks and had a sheet-iron cook stove strapped on his back. Tied around his neck were a dozen packages containing bread, bacon and other eatables. The Whale gazed at his opponent in amazement.

"Whar yo vittles?" demanded the Human Steamboat. "Vittles fo whar?" asked the Whale. "Don't yo ask me fo' nothin' on the way ovah," warned the Steamboat. "Mah fust stop is New York an mah next stop is London."—Argonaut.

Vast Area of Polar Regions.

What is known as the polar regions cover 4,370,265 square miles and have 300,000 inhabitants.

AGRICULTURAL BULLETINS.

At the expense of the Grand Rapids banks, bulletins from the Wisconsin College of Agriculture will be sent monthly to any farmer in this vicinity who cares for them. The following subjects will be covered:

- Dec. Dollars in Dairying.
- Jan. Business Methods on the Farm.
- Feb. How to Run a Cow Testing Association.
- Mar. The Work Horse in Spring.
- Apr. Good Roads and How to Get Them.
- May. How to Get a Bumper Corn Crop.
- June. Planting Potatoes.
- July. Silos and Silage.
- Aug. Pork Production.
- Sept. Selection and Curing of Seed Corn.
- Oct. Milk and Money.

Simply send your name and address to one of the banks in Grand Rapids and the bulletins will be sent to you each month without charge.

"THE DEEP PURPLE."

With "The Deep Purple" that highly successful drama which comes to Dal's Theatre Thursday, Nov. 20, a new partnership of dramatic authors was born. Armstrong had long been a successful playwright, as "Alvin Karpis Valentine," "Salomy Jane," and "The Hour to the Hurrah" will bear witness. Mizner had had only one play produced, and that had a short life, but he brought to the partnership a knowledge of men and conditions that he had attained during which he had been at various times, a hotel-keeper, a lecturer with a travelling medicine show, a gold-digger in the Klondike, a soldier, a prize-fight manager, a short story writer, and the husband of a millionairess with a mansion on Fifth Avenue. Certainly his has been a checkered career. Judging from the great success of "The Deep Purple" the collaboration of this unique celebrity and the experienced playwright seems a happy one.

Death of Mrs. Bates.

Mrs. Melissa Townsend Bates, widow of Almon Bates, Sr., died at her home near Rudolph on Wednesday morning, Nov. 12, 1913. Death was caused by a blood clot on the brain. She is survived by the daughters, Mrs. Mary Pryne, Mrs. Ada Davis, Mrs. Amelia Cumberland, Mrs. Julia Cumberland and Miss Emma Bates, and five sons, Willis, Alfred, Leroy, Merion and Almon. For thirty-four years the family has lived on the farm in Rudolph.

The funeral was held at the home on Saturday morning, the Rev. H. B. Johnson, officiating, and interment was made at Forest Hill cemetery.

Camera For Judging Races.

An automatic photograph apparatus for judging races has proved successful in France and will be used at the next Paris international race meeting. A camera is placed in line with the winning post, and the winning horse, by breaking a thread, releases the electrically controlled shutter and photograph of the finish is taken. A similar device was used at the last Olympic Games at Stockholm, but there the photographs were chiefly used as additional evidence in case of a disagreement between the judges—Scientific American.

Paid Big Fines.

Thomas Tronson and John Brundum, both of the town of Amherst, were in the county court, brought there through the medium of a complaint made against them by R. B. Southard, state dairy and creamery inspector. The charge against them was that "while engaged in the manufacture of cream from milk by a milk separator they did then and there willfully maintain the premises where the cream was produced in an unsanitary condition." Both entered pleas of guilty and were fined $25 and costs.—Stevens Point Journal.

Concert a Good One.

The second of the series of hand concerts by the Best Concert company was given at the opera house on Saturday evening to a fair sized and appreciative audience. The program consisted of harp solos, readings and soprano solos, and made up a varied program that was appreciated by all. There is one more concert in the series that will be given for the benefit of the hand.

Small Pox Prevalent.

There are numerous cases of small pox in the city at the present time, but all of the cases are of a light nature. In fact, this is the reason why the disease has got such a start, as several of the victims were not sick enough to be confined to their bed, or even the house, and the result was that in some instances children were allowed to go to school while suffering from the disease.

ADVERTISED MAIL.

List of mail advertised at Grand Rapids, Wis., Nov. 18, 1913.

Ladies:

Miss Agnes Baker, Mrs. W. Bettes, Mrs. Roy J. Brown, Mrs. Frank Moss, Miss Elma L. Snyder.

Gentlemen:

Mr. Ernest Hinner, Mr. Paul Kast, Mr. Lauder Karneve, Mr. W. Zielenko, Mr. Zenda.

ROBERT NASH, P. M.

Open a New Paint Shop.

Roy Getts, the painter, has opened a paint shop in the small wooden building on Second street back of the Kruger & Warner store, where he will do all kinds of painting and finishing in both large or small quantities. Mr. Getts has had considerable experience in the painting and finishing and the new proposition should be a winner.

Notice to Christian Endeavors.

Next Sunday evening at 6:30 o'clock there will be a meeting of all the young people societies of Grand Rapids, at which Rev. Edgar T. Farrell secretary of the Christian Endeavor Society of Wisconsin will speak. All are cordially invited.

Herman Smith was among the lucky hunters who killed a deer the past week.

MRS. J. TAYLOR,

TEACHER OF PIANO
Studio Corner Fourth and Madison
Streets. Telephone 321.

Kujawa & Wilkin's New Store, Rudolph, Wis.,
Ten Days, commencing Nov. 20th.

To those who are strangers, we will say that we sell nothing but high grade goods. No "Cheap John" goods of any kind is handled by us. No short weight packages of fruit or other package goods. Nothing but full 16 ounces.

Grocery Specials

Soda Crackers by the whole box per pound..... 6c

Toasted Corn Flakes, 5 boxes
for..... 25c

6 large cans Tomatoes..... 49c

6 regular cans Corn..... 39c

1 Dozen large dill pickles..... 10c

1 Dozen large dill pickles..... 15c and 25c

Rice, per pound..... 4c

Birds' Eye Matches, 7 boxes
for..... 25c

Ten Dust, choice quality..... 12c

Blue-colored Japan Tea..... 23c

Coffee, good quality, a lb. 14c

White Laundry Soap, 7 bars
for..... 25c

Yellow Laundry Soap, 8 bars
for..... 25c

Tooth Picks, fancy, per box 4c

Sugar, per 100 pounds..... $4.89

Yeast Foam, 2 packages for 5c

For the ladies we will have ice cream and it will be our treat, and for our gentlemen friends, we will have a box of cigars on tap.

KUJAWA & WILKINS, Rudolph, Wis.

was among the callers at the Tribune office.

cover 4,970,265 square miles and have 300,000 inhabitants.

RS. J. TAYLOR,
TEACHER OF PIANO
Studio Corner Fourth and Madison
Streets. Telephone 528.

LIND QUILTS CAPITAL

WILSON'S ENVOY HANDS DICTATOR ULTIMATUM AGAINST SEATING CONGRESS.

TIME UP, GETS NO REPLY

American's Personal Effects Removed From Hotel at Vera Cruz to U. S. Consulate—O'Shaughnessy May Be Recalled From Republic.

Mexico City, Nov. 14.—Envoy John Lind left on Wednesday night for Vera Cruz. He gave Huerta notice that no further negotiations of any kind between the United States and Mexico would be possible unless the newly-elected congress were dissolved. No answer was forthcoming.

The personal effects of John Lind were removed from the hotel where he has resided during his stay in Vera Cruz to the American consulate.

General Huerta was notified early in the day that unless he returned an answer by six o'clock, believed to be the effect that he would prevent the newly elected congress from convening, and, furthermore, make this action known to the members of the diplomatic corps by midnight, the United States would have no further parleying with the Mexican government.

Mr. Lind waited until six o'clock, but received no answer. Then he arranged for his departure on the train leaving for Vera Cruz at eight o'clock.

Nelson O'Shaughnessy, American charge, was the messenger who delivered the ultimatum. He was unable personally to reach Huerta, but left the message at the president's office.

It was intimated at the palace that Huerta had not received the note in time to give it full consideration. This, however, did not appear to Mr. Lind, a valid excuse for procrastination.

The secretary of the convening of congress has been one essential point in the negotiations conducted by Mr. Lind; for two reasons: First, it was believed the new congress would take no time in passing measures having to do with the oil concessions, and, second, it was held the convening of congress would give an air of legality to Huerta's government.

Not since the revolution began has the feeling in the capital been so tense as it was all day. The most categorical denials by Messrs. O'Shaughnessy and Lind of knowledge of any developments on which this feeling could be based failed to disabuse the minds of the people of the belief that the next 24 hours would see some decisive move on the part of Washington.

The reports spread until there was scarcely a foreign resident in the capital who had not heard that the American charge had been given up and was about to be given his passports.

All sorts of rumors were current. Many persons who contemplated leaving the country soon made hurried preparations and caught the night train to Vera Cruz.

Mr. Lind was said to have received from Vera Cruz messages urging him to return at once, for fear the railroad would be cut.

Belis have begun a campaign to interrupt traffic between the capital and Vera Cruz. A train was held up on the main line of the Inter-Oceanic railway at night and all passengers robbed. From the express car the rebels took nearly 1,000,000 pesos in government silver.

The federal garrison at Tuxtepec asked the war department for reinforcements, but was told help was unavailable.

Washington, Nov. 14.—Secretary Bryan announced that the government would issue within a few days a statement setting forth the steps the United States would take to solve the Mexican problem. Almost simultaneously came news from William Dayard Hale, reputed personal envoy of President Wilson, of his conference with Gen. Victoriano Carranza, chief of the Mexican constitutionalists, at Nogales, Sonora.

Information from an authoritative source was that Secretary Bryan was considering the breaking of diplomatic negotiations with Mexico and preparing for the withdrawal of Mr. O'Shaughnessy, the American charge d'affaires, from Mexico City.

Although officials were reticent, it became known that Mr. Hale presented to Carranza a proposal designed to end the Mexican revolution. This was said to include a request that Carranza and his cabinet, which was present at the meeting with Mr. Hale, name their choice for a provisional president to succeed Huerta and that they open negotiations with leaders in the City of Mexico, through the United States, with a view of having such an official installed in the federal capital.

Shooting Woman and Kills Self.
Bloomington, Ill., Nov. 14.—After shooting Mrs. Mark Gray of Dupue through the head and inflicting probably fatal wounds, John McAllister, an electrician of La Salle, killed himself. No motive for act is known.

Haywood Convicted Set Aside.
Trenton, N. J., Nov. 12.—The state supreme court set aside the conviction of William Haywood, Industrial Worker of World leader who, with two others, was found guilty of disorderly conduct during the silk strike.

Vatican Gardener Suicides.
Rome, Nov. 12.—The first suicide ever known to have taken place within the Vatican became known here. A gardener became violently insane and leaped from a thirty-five foot wall to the roadway and was killed.

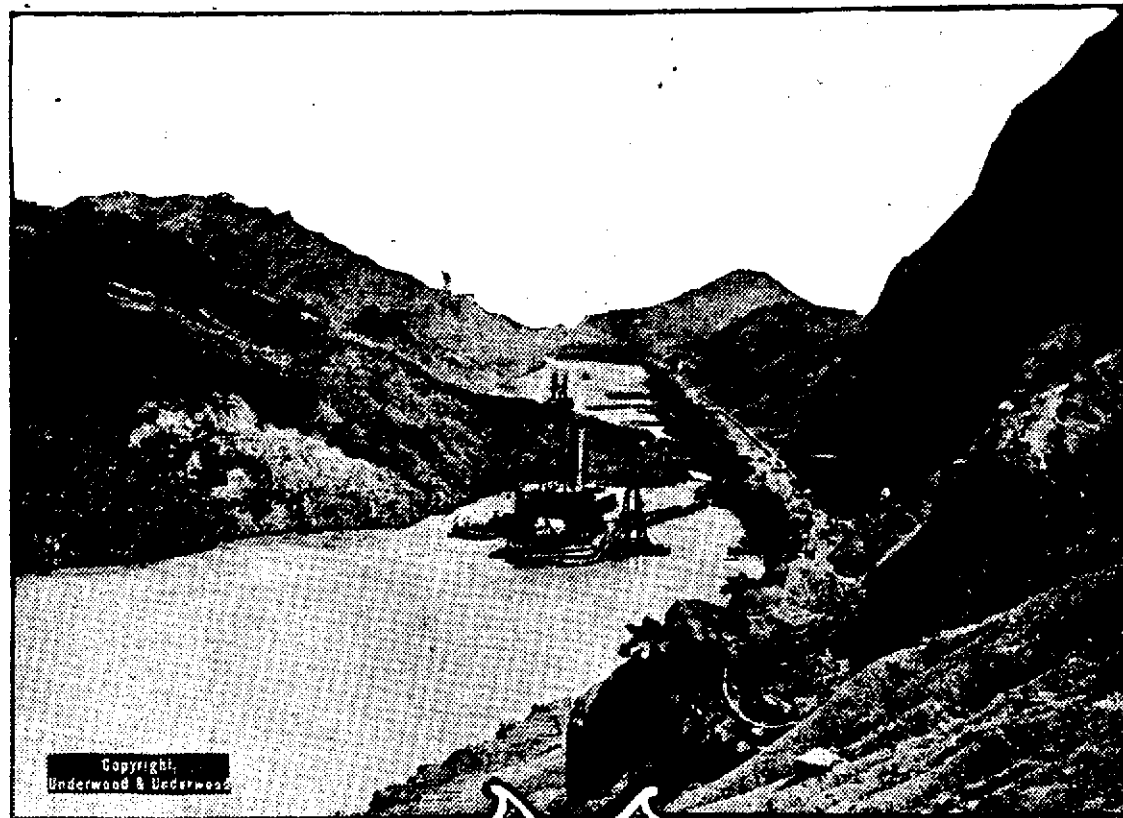

Chief Protector of Czar Dies.
St. Petersburg, Nov. 12.—The czar lost his chief protector when General Dedulin died suddenly at Livadia, from an acute attack of angina pectoris. Dedulin devoted his life to safeguarding the czar.

Wave of Crime Continues.
Newark, O., Nov. 12.—The wave of crime that commenced in this city Saturday has increased. In addition to the Bennett murder of Saturday there was a bold robbery at the Beggs boarding house.

Nixon Heads 'Frisco Line.
St. Louis, Mo., Nov. 12.—W. C. Nixon, one of the receivers for the 'Frisco railroad, was elected president at the annual meeting of directors here. B. F. Toakum was re-elected chairman of directors.

$5,000 for Miss Wilson's Trousseau.
Washington, Nov. 12.—The trousseau of Miss Jessie Wilson, including the gown in which she will be married to Francis B. Sayre, on November 25, will cost less than $5,000, it was learned here.

CUCARACHA SLIDE DEFIES SUCTION DREDGES

Dispatches from Panama state that the suction dredges employed in removing the Cucaracha slide have been replaced temporarily by the great steam scoop shovels because of the large number of boulders encountered. Our photograph shows one of the monster dredges at work in the slide.

BEILIS IS ACQUITTED

TROOPS CHARGE RUSSIANS ANGERED BY THE VERDICT.

Comment Calls Result Triumph for Jews as Well as Vindication for Innocent Man.

Kiev, Russia, Nov. 12.—Found not guilty by the jury that had heard the evidence in his trial, Mendel Beilis, the Jew accused by the government of "ritual murder," had to be escorted from the courthouse to his home by an escort of soldiers on Monday.

So angry was the crowd that jammed the little courtroom here, and so incensed did the larger crowd outside become when the news of the verdict penetrated the walls, that it seemed for a time that the Russians would tear the acquitted defendant to pieces.

Only by marching with fixed bayonets was the escort of soldiers able to force a passage to the Beilis cottage, which scarcely a stone's throw from the courthouse. At night the entire district was patrolled by soldiers.

Once in the bosom of his family, for the first time in two years, Beilis collapsed completely.

While his wife and children cowered at the sounds of conflict that followed the dispersal of the mob by the Cossacks, the man himself sank wearily upon a bed, his strength utterly exhausted.

The specific charge against Beilis was that he had killed Andrew Yushinsky, a Christian boy, for the purpose of using his blood in a sacrificial ritual demanded by his religion.

NEWS FROM FAR AND NEAR

Geona, Nov. 11.—Countess de Polo, member of a Venetian family and wife of Captain Ogonio, quartered at San Remo, shot an orderly. She said the man had entered her apartment and attacked her.

Sterling, Ill., Nov. 11.—Monsignor Thomas Shahan of Washington, Bishop of Moulton and Attorney General Lucey spoke at the dedication of a new $55,000 parochial school in Sterling Sunday.

Chicago, Nov. 12.—The mysterious robbery of a bag of registered mail was solved and orders given for the arrest of A. P. Tardy, a mail collector. Tardy obtained papers and money worth fully $10,000.

Superior, Wis., Nov. 12.—While showing a friend the workings of his new high-power rifle, with which he had just killed a deer, Roy Haskins, twenty years old, accidentally shot and fatally injured his mother, Mrs. Haskins, at their home near Bennett. She died a few minutes later.

Panama, Nov. 13.—Foreign Secretary Lefevre informed Secretary Wick of the American legation, who has charge of Chinese affairs in Panama, that all Chinese must pay the heavy head tax imposed by the new registration law, or be expelled within 72 hours.

Fall River, Mass., Nov. 12.—Action for a general increase in wages for the 22,000 operatives in the 100 cotton mills of this city was taken when four of the five textile unions of this city voted to ask their central body to increase demands for an advance.

Bryan's Horse Falls on Asphalt.
Washington, Nov. 14.—Secretary of State Bryan had a narrow escape from the American legation, who has charge of Chinese affairs in Panama, that all Chinese must pay the heavy head tax imposed by the new registration law, or be expelled within 72 hours.

Bubonic Plague in California.
Sacramento, Cal., Nov. 14.—The California state board of health has ordered Dr. Wilbur A. Sawyer to Kennedy to investigate a report that two persons there were afflicted with bubonic plague.

New Probe of Dynamite Cases.
Indianapolis, Ind., Nov. 13.—The federal grand jury began a new probe of the dynamite cases, having before them the confession of George E. Davis, alias O'Donnell, who was arrested in the east.

Convict Slays Doctor's Wife.
Baton Rouge, La., Nov. 13.—With the body of her convict negro slayer lying dead beside her, Mrs. Alice Ehlert, wife of the resident physician at Angola farm, was found brutally murdered.

Eggs 75 Cents in New York.
New York, Nov. 11.—Eggs are so scarce in New York that dealers have put the retail price up to 75 cents a dozen for the best quality, and prospects are that they will go from three to five cents a dozen higher.

Quake Alarms in Messina.
Messina, Sicily, Nov. 11.—A strong earthquake shock occurred here. It was followed by two shocks of less severity. No damage was done, but the people are greatly alarmed at the frequency of the disturbances.

GALE AT CLEVELAND

HUGE SNOWDRIFTS CHOKED THE STREETS AND DEAD RE-MAIN UNBURIED.

Comment Calls Result Triumph for Jews as Well as Vindication for Innocent Man.

Cleveland, O., Nov. 13.—This city hopes for a speedy cessation of the difficulties that have beset it since the onset of snowstorm in its history struck the city Sunday night, when an average of 24 inches of snow fell. Fair and warmer weather is predicted.

A resumption of the blizzard would cut off the arrival of food to relieve the scarcity the city now faces. It would produce flood conditions.

As a result of the disturbed state of Lake Erie the drinking water has turned to the color of coffee and warnings were issued by the health department to prevent a typhoid epidemic by boiling the water.

The total number of dead was increased to five on Tuesday, when John Richmond, aged fifty-eight, was crushed to death when the roof of his house collapsed beneath the weight of snow, and William Gombert died in a snowdrift.

The work of cleaning the city was aided by a period of snowless weather. Fifteen hundred workmen succeeded in clearing the tracks of 14 city street car lines. In the meantime telegraph and telephone companies cleared away a large part of the wreckage resulting from the destruction of telephone poles, and established a few connections with neighboring cities. The work of rehabilitation so far has revealed that the worst of the blizzard was limited to an area of some fifty miles around Cleveland.

No improvement in the milk situation has been effected and an actual milk famine has been caused because the companies are unable to make deliveries of the milk on hand or to obtain any more from dairies in the surrounding territory.

Pittsburgh, Nov. 12.—One train arrived here from Cleveland, after having been on the way a little more than 30 hours. It was stalled in a drift for 28 hours not far from Cleveland and the passengers suffered severely from cold and hunger. Later the trains ran more nearly on the scheduled time.

Chicago, Nov. 12.—Destruction of life and property by the wind and snow storm that has lashed the great lakes into fury and has scourged the country bordering on the lakes began to be more fully revealed on Tuesday.

Mute witnesses of the terrible stress of the elements presented themselves at many points on the American and Canadian shores of the lakes in the bodies cast ashore.

Hungry, frost-bitten crews fought for life with the waters for as long as 60 hours. Wrecks of lost vessels are washing upon the beaches at many points. Vessels of various kinds are believed to have gone to the bottom. Some have not been sighted since Saturday. What the toll of death has been can only be conjectured. The estimate made at Cleveland puts the total at 100.

Many Hurt in Train Wreck.
Lillian, Mich., Nov. 14.—Twenty-two passengers were injured, 14 of them seriously, and two fatally, when a passenger train on the Allegan division of the Pere Marquette railroad plunged down a 15-foot embankment.

Few Lifeboats; Ship Fined.
Washington, Nov. 14.—Determined to enforce laws relative to safety appliances, the department of commerce approved a fine of $1,000 against the Spanish steamer Montevideo for not carrying sufficient lifeboats.

Negro Is Lynched by Mob.
Dyersburg, Tenn., Nov. 13.—A crowd stormed the jail here and took John Talley, a negro, and hanged him to a limb of a tree. He had attempted to attack a white woman who was alone in her home.

Two Divide Gales Estate.
New York, Nov. 13.—Charles G. Gates, who died suddenly in Wyoming ten days ago, divided his fortune equally between his mother, Mrs. J. W. Gates, and his widow, Mrs. Florence H. Gates. His estate is $5,000,000.

Aged Preacher Is Attacked.
Kansas City, Mo., Nov. 13.—Angered because Nathan Johnson, an aged Baptist preacher, condemned liquor, three men tied him to a tree and forced large quantities of alcohol down his throat and escaped.

Car Jumps Rails, One Dead.
Elgin, Ill., Nov. 10.—A gasoline powered car on the Aurora, Elgin & Chicago railroad jumped the rails at a switch. Edward Chapman, Aurora, an electrical engineer, was killed. Two others were hurt.

Precious Gift From House.
Washington, Nov. 13.—A pendant of one canary diamond weighing six and one-half carats, surrounded by eighty-five smaller diamonds, will be the wedding gift of the house of representatives to Miss Jessie Wilson.

PINDELL TO GET POST

ASSERTED THAT WILSON WILL SEND NAME TO SENATE.

Statement Is Issued by Bryan That President Will Give Russian Job to Editor.

Washington, Nov. 14.—President Wilson declared his intention Wednesday of sending Henry M. Pindehl's nomination as ambassador to the senate at the earliest opportunity.

Secretary Bryan, acting for the president, issued a statement in which he declared the offer of the ambassadorship was made direct to Mr. Pindehl by President Wilson.

"The ambassadorship to Russia is vacant," said Secretary Bryan's statement, "and the president has for some time been desirous of filling it by an appointment which would be entirely worthy of the great dignity of the importance of the post."

"Knowing Mr. Pindehl personally, his character, his ability and his exceptional fitness for the duties of such a place, he offered him the appointment. Mr. Pindehl did not seek the appointment. It was tendered him without any solicitation on his part, not only, but without any knowledge or anticipation on his part that it would be offered to him."

"In response to the offer he simply stated that he would be glad to serve the administration in any way in which the president thought he could serve it successfully, but that he did not feel that he could conscientiously obligate himself to serve the ordinary term of a foreign appointment, because he did not feel that he could leave his business so long. The president asked him to accept it for as long a time as he could stay and he consented."

ZELIE EMERSON IS DYING

American Girl Felled in England by Policemen During Suffrage Riot.

London, Nov. 12.—Miss Zelie Emerson, the American militant suffrage leader, formerly of Chicago, is believed to be dying from concussion of the brain, the result of a blow from a London policeman's club.

Miss Emerson led an assemblage of women against a battalion of police at the Old Bow church on November 5, who were trying to arrest Sylvia Pankhurst. The charge was successful. Miss Pankhurst was taken by force from her captors and spirited away to a place of safety. Reinforcements of the police dispersed the throng of rescuers only with the greatest difficulty. And when the ground was cleared Miss Emerson was found unconscious.

M'COMBS WEDS IN LONDON

Miss Dorothy Williams Becomes Bride of Democratic National Committee Head.

London, Nov. 10.—Miss Dorothy Williams, the beautiful daughter of Col. John R. Williams, U. S. A., was married to William F. McCombs, chairman of the Democratic national committee, Friday in the quiet little Roman Catholic chapel of St. Peter and St. Edward, tucked away in Buckingham palace road, within a stone's throw of the royal residence.

Senate's Gift to Jessie Wilson.
Washington, Nov. 14.—A silver service will be the wedding gift from senators to Miss Jessie Wilson, according to an announcement by Senator Martineau, who is receiving voluntary subscriptions from his colleagues.

Charlton's Trial Delayed.
Como, Italy, Nov. 14.—Porter Charlton, the young American awaiting trial here on the charge of murdering his wife at Lake Como in 1910, learned that the hearing of the case was not likely to begin before March.

Three Killed by Boiler Blast.
Searcy, Ark., Nov. 13.—A 60-horse power boiler at a sawmill owned by Henry Roedel, two miles east of Russell, exploded and killed three men and Ed Larimore were killed instantly and Will Davis died two hours later.

Police Chief Quarantined.
St. Joseph, Mo., Nov. 11.—W. Gray, chief of police, and the executive officers of the department, are forced to remain at the Central station under quarantine. It was discovered that a prisoner had smallpox.

Name Babes for Roosevelt.
Buenos Aires, Nov. 11.—There will be Theodore Roosevelt here long after he has departed. Dr. Stark has been busy and most of the new arrivals have been named after the distinguished visitor.

To Choose Successor to Thwaites.
Chief Justice J. B. Winslow has been selected by Burr W. Jones to act as chairman of a committee which will select a successor to the late Dr. Reuben Gold Thwaites as superintendent of the Wisconsin State Historical society. The other members of the committee are: Emil Bensch, Manitowish; W. A. P. Morris, Prof. W. A. Scott, Judge A. L. Sanborn, Thomas E. Brittingham, Rev. Patrick B. Knox and Charles N. Brown of Madison and Henry C. Campbell of Milwaukee.

SUNDAY SCHOOL MEETING OPENS

Fifty-Third Annual Convention in Sheboygan.

OPENING IS WELL ATTENDED

Five Hundred Delegates and Visitors Are Present—Registration Is Largest in the History of the State Association.

Madison.—The fifty-third annual convention of the Wisconsin Sunday School association opened in Sheboygan with 500 delegates and visitors. This is the largest registration in the fifty-three years' existence of the association.

Headquarters have been established at the First Congregational church where registration took place together with assignment of quarters.

English meetings were held at the opera house, while the German section met at the German Reformed church and two English churches. A capacity audience attended the meeting at opera house.

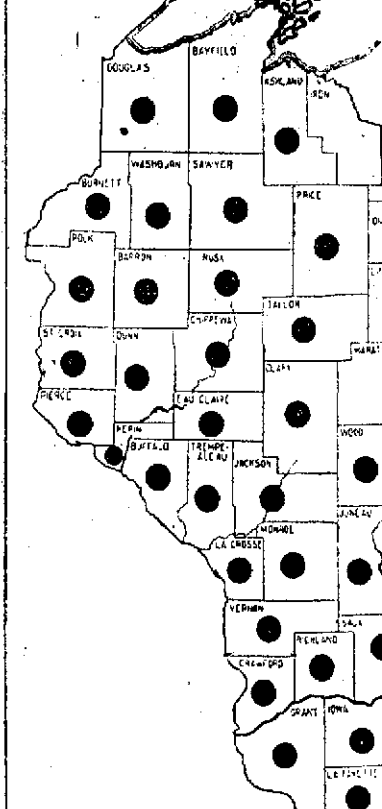

The feature of the program was an address on "The Physical Life of the Teen Age," by John L. Alexander, the famous leader of the Boy Scout movement.

Mayor Theodore Dieckmann delivered an interesting address on "The World-Wide Sunday School Movement." The big convention chorus of 100 voices, under the direction of Miss Laura Meier, sang a number of selections.

Wisconsin County Fair Associations.

Adams, C. H. Gilman, Friendship; Ashland, W. G. Nohl, Ashland; Barron, J. E. Rude, Rice Lake; Beaver Dam, E. F. Farnell, Iron River; Brown, H. J. Smith, De Pere; Buffalo, J. U. Luetscher, Mondovi; Burnett, W. P. Anderson, Burnett; Calumet, G. D. Breed, Chilton; Clark, L. Whitman, Nellville; Columbia, F. A. Dymke, Fort Dodge; Dane, M. M. Parkison, Madison; Dodge, C. W. Harvey, Beaver Dam.

EIGHTY COUNTY AND DISTRICT FAIRS.

From August 12 until October 3, 1915, county and district fairs were held in Wisconsin.

Ver Dam, Door, A. C. Greaver, Sturgeon Bay; Douglas, J. C. Bertrand, Superior; Dunn, J. D. Miller, Menomonie; Eau Claire, B. Frederick, Augusta; Evansville, Hock, P. W. Gilman, Evansville; Eastern, Monroe, W. Stevenson, Tuna; Fond du Lac, E. B. Crawford, Fond du Lac; Forest, J. W. Crawford, Crandon; Grant, E. A. Palmer, St. Croix Falls; Green, M. E. Baltzer, Monroe; Green Lake, C. W. Hiteleske, Berlin; Greenwald, J. E. Baker, Greenwald; Jackson, P. M. Perry, Black River Falls; Jefferson, M. D. Baker, Jefferson; Johnson, P. M. Davis, Galesville; Juneau, P. M. Davis, Juneau; Lafayette, T. Kirwan, Marathon; Langlade, Henry Berner, Antigo; Lincoln, W. H. Kueiser, Merrill; Manitowish, Lafayette, T. Kirwan, Manitowish; Marquette, M. E. Baltzer, Marquette; Menominee, D. H. Reid, Eau Claire; Monroe, J. E. Chase, Oconto; Oneida, A. H. Haffner, Rhinelander; Outagamie, L. A. Carroll, Hortonville; Ozaukee, C. Rosch, Cedarburg; Pepin, J. J. Morgan, Durand; Pierce, E. H. Powers, Shawano; Portage, L. Williams, Portage; Price, G. R. Porter, Phillips; Richland, W. E. Barry, Richland Center; Rusk, J. Bronsky, Bruce; Sauk, S. A. Polton, Baraboo; Sawyer, A. Brauker, Hayward; Shawano, C. W. Hiteleske, Shawano; Sheboygan, O. Gaffron, Plymouth; Taylor, A. J. Lutton, Medford; Trempealeau, J. E. Barry, Trempealeau; Vernon, E. Morley, Vernon; Walworth, F. M. Porter, Elkhorn; Washington, J. E. Haffner, West Bend; Waushara, W. B. Sillver, Waushara; Waupaca, H. W. Gloeck, Waupaca; Winnebago, A. H. Maxwell, Winnebago; Winthrop, W. C. Cricker, Spooner.

Invites State Teachers.
An invitation to Wisconsin teachers to be guests of St. Paul at the National Educational association meeting in that city next September was extended at the state association by Milton C. Potter, superintendent of St. Paul schools.

New State Patents.

Edwin D. Bangs, Milwaukee, gas engine starter; George W. Benage, Judge, gas guard for cattle; Casper Faust, Oshkosh, holster stakeholder (2); James B. Fawcett, Plattville, shield for pneumatic tires; Charles A. Fey, Fond du Lac, coin-operated weighing scale; Frederick Gettelman, Milwaukee, pasteurizing; George Gorton, Racine, rotary cutting off saw and the like; Alfred O. Gutsen, Sheboygan, turncase; John F. Haussmann, Milwaukee, tool for handling compressed coiled springs; Lighting Leads Fire Causes.

Lightning again easily led the list of fire causes in Wisconsin for the month of October. According to the monthly report of State Fire Marshal Clem P. Host, 64 lightning fires, all on unrooded buildings, were reported. The resulting damage from these fires totaled $101,175. The total fires for the month numbered 215, the losses $275,576. For October, 1915, the number was 213, the loss $322,095. Unknown causes of fires last month were 84.

To Experiment on Animals.
More than twenty different kinds of animals are now in use in the laboratories at the university for experimental purposes. The following animals are included: Dogs, rats, mice, snakes, turtles, cats, crabs, fish of several varieties, birds, monkeys, guinea pigs, rabbits, white rats, sheep, horses, cows, chickens, ducks, geese, frogs, snakes, insects of a dozen kinds, and even beetles. The dogs are purchased in Chicago. Formerly they were bought in Madison, but many people sold their neighbors' pets.

Potato Growers to Gather.
On November 20 and 21 the Wisconsin Potato Growers' association will hold its annual convention and exhibit at Rhinelander. The program and exhibit has been planned in the interests of pure seed of standard market variety for all commercial purposes.

At the session to be held on November 21, Prof. L. R. Jones, pathologist of the Wisconsin experiment station, will deliver an address on "Potato Diseases in Relation to Seed Standards."

Praises State Insurance.
After spending three days in Madison investigating the system of state insurance, J. E. Ferguson, insurance commissioner of Oregon, left for New York, uttering words of indorsement in favor of the plan.

"I am for state life insurance," said Mr. Ferguson. "I will recommend that a similar law be enacted by the Oregon legislature. I have gone over the data and I think the plan is not only feasible, but practical."

WISCONSIN STATE NEWS

Superior.—E. H. Koaough was killed in a fall at Alameda, Cal.

Beloit.—Pearl, four years old, daughter of James St. Clair, was probably fatally burned while playing with matches.

Florence.—Fred Greenwood was accidentally killed while cleaning his rifle. His wife and four small children survive.

Madison.—The new student directory to be issued this week will contain 4,500 names, a record number. The short horns will have a separate directory, with about 500 names.

Madison.—The county and not the town is liable for damages for accidents on the highway, according to an opinion given by Attorney General Walter Owen.

Sheboygan.—Suffering from a cancer, Mrs. Wilhelmina Mohs, aged sixty-nine, wife of a well-to-do farmer at Plymouth, committed suicide by hanging.

Mineral Point.—Payette, a rural supply station out of Mineral Point, was almost burned, Doctor Rice and other owners of buildings suffering a heavy loss. It is contemplated to rebuild in the spring of 1916.

Manitowish.—Found unconscious in her home, overcome by gas escaping from a stove, Mrs. Wilhelmina Henschmeyer was revived by the use of a pulmotor recently purchased by the city.

Grand Rapids.—At a recent meeting of the congregation of the Episcopal church at Marshfield it was decided to build a community clubhouse soon at a cost of $20,000. It will include a gymnasium.

Sheboygan.—The 1914 conference of women's missionary societies of this section will be held in this city. The conference closed at Cedar Grove with the election of Mrs. C. Kuyper of Cedar Grove as president.

Madison.—Sixty-four fires from lightning led the list of causes for October, according to the report of Marshal Host. Total fires were 216; losses, $275,576, and insurance carried, $480,195.

Merrill.—At a meeting of the Lincoln county training school board it was voted to place a course of plain sewing into the curriculum of the school, providing that the county board arrange for funds for this from the budget.

Madison.—To enforce the new conference rule forbidding them to enter saloons, the university student conference voted to require all male first year students to wear green buttons. Violators of the tradition will be subject to a ducking in the lake.

Appleton.—Carl Brayton, aged twenty-six, Oshkosh, is held here for trial on a charge of burglary in connection with the robbing of the Carr billiard hall about two weeks ago. Brayton protests his innocence and refuses legal assistance.

Kenosha.—The common council has been asked to pass an ordinance for regulation of dance halls and giving the police the right to closely inspect them. The new law is being urged by reform organizations.

Baraboo.—Dr. George J. Jenkins, who recently died at Kilbourn at the age of ninety years, was the oldest physician in the state. He was one of the founders of Newport, Sauk county, once a thriving village of which nothing now is left.

Vausau.—E. R. Christensen of Green Bay, a switchman, was instantly killed here when a defective coupling allowed two boxcars to come together. His head was caught between them and every bone was crushed.

Oconomowoc.—Oconomowoc is to have an autograph, a lifesaving machine similar to the pulmotor, according to the decision of the common council. The machine, which is to be available in drowning or other accidents, will be kept at the city hall.

La Crosse.—Before the La Crosse County Bar association Attorney Frank Winter, law partner of Congressman Esch, announced La Crosse lawyers will raise the rates on divorce suits. He declared the rates were too low, and intimated a general increase will be made.

Marquette.—Grief over the death of his wife, which occurred in March, is believed to have caused the death of Samuel Greenlaw, aged seventy-nine, for 60 years a resident of Marquette. During all that time he was an employee of the Stephenson Lumber company here.

Milwaukee.—Sergeant Harry E. Hoey of Company E, First Wisconsin infantry, one of Wisconsin's best national guard marksmen, winner of trophies at Camp Perry in national shoots, died at a hospital of a bullet wound received in target practice in his company's armory. The bullet was fired by Corporal Schmidt, another member of the state rifle team, whose arm was jammed by a companion, when he was firing on the range. Hoey was in the scoring pit when shot.

Superior.—A rush of deer hunters in Douglas and the northern Wisconsin counties is expected at the opening of the season. Nearly 3,000 hunting licenses have been issued in this county alone. Deer are said to be unusually plentiful.

Racine.—Mrs. Thomas Valerio is dying at the hospital as a result of taking poison by mistake. She took a box of poison from the medicine chest, thinking it headache pills. Madison.—Philip Cannon of Superior, assemblyman from Douglas county, has been appointed deputy oil inspector.

Marquette.—But one man attended the funeral of Mark Dobbins, seventy-four years old, an eccentric character who died at Crandon. The lone attendant at the funeral was County Judge Walsh, who was the only man who ever gained Dobbins' confidence to any extent. Chubby, a brown spaniel dog, was Dobbins' only companion in life. The aged man had lived for 14 years in a cabin on the outskirts of Crandon, and before that lived at Waubesa until people there began to stick their noses in his business, as he expressed it. It was said he was wealthy in his youth.

Depere.—E. C. Martin plowed up a nest of fifty turtle eggs on his farm

The League of Lost Causes

Being the Romantic Adventures of Paul Lane, American Millionaire

An Amazon of Tripoli

(Copyright, 1913, by W. G. Chapman.)

PAUL LANE, duped, disgusted, and abjectly conscious of the utter failure of the important mission which had been entrusted to him, roamed through the streets of Delhi.

The powerful League of Lost Causes had sent him upon an undertaking involving the destruction of England's power in India. He had failed miserably, and, at the moment of his failure, had encountered the eyes of the mysterious woman who had induced him to leave America and to devote his millions to the purpose of the League. She had seen his disgrace and read and reflected the abasement in his eyes.

He loved her, this beautiful unknown lady of lofty rank, though, in obedience to the command which she had laid on him, he had never sought to discover her identity. He was ignorant even of her name. He had believed her a personage of title at the Austrian court; behold, she was in India, an unsuspected watcher of the way in which he carried out his mission and her mandate!

A flood of anger and resentment kept over him, anger against himself that he had been blind enough to allow himself to be used as a tool; resentment against his friend Rosny, the League's Paris secretary, that he should have duped him so many times by the promise of some day "meeting the girl again."

Now he would be fooled no longer. He would seek her out, find her, though he searched Delhi for days; he would speak face to face with her, plead his own cause, as was the right of every American, and stand or fall by her answer.

It seemed madness, but it was a glorious madness that enveloped him, ennobling spirit and senses until nothing seemed longer impossible to Paul. Imagining that Mademoiselle—the only name by which he knew her—was a visitor at the Durbar at the invitation of some ambassador, he haunted the railroad station for days until the last of the visitors had departed, searching and scanning every face eagerly in hope of seeing her again. But all his efforts were to no purpose, and at last, sick at heart, he resolved to abandon his object, to sever his alliance with the League, to see Rosny no more, and to return home to America again.

He took ship for Egypt; thence he embarked aboard a French steamer for Marseilles. The sun was warm, the sky bright and cloudless. The vessel skirted the low sand-dunes of the Tripoli coast preparatory to heading north for Malta.

On the second morning the white sides of a warship appeared some miles astern. As the hours wore on she began to draw nearer. At last the watchers, through their telescopes, could make out the Italian flag at her foremast. The French ship turned northward, lying within half a mile of the Tripoli shore; as she shifted her course, however, a gun roared from the Italian vessel.

It was a blank shot, signifying that the liner was to heave to until her papers could be examined. The coast being blockaded, this order excited much comment, but no alarm, among the passengers, who, crowding the liner's decks, watched with interest the approach of the pursuing warship. She anchored about half a mile distant and a cutter left her side, containing a boat's crew with an officer in charge.

But an astonishing effect was produced by this maneuver among a small fleet of Arab fishing vessels, which had been placidly sailing between the liner and the shore. As the warship hove to they turned and began to scurry toward the beach. One, which had been caught between the liner and the blockader, passed close under the latter's stern, Paul, watching idly from the taffrail, saw two bronzed oarsmen pulling to supplement the power of their flapping sail, and then—

Seated in the bow, veiled, attired in white from head to foot, a woman in Arab garb guided them, issuing short, curt orders as they tugged at the oars. All the blood in Paul's body rushed through his veins at the sight of her. It was the woman he sought. He had no doubt of it. Love's intuition would have told him that, but apart from it there was no mistaking that trim, slight figure, that imperious mien, displayed even under the desert veil.

As the boat passed under the liner's bow and scurried toward the shore Paul hesitated no longer. Without a thought, actuated solely by his overpowering, impetuous love, he possessed himself of the cutter and leaped into the sea.

A cry of horror went up from the liner's decks. The Arab dhow, as though fearing some hostile design in this maneuver, redoubled its efforts to make the land. As Paul came up he saw the taffrail crowded with excited, shouting, gesticulating passengers, and, twenty yards in the distance, the flying boat. Two hundred yards from the opposite side of the liner was the Italian cutter. As the officer perceived him rise to the surface he issued an order to his men, and the boat, altering its course, pulled directly toward him.

Paul struck out for the shore. On that triangular race he never looked back with astonishment that he should have won, though but a hair's breadth separated him from failure, and with gratitude that he escaped the swarming sharks, whose presence in those waters he had so stupidly ignored. He felt the shelling sands beneath his feet at last, stood erect, laughed, and plunged forward across the rank undergrowth that

HOW TO BE A GOOD MAYOR

Brand Whitlock Says Tom Johnson Advised Him to Spend Less Than 15 Minutes a Day in Office.

"I had gone into the mayor's office feeling that I was about the most ill-prepared man for such a job in the town," writes Brand Whitlock, mayor of Toledo, in the American Magazine. "Naturally I had turned to Tom Johnson, who had a tremendous reputation as an executive; even his worst enemy, as the saying is, would not deny his wonderful executive ability. I went to him in sort of despair, and he laughed and whispered: "It's the simplest thing in the world; decide every question quickly and be right half the time. And get somebody who can do the work. That's all there is to executive ability." "I looked at him in astonishment. He had grown quite serious. "That's another thing," he added. "Don't spend too much time in your office. A quarter of an hour each day fringed the shore, just as the cutter grounded. Fifty yards to the right of him the Arab boat had pushed into a sandy cove, and the Italians, uncertain which to pursue, hesitated, and then ran forward, waist-deep through the surf, in pursuit of Lane. As he ran he heard the spit of bullets past his head and the report of rifles. Then, just as he began to anticipate his fate, he heard the crackle of musketry from along the shore, and, turning, saw a party of white-robed Arab rise from the purpose of the League. She had seen his disgrace and read and reflected the abasement in his eyes.

He loved her, this beautiful unknown lady of lofty rank, though, in obedience to the command which she had laid on him, he had never sought to discover her identity. He was ignorant even of her name. He had believed her a personage of title at the Austrian court; behold, she was in India, an unsuspected watcher of the way in which he carried out his mission and her mandate!

A flood of anger and resentment kept over him, anger against himself that he had been blind enough to allow himself to be used as a tool; resentment against his friend Rosny, the League's Paris secretary, that he should have duped him so many times by the promise of some day "meeting the girl again."

Now he would be fooled no longer. He would seek her out, find her, though he searched Delhi for days; he would speak face to face with her, plead his own cause, as was the right of every American, and stand or fall by her answer.

It seemed madness, but it was a glorious madness that enveloped him, ennobling spirit and senses until nothing seemed longer impossible to Paul. Imagining that Mademoiselle—the only name by which he knew her—was a visitor at the Durbar at the invitation of some ambassador, he haunted the railroad station for days until the last of the visitors had departed, searching and scanning every face eagerly in hope of seeing her again. But all his efforts were to no purpose, and at last, sick at heart, he resolved to abandon his object, to sever his alliance with the League, to see Rosny no more, and to return home to America again.

He took ship for Egypt; thence he embarked aboard a French steamer for Marseilles. The sun was warm, the sky bright and cloudless. The vessel skirted the low sand-dunes of the Tripoli coast preparatory to heading north for Malta.

On the second morning the white sides of a warship appeared some miles astern. As the hours wore on she began to draw nearer. At last the watchers, through their telescopes, could make out the Italian flag at her foremast. The French ship turned northward, lying within half a mile of the Tripoli shore; as she shifted her course, however, a gun roared from the Italian vessel.

It was a blank shot, signifying that the liner was to heave to until her papers could be examined. The coast being blockaded, this order excited much comment, but no alarm, among the passengers, who, crowding the liner's decks, watched with interest the approach of the pursuing warship. She anchored about half a mile distant and a cutter left her side, containing a boat's crew with an officer in charge.

But an astonishing effect was produced by this maneuver among a small fleet of Arab fishing vessels, which had been placidly sailing between the liner and the shore. As the warship hove to they turned and began to scurry toward the beach. One, which had been caught between the liner and the blockader, passed close under the latter's stern, Paul, watching idly from the taffrail, saw two bronzed oarsmen pulling to supplement the power of their flapping sail, and then—

Seated in the bow, veiled, attired in white from head to foot, a woman in Arab garb guided them, issuing short, curt orders as they tugged at the oars. All the blood in Paul's body rushed through his veins at the sight of her. It was the woman he sought. He had no doubt of it. Love's intuition would have told him that, but apart from it there was no mistaking that trim, slight figure, that imperious mien, displayed even under the desert veil.

As the boat passed under the liner's bow and scurried toward the shore Paul hesitated no longer. Without a thought, actuated solely by his overpowering, impetuous love, he possessed himself of the cutter and leaped into the sea.

A cry of horror went up from the liner's decks. The Arab dhow, as though fearing some hostile design in this maneuver, redoubled its efforts to make the land. As Paul came up he saw the taffrail crowded with excited, shouting, gesticulating passengers, and, twenty yards in the distance, the flying boat. Two hundred yards from the opposite side of the liner was the Italian cutter. As the officer perceived him rise to the surface he issued an order to his men, and the boat, altering its course, pulled directly toward him.

Paul struck out for the shore. On that triangular race he never looked back with astonishment that he should have won, though but a hair's breadth separated him from failure, and with gratitude that he escaped the swarming sharks, whose presence in those waters he had so stupidly ignored. He felt the shelling sands beneath his feet at last, stood erect, laughed, and plunged forward across the rank undergrowth that fringed the shore, just as the cutter grounded. Fifty yards to the right of him the Arab boat had pushed into a sandy cove, and the Italians, uncertain which to pursue, hesitated, and then ran forward, waist-deep through the surf, in pursuit of Lane. As he ran he heard the spit of bullets past his head and the report of rifles. Then, just as he began to anticipate his fate, he heard the crackle of musketry from along the shore, and, turning, saw a party of white-robed Arab rise from the purpose of the League. She had seen his disgrace and read and reflected the abasement in his eyes.

He loved her, this beautiful unknown lady of lofty rank, though, in obedience to the command which she had laid on him, he had never sought to discover her identity. He was ignorant even of her name. He had believed her a personage of title at the Austrian court; behold, she was in India, an unsuspected watcher of the way in which he carried out his mission and her mandate!

A flood of anger and resentment kept over him, anger against himself that he had been blind enough to allow himself to be used as a tool; resentment against his friend Rosny, the League's Paris secretary, that he should have duped him so many times by the promise of some day "meeting the girl again."

Now he would be fooled no longer. He would seek her out, find her, though he searched Delhi for days; he would speak face to face with her, plead his own cause, as was the right of every American, and stand or fall by her answer.

It seemed madness, but it was a glorious madness that enveloped him, ennobling spirit and senses until nothing seemed longer impossible to Paul. Imagining that Mademoiselle—the only name by which he knew her—was a visitor at the Durbar at the invitation of some ambassador, he haunted the railroad station for days until the last of the visitors had departed, searching and scanning every face eagerly in hope of seeing her again. But all his efforts were to no purpose, and at last, sick at heart, he resolved to abandon his object, to sever his alliance with the League, to see Rosny no more, and to return home to America again.

He took ship for Egypt; thence he embarked aboard a French steamer for Marseilles. The sun was warm, the sky bright and cloudless. The vessel skirted the low sand-dunes of the Tripoli coast preparatory to heading north for Malta.

On the second morning the white sides of a warship appeared some miles astern. As the hours wore on she began to draw nearer. At last the watchers, through their telescopes, could make out the Italian flag at her foremast. The French ship turned northward, lying within half a mile of the Tripoli shore; as she shifted her course, however, a gun roared from the Italian vessel.

It was a blank shot, signifying that the liner was to heave to until her papers could be examined. The coast being blockaded, this order excited much comment, but no alarm, among the passengers, who, crowding the liner's decks, watched with interest the approach of the pursuing warship. She anchored about half a mile distant and a cutter left her side, containing a boat's crew with an officer in charge.

But an astonishing effect was produced by this maneuver among a small fleet of Arab fishing vessels, which had been placidly sailing between the liner and the shore. As the warship hove to they turned and began to scurry toward the beach. One, which had been caught between the liner and the blockader, passed close under the latter's stern, Paul, watching idly from the taffrail, saw two bronzed oarsmen pulling to supplement the power of their flapping sail, and then—

Seated in the bow, veiled, attired in white from head to foot, a woman in Arab garb guided them, issuing short, curt orders as they tugged at the oars. All the blood in Paul's body rushed through his veins at the sight of her. It was the woman he sought. He had no doubt of it. Love's intuition would have told him that, but apart from it there was no mistaking that trim, slight figure, that imperious mien, displayed even under the desert veil.

As the boat passed under the liner's bow and scurried toward the shore Paul hesitated no longer. Without a thought, actuated solely by his overpowering, impetuous love, he possessed himself of the cutter and leaped into the sea.

A cry of horror went up from the liner's decks. The Arab dhow, as though fearing some hostile design in this maneuver, redoubled its efforts to make the land. As Paul came up he saw the taffrail crowded with excited, shouting, gesticulating passengers, and, twenty yards in the distance, the flying boat. Two hundred yards from the opposite side of the liner was the Italian cutter. As the officer perceived him rise to the surface he issued an order to his men, and the boat, altering its course, pulled directly toward him.

Paul struck out for the shore. On that triangular race he never looked back with astonishment that he should have won, though but a hair's breadth separated him from failure, and with gratitude that he escaped the swarming sharks, whose presence in those waters he had so stupidly ignored. He felt the shelling sands beneath his feet at last, stood erect, laughed, and plunged forward across the rank undergrowth that fringed the shore, just as the cutter grounded. Fifty yards to the right of him the Arab boat had pushed into a sandy cove, and the Italians, uncertain which to pursue, hesitated, and then ran forward, waist-deep through the surf, in pursuit of Lane. As he ran he heard the spit of bullets past his head and the report of rifles. Then, just as he began to anticipate his fate, he heard the crackle of musketry from along the shore, and, turning, saw a party of white-robed Arab rise from the purpose of the League. She had seen his disgrace and read and reflected the abasement in his eyes.

He loved her, this beautiful unknown lady of lofty rank, though, in obedience to the command which she had laid on him, he had never sought to discover her identity. He was ignorant even of her name. He had believed her a personage of title at the Austrian court; behold, she was in India, an unsuspected watcher of the way in which he carried out his mission and her mandate!

A flood of anger and resentment kept over him, anger against himself that he had been blind enough to allow himself to be used as a tool; resentment against his friend Rosny, the League's Paris secretary, that he should have duped him so many times by the promise of some day "meeting the girl again."

Now he would be fooled no longer. He would seek her out, find her, though he searched Delhi for days; he would speak face to face with her, plead his own cause, as was the right of every American, and stand or fall by her answer.

It seemed madness, but it was a glorious madness that enveloped him, ennobling spirit and senses until nothing seemed longer impossible to Paul. Imagining that Mademoiselle—the only name by which he knew her—was a visitor at the Durbar at the invitation of some ambassador, he haunted the railroad station for days until the last of the visitors had departed, searching and scanning every face eagerly in hope of seeing her again. But all his efforts were to no purpose, and at last, sick at heart, he resolved to abandon his object, to sever his alliance with the League, to see Rosny no more, and to return home to America again.

He took ship for Egypt; thence he embarked aboard a French steamer for Marseilles. The sun was warm, the sky bright and cloudless. The vessel skirted the low sand-dunes of the Tripoli coast preparatory to heading north for Malta.

On the second morning the white sides of a warship appeared some miles astern. As the hours wore on she began to draw nearer. At last the watchers, through their telescopes, could make out the Italian flag at her foremast. The French ship turned northward, lying within half a mile of the Tripoli shore; as she shifted her course, however, a gun roared from the Italian vessel.

It was a blank shot, signifying that the liner was to heave to until her papers could be examined. The coast being blockaded, this order excited much comment, but no alarm, among the passengers, who, crowding the liner's decks, watched with interest the approach of the pursuing warship. She anchored about half a mile distant and a cutter left her side, containing a boat's crew with an officer in charge.

But an astonishing effect was produced by this maneuver among a small fleet of Arab fishing vessels, which had been placidly sailing between the liner and the shore. As the warship hove to they turned and began to scurry toward the beach. One, which had been caught between the liner and the blockader, passed close under the latter's stern, Paul, watching idly from the taffrail, saw two bronzed oarsmen pulling to supplement the power of their flapping sail, and then—

Seated in the bow, veiled, attired in white from head to foot, a woman in Arab garb guided them, issuing short, curt orders as they tugged at the oars. All the blood in Paul's body rushed through his veins at the sight of her. It was the woman he sought. He had no doubt of it. Love's intuition would have told him that, but apart from it there was no mistaking that trim, slight figure, that imperious mien, displayed even under the desert veil.

As the boat passed under the liner's bow and scurried toward the shore Paul hesitated no longer. Without a thought, actuated solely by his overpowering, impetuous love, he possessed himself of the cutter and leaped into the sea.

A cry of horror went up from the liner's decks. The Arab dhow, as though fearing some hostile design in this maneuver, redoubled its efforts to make the land. As Paul came up he saw the taffrail crowded with excited, shouting, gesticulating passengers, and, twenty yards in the distance, the flying boat. Two hundred yards from the opposite side of the liner was the Italian cutter. As the officer perceived him rise to the surface he issued an order to his men, and the boat, altering its course, pulled directly toward him.

Paul struck out for the shore. On that triangular race he never looked back with astonishment that he should have won, though but a hair's breadth separated him from failure, and with gratitude that he escaped the swarming sharks, whose presence in those waters he had so stupidly ignored. He felt the shelling sands beneath his feet at last, stood erect, laughed, and plunged forward across the rank undergrowth that fringed the shore, just as the cutter grounded. Fifty yards to the right of him the Arab boat had pushed into a sandy cove, and the Italians, uncertain which to pursue, hesitated, and then ran forward, waist-deep through the surf, in pursuit of Lane. As he ran he heard the spit of bullets past his head and the report of rifles. Then, just as he began to anticipate his fate, he heard the crackle of musketry from along the shore, and, turning, saw a party of white-robed Arab rise from the purpose of the League. She had seen his disgrace and read and reflected the abasement in his eyes.

He loved her, this beautiful unknown lady of lofty rank, though, in obedience to the command which she had laid on him, he had never sought to discover her identity. He was ignorant even of her name. He had believed her a personage of title at the Austrian court; behold, she was in India, an unsuspected watcher of the way in which he carried out his mission and her mandate!

A flood of anger and resentment kept over him, anger against himself that he had been blind enough to allow himself to be used as a tool; resentment against his friend Rosny, the League's Paris secretary, that he should have duped him so many times by the promise of some day "meeting the girl again."

Now he would be fooled no longer. He would seek her out, find her, though he searched Delhi for days; he would speak face to face with her, plead his own cause, as was the right of every American, and stand or fall by her answer.

It seemed madness, but it was a glorious madness that enveloped him, ennobling spirit and senses until nothing seemed longer impossible to Paul. Imagining that Mademoiselle—the only name by which he knew her—was a visitor at the Durbar at the invitation of some ambassador, he haunted the railroad station for days until the last of the visitors had departed, searching and scanning every face eagerly in hope of seeing her again. But all his efforts were to no purpose, and at last, sick at heart, he resolved to abandon his object, to sever his alliance with the League, to see Rosny no more, and to return home to America again.

He took ship for Egypt; thence he embarked aboard a French steamer for Marseilles. The sun was warm, the sky bright and cloudless. The vessel skirted the low sand-dunes of the Tripoli coast preparatory to heading north for Malta.

On the second morning the white sides of a warship appeared some miles astern. As the hours wore on she began to draw nearer. At last the watchers, through their telescopes, could make out the Italian flag at her foremast. The French ship turned northward, lying within half a mile of the Tripoli shore; as she shifted her course, however, a gun roared from the Italian vessel.

It was a blank shot, signifying that the liner was to heave to until her papers could be examined. The coast being blockaded, this order excited much comment, but no alarm, among the passengers, who, crowding the liner's decks, watched with interest the approach of the pursuing warship. She anchored about half a mile distant and a cutter left her side, containing a boat's crew with an officer in charge.

But an astonishing effect was produced by this maneuver among a small fleet of Arab fishing vessels, which had been placidly sailing between the liner and the shore. As the warship hove to they turned and began to scurry toward the beach. One, which had been caught between the liner and the blockader, passed close under the latter's stern, Paul, watching idly from the taffrail, saw two bronzed oarsmen pulling to supplement the power of their flapping sail, and then—

Seated in the bow, veiled, attired in white from head to foot, a woman in Arab garb guided them, issuing short, curt orders as they tugged at the oars. All the blood in Paul's body rushed through his veins at the sight of her. It was the woman he sought. He had no doubt of it. Love's intuition would have told him that, but apart from it there was no mistaking that trim, slight figure, that imperious mien, displayed even under the desert veil.

As the boat passed under the liner's bow and scurried toward the shore Paul hesitated no longer. Without a thought, actuated solely by his overpowering, impetuous love, he possessed himself of the cutter and leaped into the sea.

A cry of horror went up from the liner's decks. The Arab dhow, as though fearing some hostile design in this maneuver, redoubled its efforts to make the land. As Paul came up he saw the taffrail crowded with excited, shouting, gesticulating passengers, and, twenty yards in the distance, the flying boat. Two hundred yards from the opposite side of the liner was the Italian cutter. As the officer perceived him rise to the surface he issued an order to his men, and the boat, altering its course, pulled directly toward him.

Paul struck out for the shore. On that triangular race he never looked back with astonishment that he should have won, though but a hair's breadth separated him from failure, and with gratitude that he escaped the swarming sharks, whose presence in those waters he had so stupidly ignored. He felt the shelling sands beneath his feet at last, stood erect, laughed, and plunged forward across the rank undergrowth that fringed the shore, just as the cutter grounded. Fifty yards to the right of him the Arab boat had pushed into a sandy cove, and the Italians, uncertain which to pursue, hesitated, and then ran forward, waist-deep through the surf, in pursuit of Lane. As he ran he heard the spit of bullets past his head and the report of rifles. Then, just as he began to anticipate his fate, he heard the crackle of musketry from along the shore, and, turning, saw a party of white-robed Arab rise from the purpose of the League. She had seen his disgrace and read and reflected the abasement in his eyes.

He loved her, this beautiful unknown lady of lofty rank, though, in obedience to the command which she had laid on him, he had never sought to discover her identity. He was ignorant even of her name. He had believed her a personage of title at the Austrian court; behold, she was in India, an unsuspected watcher of the way in which he carried out his mission and her mandate!

A flood of anger and resentment kept over him, anger against himself that he had been blind enough to allow himself to be used as a tool; resentment against his friend Rosny, the League's Paris secretary, that he should have duped him so many times by the promise of some day "meeting the girl again."

Now he would be fooled no longer. He would seek her out, find her, though he searched Delhi for days; he would speak face to face with her, plead his own cause, as was the right of every American, and stand or fall by her answer.

It seemed madness, but it was a glorious madness that enveloped him, ennobling spirit and senses until nothing seemed longer impossible to Paul. Imagining that Mademoiselle—the only name by which he knew her—was a visitor at the Durbar at the invitation of some ambassador, he haunted the railroad station for days until the last of the visitors had departed, searching and scanning every face eagerly in hope of seeing her again. But all his efforts were to no purpose, and at last, sick at heart, he resolved to abandon his object, to sever his alliance with the League, to see Rosny no more, and to return home to America again.

He took ship for Egypt; thence he embarked aboard a French steamer for Marseilles. The sun was warm, the sky bright and cloudless. The vessel skirted the low sand-dunes of the Tripoli coast preparatory to heading north for Malta.

On the second morning the white sides of a warship appeared some miles astern. As the hours wore on she began to draw nearer. At last the watchers, through their telescopes, could make out the Italian flag at her foremast. The French ship turned northward, lying within half a mile of the Tripoli shore; as she shifted her course, however, a gun roared from the Italian vessel.

It was a blank shot, signifying that the liner was to heave to until her papers could be examined. The coast being blockaded, this order excited much comment, but no alarm, among the passengers, who, crowding the liner's decks, watched with interest the approach of the pursuing warship. She anchored about half a mile distant and a cutter left her side, containing a boat's crew with an officer in charge.

But an astonishing effect was produced by this maneuver among a small fleet of Arab fishing vessels, which had been placidly sailing between the liner and the shore. As the warship hove to they turned and began to scurry toward the beach. One, which had been caught between the liner and the blockader, passed close under the latter's stern, Paul, watching idly from the taffrail, saw two bronzed oarsmen pulling to supplement the power of their flapping sail, and then—

Seated in the bow, veiled, attired in white from head to foot, a woman in Arab garb guided them, issuing short, curt orders as they tugged at the oars. All the blood in Paul's body rushed through his veins at the sight of her. It was the woman he sought. He had no doubt of it. Love's intuition would have told him that, but apart from it there was no mistaking that trim, slight figure, that imperious mien, displayed even under the desert veil.

As the boat passed under the liner's bow and scurried toward the shore Paul hesitated no longer. Without a thought, actuated solely by his overpowering, impetuous love, he possessed himself of the cutter and leaped into the sea.

A cry of horror went up from the liner's decks. The Arab dhow, as though fearing some hostile design in this maneuver, redoubled its efforts to make the land. As Paul came up he saw the taffrail crowded with excited, shouting, gesticulating passengers, and, twenty yards in the distance, the flying boat. Two hundred yards from the opposite side of the liner was the Italian cutter. As the officer perceived him rise to the surface he issued an order to his men, and the boat, altering its course, pulled directly toward him.

Paul struck out for the shore. On that triangular race he never looked back with astonishment that he should have won, though but a hair's breadth separated him from failure, and with gratitude that he escaped the swarming sharks, whose presence in those waters he had so stupidly ignored. He felt the shelling sands beneath his feet at last, stood erect, laughed, and plunged forward across the rank undergrowth that fringed the shore, just as the cutter grounded. Fifty yards to the right of him the Arab boat had pushed into a sandy cove, and the Italians, uncertain which to pursue, hesitated, and then ran forward, waist-deep through the surf, in pursuit of Lane. As he ran he heard the spit of bullets past his head and the report of rifles. Then, just as he began to anticipate his fate, he heard the crackle of musketry from along the shore, and, turning, saw a party of white-robed Arab rise from the purpose of the League. She had seen his disgrace and read and reflected the abasement in his eyes.

He loved her, this beautiful unknown lady of lofty rank, though, in obedience to the command which she had laid on him, he had never sought to discover her identity. He was ignorant even of her name. He had believed her a personage of title at the Austrian court; behold, she was in India, an unsuspected watcher of the way in which he carried out his mission and her mandate!

A flood of anger and resentment kept over him, anger against himself that he had been blind enough to allow himself to be used as a tool; resentment against his friend Rosny, the League's Paris secretary, that he should have duped him so many times by the promise of some day "meeting the girl again."

Now he would be fooled no longer. He would seek her out, find her, though he searched Delhi for days; he would speak face to face with her, plead his own cause, as was the right of every American, and stand or fall by her answer.

It seemed madness, but it was a glorious madness that enveloped him, ennobling spirit and senses until nothing seemed longer impossible to Paul. Imagining that Mademoiselle—the only name by which he knew her—was a visitor at the Durbar at the invitation of some ambassador, he haunted the railroad station for days until the last of the visitors had departed, searching and scanning every face eagerly in hope of seeing her again. But all his efforts were to no purpose, and at last, sick at heart, he resolved to abandon his object, to sever his alliance with the League, to see Rosny no more, and to return home to America again.

He took ship for Egypt; thence he embarked aboard a French steamer for Marseilles. The sun was warm, the sky bright and cloudless. The vessel skirted the low sand-dunes of the Tripoli coast preparatory to heading north for Malta.

CHRISTMAS GIFTS FOR MEN AND WOMEN

By JULIA BOTTOMLEY.

The immense variety in ribbons permits an unending variety in fancy bags, and they will play their usual prominent part at Christmas time. The rich brocades and heavy weaves in plain ribbons are used for opera bags and for the handsome shopping bags which city women find it convenient to carry with them when they have small purchases to make and intend carrying them home. Ribbons in light weight, such as the Dresden, in taffeta, which are found in so many beautiful designs, are chosen for all those bags that form accessories to the furnishings of the home. Among these, those with dowered patterns on a plain silk ground having wide borders of gauze are the newest and most beautiful of the season's offerings. Such a ribbon is shown here in the pretty corner bag pictured.

A new design in a shopping bag which may be made long enough to ent and useful rather than by mere prettiness.

Here are pictured a few of the many attractive things, made of cretonne, which will be appreciated by the men folks.

The closet bag shown in the picture is made of cretonne having a white ground with red roses and green foliage. White tape serves to bind the edges and fasten the compartments to the back. A yard of cretonne is required for it. It is fourteen inches wide and the remainder of the yard will make the compartments with enough left over to cover a pin cushion.

answer for a music roll as well, is pictured. It is made of brown ribbon and a figured ribbon stitched together. A narrow silver braid is placed over the stitching. The top of the bag is edged with the same braid and a little finish of silver ball trimming is placed along the bottom. The bag is not gathered at the top, but is provided with four cords by which it is held. It is laid in a few plates at each side, held in place by an ornament made of the silver cord. A substantial ribbon is required for this novel design.

A collar bag of figured silk suitable as a gift to a man is provided with a pasteboard bottom, with sides two or three inches high. The lid of a round, oblong box is used for this foundation. It is covered with the silk. A strip of silk ten inches wide forms the bag; one edge is sewed to the bottom around which the silk fits smoothly. The upper edge is gathered on an elastic cord run in a casing in the hem. Silver cord provides hangers and the bag is furnished with an ornament made of it at each side and a bit of silver braid outlining the support at the bottom. This is a convenience that any man will appreciate.

The fine art of Japan puts even the least expensive of Japanese fans in a class by themselves. If one must look for gifts which have an artistic value to make them attractive, and at the same time may be had at a small price, the products of the Japanese are the best.

The waste paper basket is made by pasting cretonne to a heavy pasteboard foundation and the lining may be of cambric or paper. Four sides are cut out and covered with cretonne. The lining is pasted over in one piece, holding the sides together. Or the pieces may be covered separately and afterward tied together with narrow ribbon.

The small box for handkerchiefs or ties is made by pasting cretonne over a strong pasteboard box. The top is padded with a sheet of cotton wadding. A set of three boxes for ties, gloves, handkerchiefs, with a larger one for shoes, makes an elegant present where one wishes to give so much. But one single box will be appreciated.

The traveling case is cut from rubber cloth first and compartments are sewed to it for the wash-rag and soap,

WANT COLUMN

FOR RENT:—Four nice rooms for housekeeping in my home at 506 9th Ave. S. Down stairs room. $10.00 per month. P. MacKinnon.

HOUSE TO RENT:—7 rooms, city water. No. 870 4th Ave. W. West side. $10.00 per month. P. MacKinnon.

FOR SALE:—Registered Holstein bull, 3 years old. Breeding of the very best. J. J. Lucy, R. D. 1, City. 31p.

HOUSE FOR RENT:—1080 Washington Ave. Inquire of Peter Schuetz, R. 6, Grand Rapids. 11p.

FOR SALE:—Cattle and horses for sale. Also want the horses out on board to responsible parties. Also lumber for sale. Inquire of G. G. Ginn.

FOR RENT:—House at 8th avenue. Inquire of Mrs. G. W. Corvair, 21, 3rd Ave. N. 21p.

FOR SALE:—Hard coal stove, cheap. Inquire of E. E. Ames.

FOR RENT:—House at $7 per month. Inquire of Joseph H. H. H.

LOST:—Chain and pocket, photo inside. Finder leave at this office.

WANTED:—16 cords of hard maple wood. Apply to Edward Pomeroy, 11, the Pico Insurance Man. 3t.

ORSON P. COCHRAN

PIANO TUNER
Best of work guaranteed. Call telephone 233 or at the house 447 Third avenue north.

Kellner Coal Co.

Coal and Wood
Don't Forget US when you need anything in the line of fuel
Telephone 305

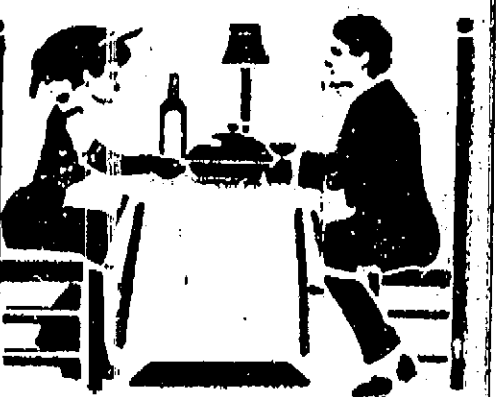

Warnings! Hints! Reminders! on A Burning Subject!

OUR Coal Wagons

Traverse the High-Ways and By-Ways of Grand Rapids
No Street Too Good, No Alley or Lane Too Poor For Us To Navigate!
We Get There with the Best of COAL

BOSSERT COAL CO.

Phone 416 Residence 54

That delicious baking you so much enjoy at good restaurants is within your reach at home if you will use Victoria Flour.
Where Victoria Flour is used the results are always uniformly excellent because it is always of a uniform high standard of excellence.
Would you try a sack of Victoria Flour next time and be convinced?

Grand Rapids Milling Co.

AN ELECTRICAL THANKSGIVING
should be your program this year. Cook the turkey with electric stove. Illuminate your house with electric lights, summon your waiting guests with an electric bell. Make your wife really thankful by having us supply her with these labor-saving, dirt-saving, small saving electrical conveniences. The cost is not great.

Staub's Electric Shop
127 First St. N. East side

LOCAL ITEMS.

Ed. Kruger of Cranmoor was in the city on Monday looking after some business matters.

Mrs. Nick Rolland has returned from a brief visit at the home of her parents, at Appleton.

Peter Rolland was confined to his home several days the past week with an attack of the grippe.

Mr. and Mrs. E. C. Smith have been visiting with relatives and friends in Necedah the past week.

Mr. and Mrs. Martin Zuego have returned from a visit at the Martin and Wm. Witt homes in Almond.

Bob Monahan was sentenced to ten days in jail last Thursday, having been arrested in an intoxicated condition.

Mr. and Mrs. Miles Foster of La-Grande, Oregon, are in the city visiting at the home of Mrs. Foster's parents.

The John Schnabel home is quarantined with smallpox, Carolyn, their youngest daughter, being ill with a light attack.

Mrs. Archie McMillan has been sick for several days past with stomach trouble, but is considerable better at this writing.

Mr. and Mrs. Hugh Giggins returned on Friday evening from their wedding tour and have gone to housekeeping in this city.

The home of John Bell on the east side is quarantined on account of the boys in the family having a light attack of smallpox.

Mrs. Mary McGregor of Ripon has been a guest at the home of her brother Chief of Police James Gibson from Saturday until today.

Messrs. Jake Lutz, Fred Miller and Frank Westfall returned on Saturday from their deer hunt near Bird. They each brought home a fine deer.

Capt. Harry A. Johnson of Sturgeon Bay arrived in the city recently to spend a few months at the home of his grandson, Rev. H. B. Johnson.

Mr. and Mrs. B. P. Clinton of Cranmoor were in the city on Monday looking after some business matters. The Tribune acknowledges a pleasant call from Mr. Clinton.

Miss Grace Giggins, who is attending the Stevens Point Normal, spent several days in the city last week, having come over to attend the wedding of her brother Hugh.

Ernest E. Oberbeck, who has been cashier at the Soo depot for some time past, has resigned his position to accept a similar place with the American Express company at Rockford, Ill.

John Junk, the west side painter has been confined to his home the past week with an abscess in his head and one in the right ear. Mr. Junk is now able to be at his store, but suffered considerable pain for several days.

Miss Mabel Olson of City Point has entered the Grand Rapids Business college to finish her course in stenography. Miss Olson is making her home with Mr. and Mrs. Louis Amundson, she being a niece of Mr. Amundson.

T. H. Thornton, who has been in the Soo depot here for the past nine years, has been transferred to Cydon, where he will have charge of the station. Mr. Thornton's many friends here will be pleased to hear of his promotion.

W. H. Schmidt of the town of Rudolph was among the pleasant callers at the Tribune office on Monday. Mr. Schmidt is one of the recent settlers in Rudolph, having located on a farm there. Mr. Schmidt was formerly engaged in the clear making business in Chicago, but found his health failing so decided to try country life. He reports himself much pleased with the change and says he is feeling much better already.

A story is told of a married lady who compared her husband to a handsome kerosene lamp that he had presented her. Her husband felt quite flattered until she mentioned the particulars of the resemblance. "Well," she said, "my dear, you know it has a good deal of brass about it, it is handsome to look at; it is not remarkably brilliant, requires a good deal of attention, liable to explode when half full, burns up occasionally, is always out at bed time, and is bound to smoke."—Cashton Record.

The Times at Marshallfield has installed an Intertype type setting machine during the past week. The Intertype is a machine much like the Linotype, the same as has been used in this office during the past year, and will no doubt prove a great convenience in that office, as the old fashioned method of setting type by hand is a trifle slow in this age of haste and hurry. Just an ordinary sort of a machine operator will set as much type on a machine as six men can do by hand, and this only explains a part of the flexibility of the machine, as it has many other advantages besides this.

Marshallfield News.—Miss Margaret Leahy, daughter of M. A. Leahy of this city, was united in marriage to Cleve Akey of Grand Rapids, in St. John's Catholic church at 8 o'clock yesterday forenoon. Father Volz performing the ceremony. Miss Lucile Quinn of Madison, a cousin of the bride, was the bridesmaid, and Earl Leahy, the bride's brother, served as best man. A wedding breakfast was served at the bride's home. Later in the day the bridal couple left on a wedding trip. Mr. and Mrs. Akey will make their home in Grand Rapids, where he conducts a restaurant.

Mrs. F. P. Daly expects another carload of pianos about the 20th of this month. They will be from the famous Carload company, and as this is about the time of year to begin to look up a Christmas present, it might be a good thing for anybody who has anything of this sort on their mind to go around and see Mrs. Daly about the matter. There is nothing superior for a Christmas present than a piano, as it will please every member of the household. It will not cost a cent to investigate the matter. Terms and prices will be right.

The Town You Live In.
Think well of it.
Stand up for it.
Speak in its favor.
Patronize its merchants.
Encourage its industries.
Cheer every live enterprise.
Tuturrah for the enthusiastic.
See all that is beautiful in it.
Chant praises to the good it possesses.
Sing of its wonders, you'll find it has some.
Praise it and lead it if you wish thrift to come.
Welcome improvements, stagnation's a sin.
Love it, stick to it,—the town you live in.

Miss Helen Knoll has accepted a position as saleslady in Cohen Bros. department store.

Mr. and Mrs. E. B. Redford spent Saturday and Sunday in Milwaukee visiting with friends.

O. Voyer, one of the old residents of Junction City, was in the city Friday visiting with friends.

Mrs. J. E. Granger left on Thursday for Whitehall, where she will visit her daughter for some time.

Victor Thompson and Howard Mullen were in Oshkosh on Saturday to attend the football game.

Nels Sande of Stoughton was a guest at the Julius Nelson home on the west side the past week.

Mrs. J. W. Cochran expects to spend the winter at Babcock. She will be accompanied by her sons Will and Orson.

Misses Nio Streveler and Hugh Micolli of Halder, were guests at the home of their sister Mrs. Arthur Sietes on Saturday and Sunday.

Francis Bender of Blacio Creek spent several days here the past week visiting with his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Chas. Bender in the town of Seneca.

A meat dealer in Oshkosh has inaugurated a system that ought to work very well. He owns two markets not far distant from each other. In the one he is going to sell for cash and will make no deliveries. Customers must call for their meat, pay for it and take it with them. In the other he will sell the same as other markets give credit to those who feel are good and will make deliveries to any part of the city. This experiment will be watched by butchers all over the state and it will be interesting to note whether or he will keep both markets open or close one or the other after he has given both a fair trial.—The Antigo Daily Journal.

In speaking of the roller towel, and mildly mourning its departure, the Washington Post thus glances off onto a related theme: "It was in the days, too, when the other boys took turns waiting to play Reddy Jones' new mouth organ, and the little girls traded chewing gum and had community state pencils, the ends of which they chewed in common. Also the days when all were equal; when the cook sat down with the family, and when if the hired man disagreed with his employer, he made no bones of telling him so in the most emphatic manner. But the old man-leveling, unsanitary methods must go. It's best of course. And when we think of the risks we ran from germs and the like, the only wonder is that we haven't all been dead for a quarter of a century or so."—Madison Democrat.

Episcopals Have Up-to-date Prayer
Were you looking over a list of prayers to find one fitted for present day use, what would you think, if that incorporated the suggestions, "From the sins that divide us, from all class bitterness and hatred, from forgetfulness of Time and indifference to our fellowmen, good Lord, deliver us."
"From the fear of unemployment, chile and civil government, from greed and the arbitrary love of power, good Lord, deliver us."
"From the fear of unemployment and the evils of overwork from the curse of child labor and the ill paid toll of women, good Lord, deliver us."
"That the labor movement may be confirmed in disinterested honor and the employers of labor may fashion their dealings according to the laws of equity, we beseech Thee to hear us, good Lord."

This is not the prayer of a professional politician on the stump. It was recently used in a New York Episcopal church. And, after all, is there anything in Holy Writ to which this practical prayer of the times is abhorrent?—LaCrosse Tribune.

Miss Ida Jacobson of the town of Sigel was quite painfully injured on Saturday evening by being thrown from a wheel-chair. She sustained a bad cut on the side of the face and was rendered unconscious by her impact with the road. But after her injuries had been looked after by a surgeon has since been getting along all right.

Barl Palmer of Fond du Lac spent several days in the city the first of the week visiting with friends and relatives. Barl is taking a vacation from his duties as brakeman on the Soo railway.

Rev. C. A. Mellicke returned on Saturday from Ladysmith with a large deer which he killed the first day of the season after being in the woods a little over one hour. Herman Munroe of Kellner and Max Eberhardt of this city who were also in the party expect to remain until the latter part of this week before returning home.

Did you ever see the fog rise up from an old marsh or slough? We say to you now, its actually nothing compared to the fog that rises up from sore, sweaty tired feet. But you can cure the feet with Barker's Antiseptic. For sale by Johnson & Hill Co. 4t

SCHOOL BOARD PROCEEDINGS.
Lincoln Building, Grand Rapids, Wis., November 10, 1913.
Regular meeting of the Board of Education was called to order by President J. P. Witter at 7:45 p. m.
The following Commissioners were present: Hill, Reeves, Searis, Witter, Kellogg, Rowland, Babcock, Paulus, Horton, Johnson, and Hatch; (11). Absent Commissioners Ragan, Bein, Nash, Mellicke and Natwick; (5).
It was moved and carried that the reading of the minutes of the regular meeting of October 13, 1913, be dispensed with.
By unanimous consent, the regular order of business was dispensed with, and Mr. Hausler of the firm of Alban & Hausler, St. Paul architects, was given on a hearing concerning the construction of a suitable ward school North of the St. Paul tracks, West Side. The matter presented by Mr. Hausler was, on motion, referred to the proper committee.
The following bills were, on motion, allowed and ordered paid:
Chas. W. Minard $ 1.62
Wood County Telephone Co. 9.00
November rentals 3.60
Dr. Frank Pomalinville tongue and eye blades 11.70
J. W. Natwick, supplies 5.05
Wood County Drug Store supplies 78.00
J. R. Bran, permanent furnishings 5.40
Wood County Reporter, printing proceedings 32.67
Electric & Water Co., Oct. lights and power 41.37
W. M. Welch Mfg. Co., apparatus and supplies 32.00
Robert Brand & Sons Co., permanent furnishings 21.55
Wisconsin Valley Leader printing 5.50
Am. Ex. Co., Oct. Express 27.80
Sun Church school supplies 121.91
Grand Rapids School Supply Co., kindergarten and drawing supplies 14.82
Louis Schroeder grade supplies 2.49
Associated Mfg. Co., baskets and sweeping compound 27.00
W. H. Wright repairing 2.00
J. A. Staub supplies 9.65
Consolidated W. P. & F. Co., engineer's supplies 4.10
J. B. Farley repairs and plumbing 17.10
Stewart & Edwards, Dom. So. supplies 12.62
The First National Bank, Oct. interest $11.11
G. R. Poultry Co., repairs 59.74
R. L. Nash, 100 stamped envelopes 21.24
W. H. Burchell, freight and drayage 10.31
Wm. P. Haas plumbing 1.06
D. M. Huntington, repairs and supplies 6.55
Nash & Haw. Co., engineer's supplies 1.75
E. W. Ellis Lumber Co., engines 12.00
Mrs. G. S. Beardsley, Dom. So. supplies 10.38
Johnson & Hill Co. supplies 40.88
A bill from W. P. Noltner for over time was on motion disallowed.
The resignation of Miss Agnes McCormick as a teacher was accepted and Miss Grace Morgan of Amherst was engaged to fill the vacancy at $55.00 per month.
Motion to adjourn was then carried.
(Signed) J. P. Witter, President.
C. W. Schwede, Clerk of Board of Education.

Scene from "The Deep Purple," Daly's Theatre, Thursday, Nov. 20.
Strictly first class Dramatic Production. Prices 50-75-$.1.

His One Fault.

There was a man
Of history sad
Whose every plan
Went to the bad.
He did not drink,
He did not swear,
Nor shyly wink
At shrews fair,
Ideals high
He would reveal,
He could not lie,
He did not steal,
His worth you'd vow
Was something strong,
And yet, somehow,
His luck went wrong.
The hoped-for bliss
He'd never clutch.
His fault, was this:
He talked too much.
—Washington Star.

"As Close As The Next Second."

A character that offers delightful opportunities to the actor in fact a character, that despite its fidelity to life might have been drawn by Dickens, is the rascally "Pop" Clarke in "The Deep Purple" the successful crook-drama that comes to Daly's Theatre Thursday, Nov. 20.
The character is utterly despicable in its last analysis with the crawling violence of a parasite he unites parsimony and abject cowardice. The red-tail sheep-dress in the play remarks to him, "Your mother must have been Yet with all his pettiness there is actually fond of children to raise you!" something so droll in him to make him actually likeable.

Christmas is Coming!

and it may be that you are figuring on making somebody a Christmas present of a piano. There is nothing nicer for the holidays than a present of this kind and it is none too early to commence looking the matter up. You cannot always decide just what you want in a minute, and there is nothing like having a good assortment to select from. We expect a to arrive here about the 20th of this month, and that will be an excellent chance for you to pick out something that pleases you.

Carload of New Pianos

Come in and Let Us Show You.

MRS. F. P. DALY,

Grand Rapids, Wisconsin.

Your Business

with this bank is always confidential.
No information regarding your affairs is ever given to any one unless you request it. Small accounts are given the same careful attention as large ones. Call often.
First National Bank,
Grand Rapids, Wis.
The Bank that does things for you.

A SUIT MADE FROM FABRIC AND PATTERN which pleases and suits you After a Style Model of Your Selection and to your own measurements, IS DISTINCTIVE Representing Your Taste, and to some extent, Your Character. Let Us make You a Distinctive Suit. Yours truly,

LELOFF, The Tailor,

Maker of Guaranteed Clothes
Grand Ave., West Side, Grand Rapids, Wisconsin.

THANKSGIVING Linen & Cloak Sale

120 pairs Embroidered Pillow Cases, made on special heavy muslin, very special, per pair 89c

We advise getting them now and laying them aside for gifts.

LINEN SALE

This is the second week of the Linen Sale

DRESS GOODS SALE COAT BARGAINS

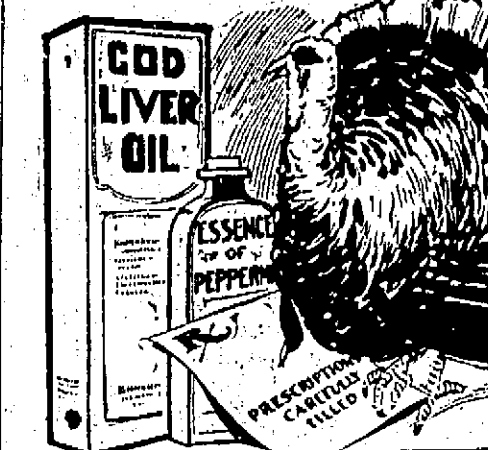

Many very special bargains are to be had in Dress Goods. They show you a saving of close to half price.
89c blankets, special 65c Extra large ladies' coats at cut prices.

Furs for Women and Children, most complete assortment and good values in sets or muffs.

Plush, Caricure and Ural Lamb Muffs for ladies and children from 85c to $5.50
Petticoats, the popular Green and Nel Rose-at 1.00, 1.49 and 1.75

Kimonas and Bath Robes, large line at popular prices

W. C. Weisel

THANKSGIVING REMEDIES

run largely to cough medicines and stomachics. We carry a full assortment of all reliable household remedies and advise you to have a supply of the most common in your house. You may not need them but if you do you'll want them in a hurry.

SAM CHURCH

PRESCRIPTION DRUGGIST.
Dealer in Anasco Cameras, Camera Supplies, Stationery, Combs and Brushes, Toilet Soaps, Toilet Waters, Perfumes, Rubber Goods, Toilet Creams, School Supplies, Fire Candles, Books and Patent Medicines.

Come Quick If You Want Them.

We have decided to institute what will hereafter be known as our annual Clearance Sale. In a lumber yard, in the course of a year's business, there accumulates a lot of odds and ends of stock—boards, piece stuff, lath, shingles and other items incident to the lumber business.

Before replenishing our general stock, we want to get rid of all these "short lines," and in order to move them in a hurry, will price them so attractively that it will pay a man to buy now, whether he is quite ready to use the material, or not.

During this clean up sale everything is bargain priced. So come quick.

W. A. Marling Lumber Co.

Grand Rapids Tribune

BY DRUM & SUTOR.

Grand Rapids Wis., Nov. 19, 1913

Entered as the Post Office of Grand Rapids, Wisconsin, Second Class Mail Matter.

SUBSCRIPTION RATES:
One Year, $1.50
Six Months, .75
Three Months, .40

Advertising Rates:—For display matter a space of 12 lines is charged. The columns of the Tribune are 24 inches long, making a one column advertisement cost $2.00 for one insertion. Additional insertion cost at the same rate. All local notices, cards of thanks, resolutions of respect, and all notices of advertisements where an additional fee is charged will be charged at 5 cents per line.

Correspondents are requested to write on one side of the paper only and to sign their names to communications. It does not matter if you write every week, sign your name anyway, as it will not be published.

DEMOCRATIC NEWSPAPER MEN HOLD ANOTHER MEET.

There was a meeting of the Democratic Press Association in Milwaukee last Tuesday at which there was about forty of the democratic newspaper men of the state in attendance. The meeting was a very good one in every respect and it enabled the members of the association to become better acquainted and discuss matters of interest to the organization.

Among other things it was decided to establish a news bureau at Madison on a permanent basis. A regular correspondent who will each week send regular letters to the democratic press of the state who are anxious to secure the facts from the seat of government. It is expected that the correspondent will stick right to the facts and that his letters will enable the public in general to know something about what is going on down in Madison all the time. Maybe it will be possible to find out whether there is a reason for the enormous increase in taxes that has occurred in the state during the past ten years.

OUR LOST RIGHTS.

How many things can you do now without asking the consent of some peevish politician for whose wisdom and ability you have no respect? Go over the rights you could exercise fifteen years ago and see how they have been lopped off by the axe of reform. Consider by progressive whose brief authority produced abnormal head intemperance. Every session of the legislature in the past decade has been but a carnival of rape on human rights, a breeder of distrust in the individual, and of unbounded confidence in the potency of government. One right after another has fallen before the terrific onslaughts that have been made upon individual prerogatives until now, at the close of the 1913 session of the legislature, the state government is the alpha and omega of all rights. Little things which could not, by any stretch of conscience or imagination be harmful to the public, have been converted into heinous crimes, punishable by all kinds of degrading penalties. The individual cannot freely contract, nor freely work without penalizing his employer. Even bull frogs are converted into public pets and their slimy bodies made immune from the school boy's heel. Public municipalities must keep books and make reports as if they were hired men of the state. Statistical information of no earthly use, except as an apology for the retention of sinecures in the public service, must be furnished by town, village, city and school district clerks to be compiled for storage in basements where the rats may faten on their figures. A system of Russified espionage is carried on for the purpose of catching some innocent violator of law, who, but for his arrest, would never dream he had committed a crime. All these things need money, and money they must have or sinucurism ends; so they have ransacked the category of property in order to get it, with the result that they are taking everything of value. We need a change; let us have it.—Stoughton Courier-Hub.

Mellen's Phrophecy.

Charles S. Mellen, the most-quoted railroad president of the United States—a railroad president whom public opinion made an EX-railroad president—has financially broken his silence. He says:

"Yes, I am a monopolist."

"Why, the whole tendency of the times is toward greater consolidation. 'I say this soberly.'"

"Within my own lifetime I expect to see all the railroads of the United States one great monopoly—owned and controlled by the United States government. It is inevitable."

"First the government will take over the telephone and telegraph systems. That may occur in five or six years. After that—the railroads!"

The last legislature made several amendments and additions to the jury law. One of the sections provides that "all citizens of the United States who are qualified electors of this state, who are possessed of their natural faculties, who are not infirm or decrepit, who are esteemed in their communities as men of good character, approved integrity and sound judgment, and who are able to read and write the English language understandingly, shall be liable to be drawn as jurors except as otherwise provided in the statutes." That men in order to be eligible for jury duty must be able to read and write the English language understandingly, is a new provision of the law. Heretofore we have had jurors in this country who could not even write their names; and if called upon in court to write the English language understandingly, on some subject suggested by an attorney, it might put the most of us out of business as prospective jurors. And on the theory that no man is a prophet in his own country, it might trouble some of us, if challenged, to establish the fact that we are esteemed in the communities in which we live "as men of good character, approved integrity and sound judgment." Another section of the law makes it obligatory upon jury commissioners, on or before the last Monday of each year, to select the names of not less than seventy-five nor more than one hundred and fifty men to serve as grand jurors for the ensuing year.

Where the Exercise Came in.

Even doctors are not always literal in their prescriptions. "You must take exercise," said the doctor to a patient. "The motor car in a case like yours gives the best exercise that—" "But I can't afford a car on insurance pay," the patient growled. "Don't buy one, just dodge 'em!" said the doctor.

STATE PRESS ON TAXES

Wisconsin is simply running wild and it is that the "Wisconsin idea" is something that needs swift and summary curbing. The state is tax crazy. It is a colossal spendthrift. However, the secretary of state who makes this levy is in no way directly responsible for it. The Republican party must be held to account. It has been in complete domination of the commonwealth throughout all these reckless years when the cost of government has ascended beyond all reason. Wisconsin Democrats need no other issue. This enormous tax levy is all they require to gain possession of state affairs and re-establish a regime of sane economy.—Madison Democrat.

Will the voters please bear in mind the above figures when they go to the polls next year? If they do, the result can only be a Democratic victory and a thorough cleaning out of the extravagance rampant at Madison—Jefferson Banner.

Public expenses in Wisconsin have swollen in a way almost unbelievable. With a population almost stationary in the past decade they have become six times what they formerly were.—LaCrosse Leader-Times.

"Taxes Will Be High" is a common heading in Wisconsin newspapers these days. It is reported from Madison that the state tax to be levied for 1913 will be the highest known in many years, the present practically bankrupt condition of the state treasury necessitating a levy of at least $3,500,000. All of which is joyful (?) news to Wisconsin taxpayers, who are slowly but surely coming to a stern realization that the mass of "good" things have been piled upon us in the shape of new-fangled governmental ideas are pretty expensive.—Waukesha Dispatch.

What a whooper of a state tax—eight and a half million dollars. How do you like the prospect right on the eve of a long, cold winter?—Wisconsin Tobacco Reporter.

According to the report of the state secretary over $3,000,000 is to be levied in direct taxes for state purposes this year, the statement including $1,500,000 for general purposes. Last year the administration remitted the state tax, evidently for political purposes, but the treasury is now empty and immense sums have been appropriated. The direct tax is only a part of the burden as the indirect tax levied through the taxing of railroads and insurance companies up to the limit, comes back upon the people of the state by higher freight rates and lessened premiums on insurance policies. Oneida will have to pay $41,816.69 of the direct taxes of the state in addition to the county taxes. Our "progressive" policies certainly come home.—Rhinelander News.

ENVIRONMENT.

By Robert Blatchford.

What is environment?

When we speak of a man's environment we mean his surroundings, his experiences; all that he sees, hears, feels and learns, from the instant that the lamp of life is kindled to the instant when the light goes out.

By environment we mean everything that develops or modifies the child or the man for good or for ill.

We mean his mother's milk, the home, and the state of life into which he was born. We mean the nurse who suckles him, the children he plays with, the school he learns in, the air he breathes, the water he drinks, the food he eats. We mean the games he sees, the sounds he hears. We mean the girls he loves, the woman he marries, the children he rears, the wages he earns. We mean the sickness that tries him, the griefs that scar him, the friends who aid and the enemies who wound him. We mean all his hopes and fears, his victories and defeats, his faiths and his disillusionments. We mean all the harm he does and all the help he gives, all the ideas that beckon him; all the temptations that lure him; all his weepings and laughter, his kissings and cursings, his lucky hits and unlucky blunders; everything he does and suffers under the sun.

I go into all this detail because we must remember that everything that influences him, is part of his environment.

It is a common mistake to think of environment in a narrow sense, as though environment implied no more than poverty or riches. Everything outside our environment.

Let us think of it again. Education is environment; religion is environment; all the ideas, conventions and prejudices of race and class; business and politics are environment; literature, science and the press are environment; music, history, and sport are environment; beauty and ugliness are environment; example and precept are environment; war and peace, sunshine and ozone, honor and dishonor, failure and success, are environment; love is environment.

I stress and multiply examples because the power of environment is so tremendous that we can hardly overrate its importance.

A child is not born with a conscience, but with the rudiments of a conscience; the materials from which a conscience may or may not be developed—by environment.

A child is not born with capacities, but only with potentialities, or possibilities, for good or evil, which may or may not be developed—by environment.

A child is born absolutely without knowledge. Every atom of knowledge he gets must be got from his environment.

Every faculty of body or of mind grows stronger with use and weaker with disuse. This is as true of the reason and the will as of the muscles. The sailor has better sight than the townsman, because his eyes get better exercise. The blind have sharper ears than ours, because they depend more on their hearings.

Exercise of the mind "alters the arrangement of the gray matter of the brain," and so alters the morals, the memory, and the reasoning powers.

Just as dumbbells, rowing or diving develops the muscles, thought, study and conversation develops the brain.

And everything that changes, or develops muscle or brain is a part of our environment.

There must be bounds to the powers of environment, but no man has yet discovered the limits, and few have dared to place them wide enough.

But the scope of environment is undoubtedly so great, that, be the heredity what may, environment has power to save or damn.—Milwaukee Leader.

TELEGRAPHIC NEWS SENT TO ALL STATES

WASHINGTON, D. C., Nov. 18.—As a result of requests from editors and editorial associations in many States, the U. S. Department of Agriculture has announced that the November crop reports for each State will be applied to the newspapers in all States thru the Central Weather Station located in each of the States.

This is an extension of the experiment of telegraphing the State crop returns to the Central Weather Stations in each of nine States, and having these telegrams duplicated at once and mailed to the newspapers and agricultural publications. Under this plan newspapers in 39 additional States will now receive full details of the State crops far more quickly than would be possible if these State crop details were put in the mails in Washington and had to travel by train long distances to the more remote States.

Under this plan the general summary of the crops for the United States will, as heretofore, be issued in Washington for telegraphic distribution. The conditions of crops within their particular States are of especial value to the farmers and producers, to whom the conditions in their own State are important in the marketing of their produce.

Under this plan the Department sends one telegram to the Central Weather Bureau in each State, and within a few minutes after the crop figures for the State are completed in Washington the Weather Bureau is enabled to mail copies of the figures from a central point within the State to all papers in that State.

Under the code system used, the Department is under the necessity of telegraphing out a few figures, as the figures of previous crops for comparison are supplied to each Weather Bureau Station by mail. The cost of the telegram for each State does not exceed 75 cents.

The crop data thus circulated by mail to the newspapers will give: (a) a full list of the crops; (b) the average condition of each crop for ten-year periods in that particular State; (c) the condition of the State crops for November 9th. In the adjoining column will be given the same data for the United States, so that the farmer who reads the news can compare the crops in their State as of November 9th with the ten-year averages of their own State, and in the same way with the average condition throughout the United States on November 9th and for ten years.

These State crop reports are not supplied to individuals, and are mailed only to editors of regular publications. The November State crop reports for the 39 States newly added to the list will be sent only to the daily papers, the county-seat papers, and agricultural publications. Meanwhile the Department is preparing lists of small town weeklies, and in December the crop reports will be sent also to the smaller papers.

ALLURING PROMISES.

The Budmans and the Johnsons, of Wheaton, who were attracted to Saskatchewan, Canada, by glowing accounts in the magazines and paid western newspapers, have returned and are glad to be back. It is the best country they have ever seen since they left.

The Saskatchewan county is not what it is being painted. Money at the banks costs 10 per cent and the longest loan you can get is for three months. The land companies bring people from the United States and charge them from $6 to $10 per acre more than they could get the same kind of land for back in the states. We paid $22 per acre, and we could have got land just as good for $14 an acre.

"In some places the land is very stony. The stones are just under the surface, and one can not see them easily, but when plowing is started the stones are very much in evidence."

Then, too, the land companies tell you that they can save you the cost of the new breaking. Most of them try it, and fail. We have seen a great deal down in this way, but have never seen any cut.

The country is full of Americans and all are dissatisfied. "But when one talks of reporting the true conditions in Saskatchewan most of them say don't say anything until you get rid of your land. Many people would be glad to sell their holdings for less than they paid for it. We would not advise any one to leave Wisconsin or any good farming locality to go to Canada. Conditions are bad and most of the farmers are in debt more than they are worth.—Chippewa Times.

PLEASANT HILL.

Mr. and Mrs. J. M. Huck, Mrs. P. H. Likes and Alvin Whitrock were shopping in Grand Rapids last week.

Alfred Alma has his house completed and his barn all finished but the roof.

Alvin Whitrock returned to Grand Rapids last Monday.

Anna Bucknell returned to Grand Rapids Monday.

Mrs. E. Christensen and son Edward were Yester visitors Friday.

A son was born to Mr. and Mrs. O. Erdman Sunday, Nov. 9.

Sam Baum is baling his hay which he had stacked on his farm here.

The rally day services were held Sunday afternoon and the meeting was enjoyed by all present.

Gladys Pinkley returned home Monday.

Mr. and Mrs. Geo. Gable returned to their home after a visit with their parents.

Miss Jennie Duckie is planning a program and basket social at the school house of District No. 8, Monday evening, Nov. 24th.

This fine weather is appreciated by everyone.

Miss Emma Hahn is visiting her relatives here at present.

Jim Robinson left last week for Hiles on a hunting trip.

Wright Robinson returned from a visit in Adams county last week.

Preparations are being made for a Thanksgiving service and dinner to be held at the church, Nov. 27.

J. M. Huck returned to Chadron, Nebraska, where he will take up telegraphy on the C. & N. W. R. R.

P. Likes is hauling lumber for his barn this week.

Ole Duckie was blowing out stumps last week.

Mrs. Louise Hammel and children spent Sunday with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Will Strope.

Mrs. Hemple of Bagley, Wis., is visiting her parents Mr. and Mrs. Thos. Andrews.

Chas. Peters sold two cows to Arpin parties.

Legal Blanks for sale at this office.

COUNCIL PROCEEDINGS.

Council Chamber, Nov. 4th, 1913.

Council met in regular session, Mayor Cohen presiding.

Present: Aldermen, Bamberg, Gault, McCarthy, Edw. F., Calkins, McCarthy, E. T., Getzlaff, Plenke, Lukasek, Yeschke, Prebunaw, Wittrock, Damons, Tomasek, and Grain. Absent: Aldermen Ketchum, and Jeffrey.

On motion the reading of the minutes of the last meeting of the council was dispensed with.

The board of public works reported that they met October 29th and accepted the paving job of the Russell Construction company, allowed their bill for extras at $75.00 and to pay them $13,000.00 on account of paving contract balance to be paid upon the final estimate of the city engineer.

On motion the above action of the Board of Public Works was confirmed by unanimous vote the Clerk calling the roll.

On motion the action of the Board of Public Works in selling the McCarthy lot was confirmed by unanimous vote the Clerk calling the roll.

On motion the petition for street lights on Grant street near the C. & N. W. Ry. crossing and the corner of Fourth and Saratoga street were referred to the committee on general business.

On motion by a vote of 12 for and 2 against, the clerk calling the roll, a street light was ordered placed on 8th street south within 200 feet of the C. & N. W. Ry. crossing.

On motion by a vote of 9 for and 5 against, the clerk calling the roll, a street light was ordered placed at the cemetery crossing.

On motion by a vote of 13 for and one against, the clerk calling the roll, a street light was ordered placed on 7th Ave. South, between Grand Ave. and the "Soo" crossing.

Ordinance No. 132 being an ordinance directing the issue of general street improvement bonds of the city of Grand Rapids, Wisconsin, to the amount of $20,000.00, and providing for the payment thereof, was presented and adopted by a vote of 14 for and none against.

(The same may be seen in legal form.)

Ordinance No. 133 being an ordinance directing the issue of general street improvement bonds of the city of Grand Rapids, Wisconsin, to the amount of $20,000.00, and providing for the payment thereof, was presented and adopted by a vote of 14 for and none against.

(The same may be seen in legal form.)

On motion by unanimous vote the clerk calling the roll, the Board of Public Works were authorized to advertise and dispose of the two bond issues $20,000.00 to the best advantage.

On motion by unanimous vote the clerk calling the roll, the following bills were allowed:

Consolidated W. P. & P. Co.	3.00
Hart Mfg. Co. Ltd. on signs	1.00
G. R. Foundry Co. castings	141.36
J. E. Farley, 6 in. sewer pipe	12.57
J. E. Farley, plumbing	102.55
G. R. Electric Co. lighting	325.85
G. R. Electric Co. plumbing	258.54
E. I. Phillips, services	108.50
Geo. P. Hambrecht express	49.73
H. A. Benjamin copyings	2.70
Joe Wheeler, Jr. stamps	4.00
Aug. Wittenberg, 6 days	10.50
W. T. Jones, unloading pipe	6.56
Geo. Ward, gravel	46.20
B. F. Nason, sewer caps	3.82
Julius Engle, 6 days quarantined	10.50
Wisconsin Valley Leader	56.90
Blackmer & Post Pipe Co. sewer pipe	283.54
Red Wing Sewer Pipe Co. sewer pipe	282.67
Western Union, telegram	.50
Red Wing Sewer Pipe Co. sewer pipe	141.24
John Bamberg, com. work	24.00
Wm. Prebunaw, com. work	24.00
Edw. F. McCarthy, com.	24.00
Mr. S. S. Beardsley, poor order	7.29
Bossert Bros. & Co. coal gravel, etc.	149.05
Rasmussen Cement Co. cement work	39.30
Johnson & Hill, Co. Hdwr.	2.80
H. P. Gault, groceries	12.12
Consolidated W. P. & P. Co. felt	1.35
Chicago Belting Co. belting	23.95
Wm. F. Hess, 6 in. sewer pipe	2.52
Hodgins & Sons Mfg. Co. valves	50.18
Am. Express Co. express	5.00
Wells Fargo Express Co. Ex.	3.45
H. P. Lambertson, drayage	2.25
Geo. Waterman, drayage	.50
Chicago Natl. Bank, Int.	205.51
John Jung, Graphite, etc.	5.35
Wood Co. Tel. Co.	18.50
McCormack & Pomainville, Hdwr.	20.67
Wood Co. Drug Co. stationery	5.05
G. R. Foundry Co. labor and pipe	22.31
Crandall Packing Co. waste	4.97
Natl. Meter Co., repairs	8.75
South Park Foundry Co. Tee	8.55
Hodger Meter Co. repairs	5.41
C. & N. W. Ry. Co., frt.	197.24
C. & N. W. Ry. Co., frt.	16.88
Labor, water works	175.00
Bliss O. Pedersen, new pump station	872.41

On motion the bill of Fred Bossert for $11.50 was referred to the clerk.

On motion the bill of W. E. Little for $6.20 was referred to Engineer Phillips.

The Mayor made the following Committee appointments and on motion the same were confirmed.

Site committee: Edw. F. McCarthy, Prebunaw and Bamberg.

Water works committee: Prebunaw, Calkins, and Plenke.

The City Treasurer's report for the month of October was presented and on motion ordered filed and spread upon the minutes.

Grand Rapids, Wis., Nov. 4, 1913.

To the Honorable Mayor and Common Council of the City of Grand Rapids:

Gentlemen:—I herewith submit the report of my office for the month of October.

Oct. 6, Bal. in bank $ 67.77

Oct. 7, Rec'd. A. B. Sutor, part payment on city lot. 50.00

Oct. 30, Rec'd. Gus Schuman lumber sold to Paul, forist. 25.00

Oct. 30, Rec'd. Gus Schuman sewer pipe, G. R. Heating & Plumbing Co. 4.33

Oct. 30, Rec'd. Gus Schuman, old windows sold to E. T. 4.00

Oct. 30, Rec'd. Gus Schuman, digging water trench for First Natl. Bank 4.50

Oct. 30, Rec'd. Gus Schuman, digging water trench for Weeks & Weeks 3.75

Oct. 30, Rec'd. Russell Const. Co. for asphalt 128.71

Total $ 777.36

Water Works.

Oct. 6, Bal. in bank $ 7.97

Water tax collected 1,731.72

Total $ 1,739.79

Orders paid by bank $ 1,729.07

Nov. 4, Balance in bank $ 9.72

Respectfully submitted,

Joe Wheeler, Jr., City Treasurer.

On motion council adjourned.

M. G. Gordon, J. A. Cohen, Clerk. Mayor.

SIGEL

Miss Anna Quist of Milladore is a guest at the Kronholm home.

Mrs. Victor Kronholm of Hancock, Wis., is visiting relatives and friends here.

Mrs. John Hills of Vesper, Mr. and Mrs. John M. Worlund of Grand Rapids were callers here on Wednesday.

Carl Hollstrum who is employed at Grand Rapids Sunday with friends here.

David Anderson and Robert Heden are home from Cranmoor where they have been employed the past five weeks.

Mrs. Robert Weeks and son Russ are visiting at the J. Larson home for a few days.

Lars Felt is on the sick list.

John Quist departed for his home at Chicago, Ill., on Sunday after an extended visit with relatives here and at Milladore.

Mrs. C. Bernicke of Everlett, Minn., arrived here last week and will visit at the C. Carlson home for an indefinite time.

Mrs. B. Crunstedt and son Eric of your city visited at the Willis Crunstedt home here on Wednesday.

Mrs. J. A. Worlund and son Stanley of Grand Rapids are spending the week at the G. Anderson home.

Mr. and Mrs. O. Hollstrum entertained a large number of friends for luncheon on Wednesday.

Ernest Anderson and Robert Heden left on Thursday for Grand Rapids where they will secure employment.

Mr. Carl of Vesper was a business caller here on Thursday.

NEKOOSA.

A very quiet, unpretentious wedding occurred at eight o'clock Saturday evening, November 8, 1913, at the home of Mr. and Mrs. J. E. Gazeley.

The contracting parties are L. A. Good, junior member of the Wood County Times establishment, and Miss Grace Hisebe, sister of Mrs. Gazeley.

Rev. E. S. Gault performing the ceremony. There were no invited guests whatever, only the closest relatives of the bride and groom, the minister and his little daughter, being present.

The new safe for the Nekoosa State Bank arrived Friday and was placed in the vault Saturday. Work on the interior of the building—placing counters, tables, desks, furniture in general and also varnishing woodwork, etc., is almost completed, and everything will be ready for the transaction of business before many days have elapsed.

Mrs. Lucy Horton and daughter Margaret, of Grand Rapids spent a few days in Nekoosa last week, the guest of her parents, Mr. and Mrs. F. H. Richmond.

Mrs. Art Mulroy of Grand Rapids visited her parents Mr. and Mrs. John Gallingan, of Nekoosa from Wednesday until Saturday.

BIRON.

Miss Gertrude Akey of Rudolph and her cousin Miss Perron of Fond du Lac were Sunday visitors at the L. A. Akey's.

Auk Kempfort of Little Falls, Minn., and wife of Appleton were here and visited a few days at their son Percy and the Fobart family.

Mr. Gebels is doing fine with his work on the sewer line. He has 12 men working in the ditch and his work is showing up fairly well for the few days he has been at work.

Miss Bonny Biron is home for a few weeks on account of sickness in her district.

Walter Merriam and Edward Mascausk were here Sunday rabbit hunting with Earl and Jeff Akey. Every one got something.

Steve Snyder is doing fairly well with his little store in our burg. You can always see someone going in or coming out.

Mrs. J. T. Herron has got a lot of boarders of late. She has no room enough to accommodate them all; for there is always someone looking for a boarding place elsewhere.

Mr. and Mrs. Archie Shearler attended a wedding at Meehan Station one day the past week.

A. L. Akey was in your city Tuesday on business and also took in the fair.

John Vesper has gone deer hunting at Thilandene.

We understand that Eli Taylor has resigned his position at the Kempfort farm, the same to be filled by John Schrenden.

Mrs. August Kempfort has gone back to her home at Appleton after a week's visit with her son Percy and the Fobart family.

Ernie Rymone was seen in our burg one day the past week.

Worth Knowing.

The age to which some animals and birds attain is as follows:

Animal.	Years.
Whale	1,000
Elephant	400
Swan	100
Tortoise	100
Eagle	100
Raven	100
Camel	100
Lion	70
Porpoise	30
Horse	30
Beaver	20
Cow	20
Deer	20
Rhinoceros	20
Swine	20
Wolf	20
Cat	15
Fox	15
Dog	10
Sheep	10
Rabbit	7
Squirrel	7

Oct. 29. Order Limiting Time to Present Claims and Notice to Creditors.

N. U., MILWAUKEE, NO. 46-1913.

Grand Rapids Tribune

BY DRUMB & SUTOR.

Grand Rapids Wis., Nov. 19, 1913

Entered at the Post Office at Grand Rapids Wisconsin, as Second Class Mail Matter.

SUBSCRIPTION RATES.
One Year, $1.50
Six Months, .75
Three Months, .40

Advertising Rates.—For display matter in the Tribune, space is charged at the rate of $1.00 per line per week. The columns of the Tribune are 12 inches long, making one column advertisement 12 lines. For one insertion. Additional insertion cost $1.00 at the same rate. All local notices and notices of entertainments where an admission fee is charged will be carried at 5 cents per line.

Correspondents are requested to write on one side of the paper only, and to sign their names to communications. It does not matter if you write every word, sign and name, as it will not be published.

DEMOCRATIC NEWSPAPER MEN HOLD ANOTHER MEET.

There was a meeting of the Democratic Press Association in Milwaukee last Tuesday at which there was about forty of the democratic newspaper men of the state in attendance. The meeting was a very good one in every respect and it enabled the members of the association to become better acquainted and discuss matters of interest to the organization.

Among other things it was decided to establish a news bureau at Madison on a permanent basis. A regular correspondent who will each week send regular letters to the democratic press of the state and be anxious to secure the news from the seat of government. It is expected that the correspondent will stick right to the facts and that his letters will enable the public in general to know something about what is going on down in Madison at all times. Maybe it will be possible to find out whether there is a reason for the enormous increase in taxes that has occurred in the state during the past ten years.

OUR LOST RIGHTS.

How many things can you do now without asking the consent of some potent politician for whose wisdom and ability you have no respect? Go over the rights you could exercise fifteen years ago and see how they have been wiped off by the use of reform lobbies and by the use of normal head intemperance. Every session of the legislature in the past decade has been but a carnival of rape on human rights, a breeder of distrust in the individual, and of unbounded confidence in the potentate of government. One right after another has been taken from the citizen, and the rights that have been made up on individual prerogatives until now, at the close of the 1913 session of the legislature, the state government is the alpha and omega of all rights. Little things which could not, by any stretch of conscience, have been taken from the citizen, have been taken from him by the legislature, punishable by all kinds of degrading penalties. The individual cannot freely contract, nor freely work without penalizing his employer. Even but frogs are converted into public pests and their stings are made immortal in the school boy's heel. Public municipalities must keep books and make reports as if they were hirings of the state. Statutory information of no earthly use, except as an apologizing for the retention of sinecures in the public service, must be given by city, village, city and school district clerks to be compiled for storage in basements where the rats may fatten on their figures. A system of Russified espionage is carried on for the purpose of catching some ignorant violator of law, who, but for his arrest, would never have committed a crime. And money they must have or sinicism ends; so they have ransacked the category of result in order to get it, with the result that they are taxing everything of value. We need a change; let us have it.—Stoughton Courier-Hub.

ENVIRONMENT.

By Robert Blatchford.

What is environment? When we speak of a man's environment we mean his surroundings, his experiences; all that he sees, hears, feels and knows, from the instant that the lump of life is kindled to the instant when the light goes out.

By environment we mean everything that develops or modifies the child or the man for good or for ill.

We mean his mother's milk; the home, and the state of life into which he was born. We mean the nurse who suckles him, the children he plays with, the school he learns in, the food he breathes, the water he drinks, the food he eats.

We mean the games he plays, the work he does, the sights he sees, the sounds he hears. We mean the girls he loves, the woman he marries, the children he rears, the wages he earns. We mean the sickness that tries him, the griefs that sear him, the friends who aid him, the enemies who wound him.

We mean all the help he gives; all the ideas that beckon him; all the temptations that lure him; all his weeping and laughter, his kissings and cursings, his love and his unlovely blunders; everything he does and suffers under the sun.

I go into all this detail because we must remember that everything that influences him, is part of his environment.

It is a common mistake to think of environment in a narrow sense, as though environment implied no more than poverty or riches. Everything outside our environment.

Let us think of it again. Education is environment; religion is environment; all the ideals, conventions and prejudices of race and class; business and politics are environment; literature, science and the press are environment; music, history and sport are environment; beauty and ugliness are environment; example and precept are environment; war and travel and commerce are environment; sunshine and ozone, honor and dishonor, failure and success, are environment; love is environment.

I stress and multiply examples because the power of environment is so tremendous that we can hardly overstate its importance.

A child is not born with a conscience, but with the rudiments of a conscience; the materials from which a conscience may or may not be developed—by environment.

A child is not born with capacities, but only with potentialities, or possibilities, for good or evil, which may or may not be developed—by environment.

A child is born absolutely without knowledge. Every atom of knowledge he gets must be got from his environment.

Every faculty of body or of mind grows stronger with use and weaker with disuse. This is as true of the reason and the will as of the muscles. Just as the muscles get better exercised, the mind has sharper eyes than ours, because they depend more on their hearings.

Exercise of the mind "alters the arrangement of the gray matter of the brain," and so alters the mind, the memory, and the reasoning powers. Just as dumbbells, rowing or diving develops the muscles, thought, study and conversation develops the brain.

And everything that changes, or develops muscle or brain is a part of our environment.

There must be bounds to the powers of environment, but no man has yet discovered the limits, and few have dared to place them wide enough.

But the scope of environment is undoubtedly so great, that, be the heredity what it may, environment has power to save or damn.—Milwaukee Leader.

Where the Exercise Came In.

Even doctors are not always literal in their prescriptions. "You must take exercise," said the doctor to a patient. "The motor car in a case like yours gives the best exercise that." "But I cannot afford a car on insurance pay," the patient growled. "Don't buy one, just dodge 'em!" said the doctor.

STATE PRESS ON TAXES

Wisconsin is simply running wild and it is that the "Wisconsin Idea" is something that needs swift and summary curbing. The state is a crazy, it is a colossal spendthrift. However, the secretary of state who makes this levy is in no way directly responsible for it. The Republican party must be held to accountability. It has been in complete domination of the commonwealth throughout all these reckless years when the cost of government has ascended beyond all reason. Wisconsin Democrats need no other issue. This enormous tax levy is all they require, to gain possession of state affairs and re-establish a picture of sane economy.—Madison Democrat.

Will the voters please bear in mind the above figures when they go to the polls next year? If they do, the result can only be a Democratic victory and a thorough cleaning out of the extravagance rampant at Madison.—Jefferson Banner.

Public expenses in Wisconsin have increased to a point almost unbelievable. With a population almost stationary in the past decade they have become six times what they formerly were.—LaCrosse Leader-Press.

"Taxes Will Be High" is a common heading in Wisconsin newspapers these days. It is reported from Madison that the state tax to be levied for 1913 will be the highest known in many years, the present practically bankrupt condition of the state treasury necessitating a levy of at least $3,500,000. All of which is joyful (?) news to Wisconsin taxpayers, who are slowly but surely coming to the realization that the "million us" of "things being heap" upon us in the shape of new-fangled governmental ideas are pretty expensive.—Waukesha Dispatch.

What a whopper of a state tax—eight and a half million dollars. How do you like the prospect right on the eve of a long, cold winter?—Wisconsin Tobacco Reporter.

According to the report of the state secretary over $9,000,000 is to be levied in direct taxes for state purposes this year, the statement including $1,500,000 for general purposes. Last year the administration levied the state tax, evidently for political purposes, but the treasury is now empty and immense sums have been appropriated. The direct tax is only a part of the burden as the indirect tax levied through the taxing of railroads and insurance companies up to the limit, comes back upon the people of the state by higher freight rates and lessened premiums on insurance policies. Omaha will have to pay $41,816.69 of the direct taxes of the state in addition to the county taxes. Our "progressive" policies certainly come high.—Rhinelander News.

ALLURING PROMISES.

The Badmans and the Johnsons, of Wheaton, who were attracted to Sault Ste. Marie, Canada, by glowing accounts in the magazines and paid western newspapers, have returned and are glad to be back. It is the best country they have ever seen since they left.

The Saskatchewan county is not what it is being painted. Money at the banks costs 10 per cent and the longest loan you can get is for three months. The land companies bring in people from the United States and charge them from $6 to $10 per acre more than they could get the same kind of land for back in the states. We paid $22 per acre, and we could have got land just as good for $14 an acre.

In some places the land is very sandy. The stones are just under the surface, and one can not see them easily, but when plowing is started the stones are very much in evidence.

Then, too, the land companies tell the Americans they can raise flax on the new breaking. Most of them try it, and find that it is a great deal of work in this way, but have never seen any cut.

The country is full of Americans and all are dissatisfied. "But when some one talks of reporting the true conditions in Saskatchewan most of them say don't say anything until you get rid of your land. Many people would be glad to sell their holdings for less than they paid for it. We would not advise any one to leave Wisconsin or any good farming locality to go to Canada. Conditions are bad and most of the farmers are in debt more than they are worth.—Chippewa Times.

PLEASANT HILL.

Mr. and Mrs. J. M. Huck, Mrs. P. H. Lakes and Alvin Whitlock were shopping in Grand Rapids last week.

Alfred Alms has his house completed now and his barn all finished but the roof.

Alvin Whitlock returned to Grand Rapids last Sunday.

Anna Bucknell returned to Grand Rapids Monday.

Mrs. E. Christensen and son Edward were Vesper visitors Friday.

A son was born to Mr. and Mrs. O. Erdman Sunday, Nov. 9.

Sam Baum is baling his hay which he had stacked on his farm here.

The rally day services were held Sunday afternoon and the meeting was enjoyed by all present.

Glady's Pinkley returned home Monday.

Mr. and Mrs. Geo. Gable returned to their home after a visit with his parents.

Miss Jennie Duckie is planning a program, and a social, at the school house of District No. 6, Monday evening, Nov. 24th.

This fine weather is appreciated by everyone.

Miss Emma Hahn is visiting her relatives here at present.

Jim Robinson left last week for Hills on a hunting trip.

Wright Robinson returned from a visit to Adams county last week.

Preparations are being made for a Thanksgiving service and dinner to be held at the church, Nov. 27.

J. M. Huck returned to Chadron, Nebraska, where he will take up telegraphing on the C. & N. W. R. R.

P. Likes is hauling lumber for his barn this week.

Ole Duckie was blowing out stumps last week.

Mrs. Louise Hammet and children spent Sunday with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Will Strope.

Mrs. Hemple of Bagley, Wis., is visiting her parents Mr. and Mrs. Thos. Andrews.

Chas. Peters sold two cows to Arlin parties.

Legal Blanks for sale at this office.

TELEGRAPHIC NEWS SENT TO ALL STATES

WASHINGTON, D. C., Nov. 18.—As a result of requests from editors and editorial associations in many States, the U. S. Department of Agriculture has announced that the "November crop reports for each State will be supplied to the newspapers in all States through the Central Weather Station located in each of the States.

This is an extension of the experiment of telegraphing the State crop returns to the Central Weather Stations in each of nine States, and having the telegrams duplicated and agricultural publications. Under this plan newspapers in 29 additional States will now receive full details of the State crops far more quickly than would be possible if these State crop details were put in the mails in Washington and had to travel by train long distances to the newspapers in the States.

Under this plan the general summary of the crops for the United States will, as heretofore, be issued in Washington for telegraphic distribution. It has been found, however, that the conditions of crops within their particular States are of especial value to the farmers and producers, and that the conditions in their own State are important in the marketing of their produce.

Under this plan the Department sends one telegram to the Central Weather Bureau in each State, and within a few minutes after the crop figures for the State are received in Washington the Weather Bureau is enabled to mail copies of the figures to a central point within the State to all papers in that State.

Under the code system used, the Department is under the necessity of telegraphing only a few figures, as the figures of previous crops for each State are supplied to each Central Weather Bureau station by mail. The cost of the telegram for each State does not exceed 75 cents.

The crop data thus circulated by mail to the newspapers will give: (a) a full list of the crops; (b) the average condition of each crop for ten-year periods in that particular State; (c) the conditions of the State crops for the November 9th. In the adjoining column will be given the same data for the United States, so that the farmers who read these notices can compare the crops in their State as of November 9th with the ten-year averages of their own State, and in the same way with the average conditions throughout the United States on November 9th and for ten years.

These State crop reports are not supplied to individuals, and are mailed only to editors of regular publications. The November State crop reports for the 29 States newly added to the list will be sent only to the daily papers, the condensed papers, and agricultural publications. Meanwhile, the Department is preparing lists of small town weeklies, and in December the crop reports will be sent also to the smaller papers.

ALLURING PROMISES.

The Badmans and the Johnsons, of Wheaton, who were attracted to Sault Ste. Marie, Canada, by glowing accounts in the magazines and paid western newspapers, have returned and are glad to be back. It is the best country they have ever seen since they left.

The Saskatchewan county is not what it is being painted. Money at the banks costs 10 per cent and the longest loan you can get is for three months. The land companies bring in people from the United States and charge them from $6 to $10 per acre more than they could get the same kind of land for back in the states. We paid $22 per acre, and we could have got land just as good for $14 an acre.

In some places the land is very sandy. The stones are just under the surface, and one can not see them easily, but when plowing is started the stones are very much in evidence.

Then, too, the land companies tell the Americans they can raise flax on the new breaking. Most of them try it, and find that it is a great deal of work in this way, but have never seen any cut.

The country is full of Americans and all are dissatisfied. "But when some one talks of reporting the true conditions in Saskatchewan most of them say don't say anything until you get rid of your land. Many people would be glad to sell their holdings for less than they paid for it. We would not advise any one to leave Wisconsin or any good farming locality to go to Canada. Conditions are bad and most of the farmers are in debt more than they are worth.—Chippewa Times.

PLEASANT HILL.

Mr. and Mrs. J. M. Huck, Mrs. P. H. Lakes and Alvin Whitlock were shopping in Grand Rapids last week.

Alfred Alms has his house completed now and his barn all finished but the roof.

Alvin Whitlock returned to Grand Rapids last Sunday.

Anna Bucknell returned to Grand Rapids Monday.

Mrs. E. Christensen and son Edward were Vesper visitors Friday.

A son was born to Mr. and Mrs. O. Erdman Sunday, Nov. 9.

Sam Baum is baling his hay which he had stacked on his farm here.

The rally day services were held Sunday afternoon and the meeting was enjoyed by all present.

Glady's Pinkley returned home Monday.

Mr. and Mrs. Geo. Gable returned to their home after a visit with his parents.

Miss Jennie Duckie is planning a program, and a social, at the school house of District No. 6, Monday evening, Nov. 24th.

This fine weather is appreciated by everyone.

Miss Emma Hahn is visiting her relatives here at present.

Jim Robinson left last week for Hills on a hunting trip.

Wright Robinson returned from a visit to Adams county last week.

Preparations are being made for a Thanksgiving service and dinner to be held at the church, Nov. 27.

J. M. Huck returned to Chadron, Nebraska, where he will take up telegraphing on the C. & N. W. R. R.

P. Likes is hauling lumber for his barn this week.

Ole Duckie was blowing out stumps last week.

Mrs. Louise Hammet and children spent Sunday with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Will Strope.

Mrs. Hemple of Bagley, Wis., is visiting her parents Mr. and Mrs. Thos. Andrews.

Chas. Peters sold two cows to Arlin parties.

Legal Blanks for sale at this office.

Legal Blanks for sale at this office.

Legal Blanks for sale at this office.

Legal Blanks for sale at this office.

Legal Blanks for sale at this office.

COUNCIL PROCEEDINGS.

Council Chamber, Nov. 18, 1913. Council met in regular session, Mayor Cohen presiding.

Present: Aldermen, Bamberg, Gaultke, McCarthy, Edw. E. Calkins, McCarthy, E. F. Getzland, F. J. Kalkas, Yeschick, Prebbanow, Wittrock, Damm, Tomysky, and Grain. Absent: Aldermen, Ketchum, and Jeffrey.

On motion the reading of the minutes of the last previous meeting of the council was dispensed with.

The board of public works reported that they had on October 29th and accepted the paving job of the Russell Construction company, allowed their bill for extras at $75.00 and to pay them $12,000.00 on account of paving contract, balance to be paid upon the final estimate of the city engineer.

On motion the above action of the Board of Public Works was confirmed by unanimous vote the Clerk calling the roll.

On motion the action of the Board of Public Works in selling the McCarly lot was confirmed by unanimous vote the Clerk calling the roll.

On motion the petitions for street lights on Grant street near the C. M. & St. P. R. R. crossing, at the corner of 7th and Grant streets, were referred to the committee on general business.

On motion by a vote of 12 for and 2 against, the Clerk called the roll, a street light was ordered placed on 8th street south within 200 feet of the C. & N. W. R. crossing.

On motion by a vote of 9 for and 3 against the Clerk called the roll, a street light was ordered placed at the cemetery crossing.

On motion by a vote of 13 for and one against, the Clerk called the roll, a street light was ordered placed on 7th Ave. South, between Grand Ave. and the "Soo" crossing.

Ordinance No. 182 being an ordinance directing the issue of general warrants for the collection of taxes, was read and passed.

On motion by a vote of 14 for and none against, the Clerk called the roll, the following bills were allowed:

Consolidated W. P. & P. Co. use of wheel scrapers..... 3.00
Hart Mfg. Co. bal. on signs..... 1.00
G. L. Foundry Co. castings..... 14.20
J. E. Farley, plumbing..... 25.27
J. E. Farley, plumbing..... 102.55
R. E. Electric Co. lighting..... 325.85
G. R. Electric Co. pumping..... 268.64
E. L. Philcox, service..... 108.50
Geo. P. Hambrecht, copy..... 44.75
H. A. Benjamin, copy..... 4.00
Joe Wheeler, Jr., stamps..... 2.00
Aug. Wittenberg, 5 days quarantined..... 10.50
W. T. Jones, unloading pipe..... 6.50
Geo. Ward, gravel..... 46.20
B. F. Nason, sewer caps..... 3.82
Jullus Engle, 6 days quarantined..... 10.50
Wisconsin Valley Lumber Co. 56.90
Blackmer & Post Pipe Co. sewer pipe..... 283.54
Red Wing Sewer Pipe Co. sewer pipe..... 282.67
Western Union telegram..... .50
Red Wing Sewer Pipe Co. sewer pipe..... 141.34
John Bamberg Com. work..... 24.00
Wm. Prebbanow Com. work..... 24.00
Edw. E. McCarthy Com. work..... 24.00
Mrs. G. S. Beardsley, poor orders..... 7.29
Bossett Bros. & Co., gravel, etc.,..... 149.05
Rasmussen Cement Co. cement work..... 49.80
Johnson & Hill Co. Hdwy..... 12.12
H. A. Benjamin, copy..... 4.00
Consolidated W. P. & P. Co. felt..... 1.35
Wood Co. Belting Co. belting..... 23.95
Wm. P. Hess, 6 in. sewer pipe..... 2.52
Hoffman & Billings Mfg. Co. valves..... 50.18
Am. Express Co. express..... 5.00
Wells Fargo Express Co. Ex. 2.44
London drayage..... 2.25
Geo. Waterman, drayage..... .60
Citizens' Natl. Bank, Int..... 205.51
John Jung, Graphite, etc..... 5.35
Wood Co. Tel. Co. wire..... 18.50
McCamley & Family, Hdwy..... 20.07
Wood Co. Drug Co. stationery..... 5.05
G. R. Foundry Co. labor and pipe..... 22.31
Grandall Foundry Co. waste..... 4.97
Natl. Motor Co. repairs..... 8.75
South Park Foundry Co. Tee..... 8.75
Badger Motor Co. repairs..... 6.41
C. M. & St. P. Ry. Co. frt..... 19.94
C. & N. W. Ry. Co., frt..... 16.88
Labor, water works..... 175.00
Bills O. Pedersen, new pump station..... 87.24
On motion the bill of Fred Bossett was referred to the clerk.

On motion the bill of W. E. Little for $8.20 was referred to Engineer Philcox.

The Mayor made the following Committee appointments and on motion the same were confirmed.

Street committee: Edw. F. McCarthy, Prebbanow and Bamberg.

Water works committee: Prebbanow, Calkins and Piekpe.

The City Treasurer's report for the month of October was presented and on motion ordered filed and spread upon the minutes.

On motion the bill of Fred Bossett for $11.50 was referred to the clerk.

On motion the bill of W. E. Little for $8.20 was referred to Engineer Philcox.

The Mayor made the following Committee appointments and on motion the same were confirmed.

Street committee: Edw. F. McCarthy, Prebbanow and Bamberg.

Water works committee: Prebbanow, Calkins and Piekpe.

The City Treasurer's report for the month of October was presented and on motion ordered filed and spread upon the minutes.

On motion the bill of Fred Bossett for $11.50 was referred to the clerk.

On motion the bill of W. E. Little for $8.20 was referred to Engineer Philcox.

The Mayor made the following Committee appointments and on motion the same were confirmed.

Street committee: Edw. F. McCarthy, Prebbanow and Bamberg.

Water works committee: Prebbanow, Calkins and Piekpe.

The City Treasurer's report for the month of October was presented and on motion ordered filed and spread upon the minutes.

On motion the bill of Fred Bossett for $11.50 was referred to the clerk.

On motion the bill of W. E. Little for $8.20 was referred to Engineer Philcox.

The Mayor made the following Committee appointments and on motion the same were confirmed.

Street committee: Edw. F. McCarthy, Prebbanow and Bamberg.

Water works committee: Prebbanow, Calkins and Piekpe.

The City Treasurer's report for the month of October was presented and on motion ordered filed and spread upon the minutes.

On motion the bill of Fred Bossett for $11.50 was referred to the clerk.

On motion the bill of W. E. Little for $8.20 was referred to Engineer Philcox.

The Mayor made the following Committee appointments and on motion the same were confirmed.

Street committee: Edw. F. McCarthy, Prebbanow and Bamberg.

Water works committee: Prebbanow, Calkins and Piekpe.

The City Treasurer's report for the month of October was presented and on motion ordered filed and spread upon the minutes.

SIGEL.

Miss Anna Quist of Milladore is a guest at the E. Kronholm home.

Mrs. Victor Kronholm of Hancock, Wis., is visiting relatives and friends here.

Mrs. John Hills of Vesper, Mr. and Mrs. John M. Worlund of Grand Rapids were callers here on Wednesday.

Carl Hollstrum who is employed at Grand Rapids Sunday with friends here.

David Anderson and Robert Heden are home from Cranmoor where they have been employed the past five weeks.

Mrs. Robert Weeks and son Russell are visiting at the J. Larson home for a few days.

Lars Felt is on the sick list.

John Quist departed for his home at Chicago, Ill., on Sunday after an extended visit with relatives here and at Madison.

Mrs. C. Bernicke of Everett, Minn., arrived here last week and will visit at the C. Carlson home for an indefinite time.

Mrs. B. Crunsted and son Eric of your city visited at the Willie Crunsted home here on Wednesday.

Mr. and Mrs. A. W. Wadland and son Stanley of Grand Rapids are spending the week at the G. Anderson home.

Mr. and Mrs. O. Hollstrum entertained a large number of friends for luncheon on Wednesday.

Ernest Anderson and Robert Heden left on Thursday for Grand Rapids where they will seek employment.

Mr. Carlin of Vesper was a business caller here on Thursday.

NEKOOSA.

A very quiet, unpretentious wedding occurred at eight o'clock on Saturday evening, November 8, 1913, at the home of Mr. and Mrs. J. E. Gazeley.

The contracting parties are L. A. Good, junior member of the Wood County Times establishment, and Miss Grace Bishie, sister of Mrs. Gazeley.

Rev. E. S. Gilbert performing the ceremony. There were no invited guests whatever, only the closest relatives of the bride and groom, the minister and his little daughter, being present.

The new safe for the Nekoosa State Bank arrived Friday and was placed in the vault Saturday. Work on the interior of the building, plating counters, desks, furniture in general, and also varnishing woodwork, etc., is almost completed, and everything will be ready for the transaction of business before many days have elapsed.

Mrs. Lacy Horton and daughter Margaret, of Grand Rapids spent a few days in Nekoosa last week, the guests of her brothers, Mr. and Mrs. F. H. Richmond.

Mr. Art Mulroy of Grand Rapids visited here recently. Mr. and Mrs. John Gallagan, of Nekoosa from Wednesday until Saturday.

WANT COLUMN

FOR RENT—Four nice rooms for housekeeping in my home. 506 9th Ave. S. Down stairs rooms. 31p.

HOUSE TO RENT—7 rooms, city water. No. 379 4th Ave. S. West side. $10.00 per month. P. J. McKinnon.

FOR SALE—Registered Holstein bull 3 years old. Breeding of the very best. J. J. Lucy, R. D. No. 1. 21p.

HOUSE FOR RENT—1930 Washington Ave. Inquire of Peter Schuetz, R. 5, Grand Rapids, Wis. 11p.

FOR SALE—Cattle and horses for sale. Also want to let the horses out on board to respond to parties. Also in need of a few more of Ginsburg.

FOR RENT—House on 8th avenue. Inquire of Mrs. G. Corvieu 21, 3rd Ave. N. 21p.

FOR SALE—Hard coal stove, cheap. Inquire of P. E. Ames.

FOR RENT—House, at $7 per month. Inquire of Joseph R. Rieck.

LOST—Chain and pocket, photo inside. Finder leave at this office.

WANTED—15 cords of hard maple wood. Apply to Edward Pomainville, the Fire Insurance Man. 21.

ORSON P. COCHRAN

PIANO TUNER
Best of work guaranteed. Call telephone 233 or at the house 447 Third avenue north.

Kellner Coal Co.

Coal and Wood
Don't Forget US when you need anything in the line of fuel
Telephone 305

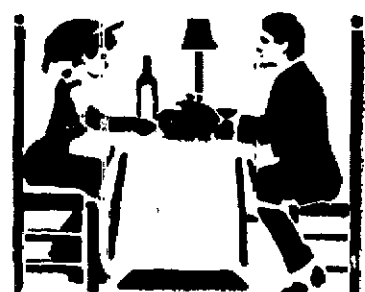

Warnings! Hints! Reminders on A Burning Subject!

OUR Coal Wagons
Traverse the High-Ways and By-Ways of Grand Rapids

No Street Too Good, No Alley or Lane Too Poor For Us To Navigate!
We Get There with the Best of COAL

BOSSERT COAL CO.

Phone 416 Residence 54

That delicious baking you so much enjoy at good restaurants is within your reach at home if you will use Victoria Flour.

Where Victoria Flour is used the results are always uniformly excellent because it is always of a uniform high standard of excellence.

Would you try a sack of Victoria Flour next time and be convinced?

Grand Rapids Milling Co.

AN ELECTRICAL THANKSGIVING
should be your program this year. Cook the turkey with an electric stove. Illuminate your house with electric lights. Summarize your waiting guests with an electric bell. Make your wife really thankful by having us supply her with these labor saving, dirt saving, small saving electrical conveniences. The cost is not great.

Stanh's Electric Shop

127 First St. N. East side

LOCAL ITEMS.

Ed. Kruger of Crammour was in the city on Monday looking after some business matters.

Mrs. Nick Reiland has returned from a brief visit at the home of her parents, at Appleton.

Peter Reiland was confined to his home several days the past week with an attack of the grippe.

Mr. and Mrs. E. C. Smith have been visiting with relatives and friends in Necedah the past week.

Mr. and Mrs. Martin Zuege have returned from a visit at the Martin and Wm. Witt homes in Almond.

Bob Monahan was sentenced to ten days in jail last Thursday, having been arrested in an intoxicated condition.

Mr. and Mrs. Miles Foster of La-Grande, Oregon, are in the city visiting at the home of Mrs. Foster's parents.

The John Schnabel home is quarantined with smallpox, Carolyn, their youngest daughter, being ill with a light attack.

Mrs. Archie McMillan has been sick for several days past with stomach trouble, but is considerably better at this writing.

Mr. and Mrs. Hugh Goggin returned on Friday evening from their wedding tour and have gone to house-keeping in this city.

The home of John Bell on the east side is in quarantine on account of the boys in the family having a light attack of smallpox.

Mrs. Mary McGraw of Ripon has been a guest at the home of her brother, Chief of Police James Gibson from Saturday until today.

Messrs. Jake Lutz, Fred Miller and Frank Westfall returned on Saturday from their deer hunt near Bland. They each brought home a fine deer.

Capt. Harry A. Johnson of Sturgeon Bay arrived in the city recently to spend a few months at the home of his grandson, Rev. H. B. Johnson.

Mr. and Mrs. B. P. Clinton of Crammour were in the city on Monday looking after some business matters. The Tribune acknowledges a pleasant call from Mr. Clinton.

Miss Grace Goggin, who is attending the Stevens Point Normal, spent several days in the city last week, having come over to attend the wedding of her brother, Hugh.

Ernest F. Oberbeck, who has been cashier at the Soo depot for some time past, has resigned his position to accept a similar place with the American Express company at Rockford, Ill.

John Jung, the west side printer has been confined to his home the past week with an abscess in his head and one in the right ear. Mr. Jung is now able to be at his store, but suffered considerable pain for several days.

Miss Mabel Olson of City Point has entered the Grand Rapids Business college to finish her course in stenography. Miss Olson is making her home with Mr. and Mrs. Louis Amundson, she being a niece of Mr. Amundson.

T. H. Thornton, who has been in the Soo depot here for the past five years, has been transferred to Cydonia, where he will have charge of the station. Mr. Thornton's many friends here will be pleased to hear of his promotion.

W. H. Schmidt of the town of Rudolph was among the pleasant callers at the Tribune office on Monday. Mr. Schmidt is one of the recent settlers in Rudolph, having located on a farm there. Mr. Schmidt was formerly engaged in the cigar making business in Chicago, but found his health failing so decided to try country life. He reports himself much pleased with the change and says he is feeling much better already.

A story is told of a married lady who compared her husband to a handsome kerosene lamp that he had presented her. Her husband felt quite flattered until she mentioned the particulars of the resemblance. "Well," she said, "my dear, you know it is a handsome deal of brass about it, it is handsome to look at; it is not remarkably brilliant, requires a good deal of attention, liable to explode when half full, rages up occasionally, is always out at bed time, and is bound to smoke."—Cashier Record.

The Times at Marshfield has installed an Intertype type setting machine during the past week. The Intertype is a machine much like the Linotype, the same as has been used in this office during the past year, and will no doubt prove a great convenience in that office, as the old fashioned method of setting type by hand is a little slow in this age of haste and hurry. Just an ordinary sort of a machine operator will set as much type on a machine as six men can do by hand, and this only explains a part of the flexibility of the machine, as it has many other advantages besides this.

Marshfield News—Miss Margaret Leahy, daughter of M. A. Leahy of this city, was united in marriage to Cleve Akey of Grand Rapids in St. John's Catholic church at 8 o'clock yesterday forenoon. Father Volz performing the ceremony. Miss Lucile Quinn of Madison, a cousin of the bride, was the bridesmaid, and Earl Leahy, the bride's brother, served as best man. A wedding breakfast was served at the bride's home. Later in the day the bridal couple left on a wedding trip. Mr. and Mrs. Akey will make their home in Grand Rapids, where he conducts a restaurant.

Mrs. F. P. Daly expects another carload of pianos about the 20th of this month. They will be from the famous Case company, and as this is about the time of year to begin to look up a Christmas present, it might be a good thing for anybody who has any thing of this sort on their mind to go around and see Mrs. Daly about the matter. There is nothing nicer for a Christmas present than a piano, as it will please every member of the household. It will not cost a cent to investigate the matter. Terms and prices will be right.

The Town You Live In.
Think well of it. Stand up for it. Speak in its favor. Patronize its merchants. Encourage its industries. Cheer every live enterprise. Hurrah for the enthusiastic. See all that is beautiful in it. Chan' praises to the good it possesses. Sing of its wonders, you'll find it has some. Praise it and lead it if you wish thrift to come. Welcome improvements, stagnation's a sin. Love it, stick to it,—the town you live in.

Miss Helen Knoll has accepted a position as saleslady in Cohen Bros. department store.

Mr. and Mrs. E. B. Redford spent Saturday and Sunday in Milwaukee visiting with friends.

O. Voyer, one of the old residents of Junction City, was in the city Friday visiting with friends.

Mrs. J. E. Granger left on Thursday for Whitehall, where she will visit her daughter for some time.

Victor Thompson and Howard Mullen were in Oshkosh on Saturday to attend the football game.

Nels Sande of Stoughton was a guest at the Julius Nelson home on the west side the past week.

Mrs. J. W. Cochran expects to spend the winter at Babcock. She will be accompanied by her sons Will and Orson.

Messdames Nic Streveler and Hugh Miscoil of Halder, were guests at the home of their sister Mrs. Arthur Siciles on Saturday and Sunday.

Francis Bender of Black Creek spent several days here the past week visiting with his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Chas. Bender in the town of Seneca.

LOST—A dog, October 16, from near Pray. Sorrel with white spots, white face and white feet. Alex Lone-tree, Pray Wis., or notify Tribune office.

Taking Spinal adjustments will remove the cause of your aches and pains, and allows you ease from disease. Consult F. T. Hoff, the Chiropractor over Day's Drug Store.

B. E. Walters, publisher of the Madison Times, was among the pleasant callers at the Tribune office on Thursday. Mr. and Mrs. Walters were on their way home from Pittsville, where they had spent a day.

Prof. M. H. Jackson was in Stevens Point Thursday evening where he addressed the business men's club, talking as his subject, "Nationalities." The papers over there spoke very highly of Mr. Jackson's speech.

Mrs. Tony Wiershem of Danbury, Burnett county, and Mrs. Simon Crotteau of Rudolph were among the pleasant callers at the Tribune office on Monday. Mrs. Wiershem has been visiting her mother at Rudolph and also relatives at Dexterville and Pittsville for a week past.

The Stevens Point Normal school is seeking to establish a Students' Loan Fund from which worthy young men and women may borrow money with which to help themselves through a course in the Normal school, paying back to the fund the amount borrowed with a low rate of interest when they have gone out to teach after securing their training at this state institution.

W. S. Powell, who has been located in Bayfield county, where he is operating a fruit farm, spent a couple of days in the city this week looking after some business matters. Mr. Powell has been up in that country for six years now, and is enthusiastic concerning the prospects there from a fruit raising viewpoint. While they have lots of snow in the winter, the weather does not get so cold there as it does here, and the consequence is that they have been meeting with good success.

Recently the government held a land lottery in western Nebraska. Ten times as many people went there as there was land for. The cost was probably at least $50 each or five hundred dollars for each piece of land secured. This would buy forty acres in Wisconsin, and that forty would be worth more than a homestead on the plains. This recalls Henry Wallace's story of the Irishman home-coming, who said: "O' your good Uncle Sam doesn't give you the land; he just lets you the land against the thing fee that you can't make a living on it."—Colby Phonograph.

Mr. and Mrs. Fred Nass and Nettie Kluge who have been living at Monroeville, Washington, have returned to Grand Rapids to reside.

Mr. and Mrs. B. S. Fox of Meehan were business visitors in the city on Tuesday. The Tribune acknowledges a pleasant call from Mr. Fox.

Earl Palmer of Fond du Lac spent several days in the city the first of the week visiting with friends and relatives. Earl is taking a vacation from his duties as brakeman on the Soo railway.

Rev. C. A. Mellicke returned on Saturday from Ladysmith with a large deer which he killed the first day of the season after being in the woods a little over one hour. Herman Munroe of Kellner and Max Eberhardt of this city who were also in the party expect to remain until the latter part of this week before returning home.

—Did you ever see the fog rise up from an old marsh or slough? We say to you now it's actually nothing compared to the fog that rises up from sore, sweaty tired feet. But you can cure the feet with Barker's Antiseptic. For sale by Johnson & Hiji Co. 4t

A meat dealer in Oshkosh has inaugurated a system that ought to work very well. He owns two markets not far distant from each other. In the one he is going to sell for cash and will make no deliveries. Customers must call for their meat, pay for it and take it with them. In the other he will sell the same as other markets give credit to those he feels are good and will make deliveries to any part of the city. This experiment will be watched by butchers all over the state and it will be interesting to note whether or he will keep both markets open or close one or the other after he has given both a fair trial.—The Antigo Daily Journal.

In speaking of the roller towel, and mildly mourning its departure, the Washington Post thus glances off onto a related theme: "It was in the days, too, when the other boys took turns waiting to play Reddy Jones new month organ, and the little girls traded off chewing gum and had community stave pencils, the ends of which they chewed in common. Also the days when all were equal; when the cook sat down with the family, and when if the hired man disagreed with his employer, he made no bones of telling him so in the most emphatic manner, but the old man-leveling, insubordinate methods must go. It's best of course, and when we think of the risks we ran from germs and the like, the only wonder is that we haven't all been dead for a quarter of a century or so."—Madison Democrat.

Episcopalians Have Up-to-date Prayer
Were you looking over a list of prayers to find one fitted for present day use, what would you think of one that incorporated these applications? "From the sins that divide us, from all class bitterness and hatred, from forgetfulness of Thee and indifference to our fellowmen, good Lord, deliver us."

"From the fear of unemployment, from greed and the arbitrary love of power, good Lord, deliver us."

"From the fear of unemployment and the evils of overwork from the curse of child labor and the ill paid toll of women, good Lord, deliver us."

"That the labor movement may be confirmed in disinterested honor and the employers of labor may fashion their dealings according to the laws of equity, we beseech Thee to hear us, good Lord."

This is not the prayer of a professional politician on the stump. It was recently used in a New York Episcopal church. And, after all, is there anything in Holy Writ to which this practical prayer of the times is abhorrent?—LeCrosse Tribune.

Miss Ida Jacobson of the town of Sigol was quite painfully injured on Saturday evening by being thrown from a wheel-chair. She sustained a bad cut on the side of the face and was rendered unconscious by her impact with the road, but after her injuries had been looked after by a surgeon has since been getting along all right.

SCHOOL BOARD PROCEEDINGS.
Lincoln Building, Grand Rapids, Wis., November 16, 1913.

Regular meeting of the Board of Education was called to order by President I. P. Witter at 7:45 p. m.

The following Commissioners were present: Hill, Reeves, Seals, Witter, Kellogg, Rowland, Babcock, Paulus, Horton, Johnson, and Hatch; (11). Absent Commissioners Ragan, Bein, Nash, Mellicke and Natwick; (5).

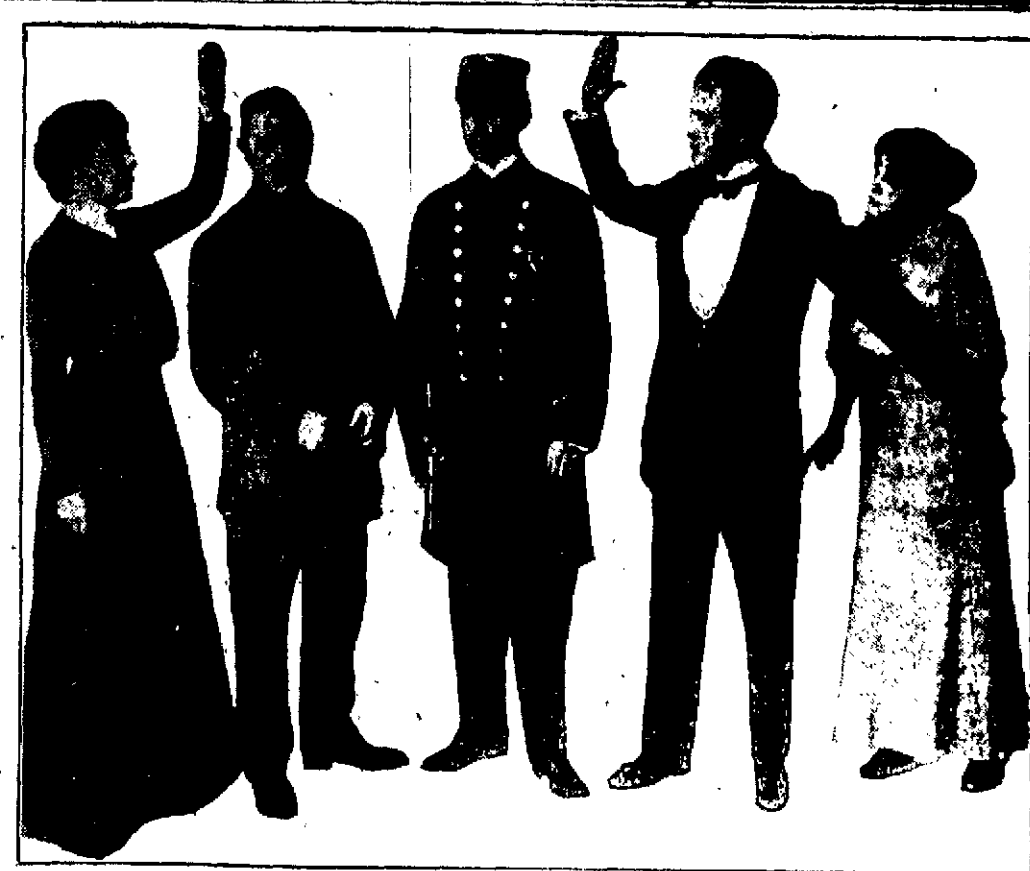

It was moved and carried that the reading of the minutes of the regular meeting of October 13, 1913, be dispensed with.

By unanimous consent, the regular order of business was dispensed with, and Mr. Hauser of the firm of Alban & Hauser, St. Paul architects, was given a hearing concerning the construction of a suitable ward school north of the St. Paul tracks, West Side. The matter presented by Mr. Hauser was, on motion, referred to the proper committee.

The following bills were, on motion, allowed and ordered paid:
Chas. W. Minard $ 1.62
Wood County Telephone Co. 9.06
November rentals 3.60
Dr. Frank Pomainville tongue and sinuses 11.70
J. W. Natwick, supplies 5.05
Wood County Drug Store supplies 5.05
J. R. Ragan, permanent furnishings 78.00
Wood County Reporter, printing proceedings 5.40
Electric & Water Co., Oct. lights and power 32.67
W. M. Welch Mfg. Co. apparatus 41.37
Robert Brand & Sons Co., permanent furnishings 22.00
Wisconsin Valley Leader printing 21.55
Grand Rapids Tribune Supplies Farquhar & Albrecht Co. received books 6.90
Clayton E. Ramsey Co. Glee Club music 4.58
Am. Ex. Co. Oct. Express 1.00
Sam Church school supplies 27.50
Grand Rapids School Supply Co. kindergartens and drawing supplies 121.91
MacMillan Co. history and commercial reference books 14.82
Louis Schroeder grade supply material 2.49
Associated Mfg. Co. baskets and sweeping compound 27.00
W. H. Wright repairing 2.65
J. A. Stahl supplies 4.10
Consolidated W. P. & P. Co. Co. engineer's supplies 17.10
J. E. Farley repairs and plumbing 17.10
Slowert & Edwards, Dom. Sc. supplies 12.62
The First National Bank, Oct. interest 81.11
G. R. Foundry Co. repairs 59.74
R. L. Nash, 100 stamped envelopes 21.24
W. H. Burehett, freight and drayage 10.31
Wm. P. Hines plumbing 1.00
D. M. Huntington, repairs and supplies 6.55
Nash Hdw. Co. engineer's supplies 1.75
E. W. Ellis Lumber Co. edgings 12.00
Mrs. G. S. Beardsley, Dom. Sc. supplies 10.38
Johnson & Hill Co. supplies 49.58
A bill from W. F. Noltner for over time was on motion disallowed.

The resignation of Miss Agnes McCormick as a teacher was accepted and Miss Grace Morgan of Amherst was engaged to fill the vacancy at $55.00 per month.

Motion to adjourn was then carried. (Signed) I. P. Witter, President. C. W. Schwede, Clerk of Board of Education.

Scene from "The Deep Purple," Daly's Theatre, Thursday, Nov. 20. Strictly first class Dramatic Production. Prices 50-75-81.

His One Fault.

There was a man
Of history said
Whose every plan
Went to the bad.
He did not drink,
He did not swear,
Nor shyly wink
At sirens fair,
Ideals high
He would reveal,
He could not lie,
He did not steal.
His worth you'd vow
Was something strong,
And yet, somehow,
His luck went wrong.
The hoped-for bliss
He'd never clutch.
His fault was this—
He talked too much.
—Washington Star.

"As Close As The Next Second."

A character that offers delightful opportunities to the actor in fact a character, that despite its fidelity to life might have been drawn by Dickens, is the usually "top" Drake in "The Deep Purple," the successful croak-drama that comes to Daly's Theatre Thursday, Nov. 20.

The character is utterly despicable in its last analysis with the crawling violence of a parasite he unites parsimony and abject cowardice. The retired shop-lifter in the play remarks to him, "Your mother must have been a bit of a fool to let you be born."

Yet with all his pettiness there is a awfully fond of children to raise you! something so drill in him to make him actually likeable.

The resignation of Miss Agnes McCormick as a teacher was accepted and Miss Grace Morgan of Amherst was engaged to fill the vacancy at $55.00 per month.

Motion to adjourn was then carried. (Signed) I. P. Witter, President. C. W. Schwede, Clerk of Board of Education.

Your Business

with this bank is always confidential. No information regarding your affairs is ever given to any one unless you request it. Small accounts are given the same careful attention as large ones. Call often.

First National Bank,

Grand Rapids, Wis.

The Bank that does things for you.

THANKSGIVING Linen & Cloak Sale

120 pairs Embroidered Pillow Cases, made on special heavy muslin, very special, per pair 89c

We advise getting them now and laying them aside for gifts.

LINEN SALE

This is the second week of the Linen Sale

DRESS GOODS SALE

Many very special bargains are to be had in Dress Goods. They show you a saving of close to half price.

COAT BARGAINS

Every coat in stock is offered at greatly reduced prices. Ladies' coats, Misses' coats, Children's coats and 89c blankets, special 65c extra large ladies' coats at cut prices.

Furs for Women and Children, most complete assortment and good values in sets or muffs.

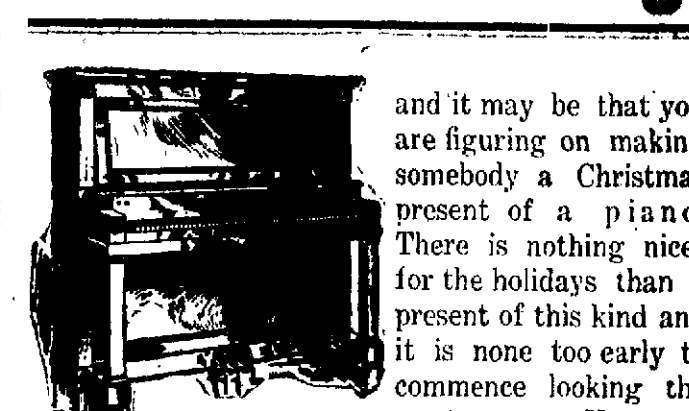

Plush, Caricule and Ural Lamb Muffs for ladies and children from 85c to $5.50

Petticoats, the popular Green and Nel Rose at 1.00, 1.49 and 1.75

Kimonas and Bath Robes, large line, at popular prices

W. C. Weisel

Christmas is Coming!

and it may be that you are figuring on making somebody a Christmas present of a piano. There is nothing nicer for the holidays than a present of this kind and it is none too early to commence looking the matter up. You cannot always decide just what you want in a minute, and there is nothing like having a good assortment to select from. We expect a to arrive here about the 20th of the month, and that will be an excellent chance for you to pick out something that pleases you.

Carload of New Pianos

Come in and Let Us Show You.

MRS. F. P. DALY,

Grand Rapids, Wisconsin.

A SUIT MADE FROM FABRIC AND PATTERN

which pleases and suits you

After a Style Model of Your Selection and to your own measurements.

IS DISTINCTIVE

Representing Your Taste, and to some extent, Your Character.

Let Us make You a Distinctive Suit.

Yours Truly,

LELOFF, The Tailor,

Maker of Guaranteed Clothes

Grand Ave., West Side, Grand Rapids, Wisconsin.

Come Quick If You Want Them.

We have decided to institute what will hereafter be known as our annual Clearance Sale. In a lumber yard, in the course of a year's business, there accumulates a lot of odds and ends of stock—boards, piece stuff, lath, shingles and other items incident to the lumber business.

Before replenishing our general stock, we want to get rid of all these "short lines," and in order to move them in a hurry, will price them so attractively that it will pay a man to buy now, whether he is quite ready to use the material, or not.

During this clean up sale everything is bargain priced. So come quick.

W. A. Marling Lumber Co.

WANT COLUMN

FOR RENT—Four nice rooms for housekeeping in my home at 506 9th Ave. S. Down stairs rooms. 3tp.

HOUSE TO RENT—7 rooms, city water, No. 875 4th Ave. N. West side. $10.00 per month. F. MacKinnon.

FOR SALE—Registered Holstein bull, 3 years old. Breeding of the very best. J. J. Lucy, R. D. No. 1, City. 3tp.

HOUSE FOR RENT—1080 Washington Ave. Inquire of Peter Schuetz, R. 5, Grand Rapids, Wis. 1tp.

FOR SALE—Cattle and horses for sale. Also will let the horses out on board to responsible parties. Also lumber for sale. Inquire of Ginsburg.

FOR RENT—House on 8th Avenue Inquire of Mrs. C. J. Corvieve 21, 3rd Ave. N. 2tp.

FOR SALE—Hard coal stove, cheap. Inquire of E. E. Ames.

FOR RENT—House at $7 per month. Inquire of Joseph A. J. 3tp.

LOST—Chain and lockset, photo inside. Finder leave at this office.

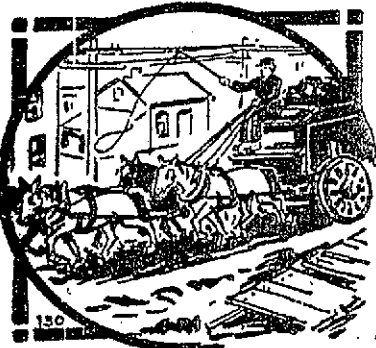

WANTED—15 cords of hard maple wood. Apply to Edward Pommerville, the Fire Insurance Man. 3t.

ORSON P. COCHRAN

PIANO TUNER
Best of work guaranteed. Call telephone 233 or at the house 447 Third Avenue North.

Kellner Coal Co.

Coal and Wood
Don't Forget US when you need anything in the line of fuel
Telephone 305

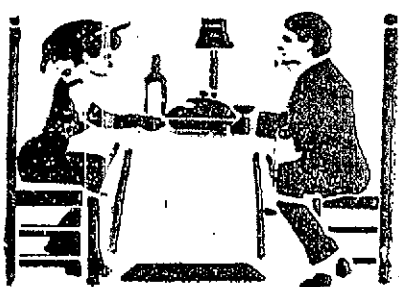

Warnings! Hints! Reminders on A Burning Subject!

OUR Coal Wagons

Traverse the High-Ways and By-Ways of Grand Rapids
No Street Too Good, No Alley or Lane Too Poor For Us To Navigate!
We Get There with the Best COAL

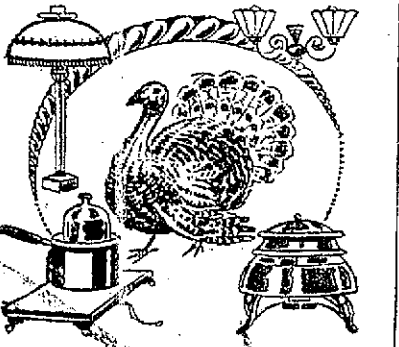

BOSSERT COAL CO.

Phone 416 Residence 54

That delicious baking you so much enjoy at good restaurants is within your reach at home if you will use Victoria Flour.
Where Victoria Flour is used the results are always uniformly excellent because it is always of a uniform high standard of excellence.
Would you try a sack of Victoria Flour next time and be convinced?

Grand Rapids Milling Co.

AN ELECTRICAL THANKSGIVING
Should be your program this year. Cook the turkey with an electric stove. Illuminate your house with electric lights. Summon your waiting guests with an electric bell. Make your wife really thankful by having us supply her with these labor saving, dirt saving, small saving electrical conveniences. The cost is not great.

Staub's Electric Shop

127 First St. N. East side

LOCAL ITEMS.

Ed. Kruger of Cranmoor was in the city on Monday looking after some business matters.

Mrs. Nick Reiland has returned from a brief visit at the home of her parents, at Appleton.

Peter Reiland was confined to his home several days the past week with an attack of the grippe.

Mr. and Mrs. E. C. Smith have been visiting with relatives and friends in Necedah the past week.

Mr. and Mrs. Martin Zuege have returned from a visit at the Martin and Wm. Witt homes in Almond.

Bob Monahan was sentenced to ten days in jail last Thursday, having been arrested in an intoxicated condition.

Mr. and Mrs. Miles Foster of LaGrande, Oregon, are in the city visiting at the home of Mrs. Foster's parents.

The John Schnabel home is quarantined with smallpox, Carolyn, their youngest daughter, being ill with a light attack.

Mrs. Archie McMillan has been sick for several days past with stomach trouble, but is considerably better at this writing.

Mr. and Mrs. Hugh Goggins returned on Friday evening from their wedding tour and have gone to housekeeping in this city.

The home of John Bell on the east side is in quarantine on account of the boys in the family having a light attack of smallpox.

Mrs. Mary McGregor of Ripon has been a guest at the home of her brother Chief of Police James Gibson from Saturday until today.

Messrs. Jake Lutz, Fred Miller and Frank Westfall returned on Saturday from their deer hunt near Elmdale. They each brought home a fine deer.

Capt. Harry A. Johnson of Sturgeon Bay arrived in the city recently to spend a few months at the home of his grandson, Rev. H. B. Johnson.

Mr. and Mrs. B. P. Clinton of Cranmoor were in the city on Monday looking after some business matters. The Tribune acknowledges a pleasant call from Mr. Clinton.

Miss Grace Goggins, who is attending the Stevens Point Normal, spent several days in the city last week, having come over to attend the wedding of her brother Hugh.

Ernest F. Oberbeck, who has been cashier at the Soo depot for some time, has resigned his position to accompany his wife to the American Express company at Rockford, Ill.

John Jung, the west side painter has been confined to his home the past week with an abscess in his head and one in the right ear. Mr. Jung is now able to be at his work, but suffered considerable pain for several days.

Miss Mabel Olson of City Point has entered the Grand Rapids Business college to finish her course in stenography. Miss Olson is making her home with Mr. and Mrs. Louis Arundson, she being a niece of Mr. Arundson.

T. H. Thornton, who has been in the Soo depot here for the past nine years, has been transferred to Cylon, where he will have charge of the station. Mr. Thornton's many friends here will be pleased to hear of his promotion.

W. H. Schmidt of the town of Rudolph was among the pleasant callers at the Tribune office on Monday. Mr. Schmidt is one of the recent settlers in Rudolph, having located on a farm there. Mr. Schmidt was formerly engaged in the cigar making business in Chicago, but found his health failing so decided to try country life. He reports himself much pleased with the change and says he is feeling much better already.

A story is told of a married lady who compared her husband to a handsome kerosene lamp that he had presented her. "I've had him for quite a while," she mentioned, "the particulars of the resemblance. 'Well,' she said, 'my dear, you know it has a good deal of brass about it. It is handsome to look at; it is not remarkably brilliant, requires a good deal of attention, liable to explode when half full, flares up occasionally, is always out at bed time, and is bound to smoke.'"

The Times at Marshfield has installed an Intertype type setting machine during the past week. The Intertype is a machine much like the Linotype, the same has been used in this office during the past year, and will no doubt prove a great convenience in that office, as the old fashioned method of setting type by hand is a trifle slow in this age of haste and hurry. Just an ordinary sort of a machine and will set as much type on a machine as six men can do by hand, and this only explains a part of the flexibility of the machine, as it has many other advantages besides this.

Marshfield News: Miss Margaret Leahy, daughter of M. A. Leahy of this city, was united in marriage to Cleve Akey of Grand Rapids at St. John's Catholic church at 8 o'clock yesterday forenoon. Father Volz performing the ceremony. Miss Lucille Quinn of Madison, a cousin of the bride, was the bridesmaid, and Earl Leahy, the bride's brother, served as best man. A wedding breakfast was served at the bride's home. Later in the day the bridal couple left on a wedding trip. Mr. and Mrs. Akey will make their home in Grand Rapids, where he conducts a restaurant.

Mrs. F. P. Daly expects another carload of pianos about the 20th of this month. They will be from the famous Carload company, and as this is about the time of year to begin to look up a Christmas present, it might be a good thing for anybody who has anything of this sort on their mind to go around and see Mrs. F. P. Daly about the matter. There is nothing nicer for a Christmas present than a piano, as it will please every member of the household. It will not cost a cent to investigate the matter. Terms and prices will be right.

Think well of it. Stand up for it. Speak in its favor. Patronize its merchants. Encourage its industries. Cheer every live enterprise. Hurrah for the enthusiastic. See all that is beautiful in it. Chant praises to the good it possesses. Sing of its wonders, you'll find it has some.

Praise it and laud it if you wish to come. Welcome improvements, stagnation's sin. Love it, stick to it, the town you live in.

Miss Helen Knoll has accepted a position as saleslady in Cohen Bros. department store.

Mr. and Mrs. E. B. Redford spent Saturday and Sunday in Milwaukee visiting with friends.

O. Voyer, one of the old residents of Junction City, was in the city Friday visiting with friends.

Mrs. J. E. Granger left on Thursday for Whitehall, where she will visit her daughter for some time.

Victor Thompson and Howard Mullen were in Oshkosh on Saturday to attend the football game.

Nels Sande of Stoughton was a guest at the Julius Nelson home on the west side the past week.

Mrs. J. W. Cochran expects to spend the winter at Babcock. She will be accompanied by her sons Will and Orson.

Mrs. N. C. Streveler and Hugh Miscoil of Halder, were guests at the home of their sister Mrs. Arthur Stokles on Saturday and Sunday.

Francis Bender of Black Creek spent several days here the past week visiting with his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Chas. Bender in the town of Seneca.

LOST—A pony, October 10, from near Pray. Sorrel with white spots, white face and white hind feet. Alex. Lone-tree, Pray Wis., or notify Tribune office.

—Taking Spinal adjustments will remove the cause of your aches and pains, and allows you ease from disease. Consult F. T. Hoff, the Chiropractor over Daly's Drug Store.

E. E. Walters, publisher of the Wisconsin Times was among the pleasant callers at the Tribune office on Thursday. Mr. and Mrs. Walters were on their way home from Pittsville, where they had spent a day.

Prof. M. H. Jackson was in Stevens Point Thursday evening where he addressed the business men's club, taking as his subject, "Nationalities." The papers over there spoke very highly of Mr. Jackson's speech.

Mrs. Tony Wiersma of Danbury, Burnett county, and Mrs. Simeon Crofteau of Rudolph were among the pleasant callers at the Tribune office on Monday. Mrs. Wiersma has been visiting her mother at Rudolph and also relatives at Dexterville and Pittsville for a week past.

The Stevens Point Normal school is seeking to establish a Students' Loan Fund from which worthy young men and women may borrow money with which to help themselves through a course in the Normal school, paying back to the fund the amount borrowed with a low rate of interest when they have gone out to teach at this state institution.

W. S. Powell, who has been located in Bayfield county, where he is operating a fruit farm, spent a couple of days in the city this week looking after some business matters. Mr. Powell has been up in that country for six years now, and is enthusiastic concerning the prospects there from a fruit raising viewpoint. While they have lots of snow in the winter, the weather does not get as cold there as it does here, and the consequence is that they have been meeting with good success.

Recently, the government held a land lottery in western Nebraska. Ten times as many people went there as there was land for. The cost was probably at least $50 each or five hundred dollars for each piece of land secured. This would buy forty acres in Wisconsin, and that forty would be worth more than a homestead on the plains. This recalls Henry Wallace's story of the Irishman home-seeker, who said: "Your good Uncle Sam doesn't give you the land; he just lets you the land against the filing fee that you can't make a living on it."—Colby Phonograph.

Episcopalians Have Up-to-date Prayer
Were you looking over a list of prayers to find one fitted for present day use, what would you think of one that incorporated these supplications: "From the sins that divide us, from all class bitterness and hatred, from forgetfulness of Thee and indifference to our fellowmen, good Lord, deliver us."

"From the fear of unemployment, chise and civil government, from greed and the arbitrary love of power, good Lord, deliver us."

"From the fear of unemployment, and the evils of overwork from the curse of child labor and the ill paid toil of women, good Lord, deliver us."

"That the labor movement may be confirmed in disinterested honor and the employers of labor may fashion their dealings according to the laws of equity, we beseech Thee to hear us, good Lord."

This is not the prayer of a professional politician on the stump. It was recently used in a New York Episcopal church. And, after all, is there anything in Holy Writ to which this practical prayer of the times is abhorrent?—LaCrosse Tribune.

Mr. and Mrs. Fred Nass and Nettie Kluge who have been living at Monroe, Washington, have returned to Grand Rapids to reside.

Mr. and Mrs. B. S. Fox of Meehan were business visitors in the city on Tuesday. The Tribune acknowledges a pleasant call from Mr. Fox.

Earl Palmer of Fond du Lac spent several days in the city the first of the week visiting with friends and relatives. Earl is taking a vacation from his duties as brakeman on the Soo railway.

Rev. C. A. Mellicke returned on Saturday from Ladysmith with a large deer which he killed the first day of the season after being in the woods a little over one hour. Herman Munroe of Kellner and Max Eberhardt of this city who were also in the party expect to remain until the latter part of this week before returning home.

—Did you ever see the fog rise up from an old marsh or slough? We say to you now its actually nothing compared to the fog that rises up from sore, sweaty tired feet. But you can cure the feet with Barker's Antiseptic. For sale by Johnson & Hill Co. 4t.

A meat dealer in Oshkosh has inaugurated a system that ought to work very well. He owns two markets not far distant from each other. In the one he is going to sell for cash and will make no deliveries. Customers must call for their meat, pay for it and take it with them. In the other he will sell the same as other markets give credit to those he feels are good and will make deliveries to any part of the city. This experiment will be watched by butchers all over the state and it will be interesting to note whether he will keep both markets open or close one or the other after he has given both a fair trial.—The Antigo Daily Journal.

In speaking of the roller towel, and mildly mourning its departure, the Washington Post thus glances off onto a related theme: "It was in the days, too, when the other boys took turns waiting to play Reddy Jones' new, mouth organ, and the little girls traded chewing gum and had community slate pencils, the odds of which they chewed in common. Also the days when all were equal: when the cook sat down with the family, and when if the hired man disagreed with his employer, he made no bones of telling him so in the most emphatic manner. But the old man-leveling, 'in-sanity' methods must go. It's best of course. And when we think of the risks we ran from germs and the like, the only wonder is that we haven't all been dead for a quarter of a century or so."—Madison Democrat.

Episcopalians Have Up-to-date Prayer
Were you looking over a list of prayers to find one fitted for present day use, what would you think of one that incorporated these supplications: "From the sins that divide us, from all class bitterness and hatred, from forgetfulness of Thee and indifference to our fellowmen, good Lord, deliver us."

"From the fear of unemployment, chise and civil government, from greed and the arbitrary love of power, good Lord, deliver us."

"From the fear of unemployment, and the evils of overwork from the curse of child labor and the ill paid toil of women, good Lord, deliver us."

"That the labor movement may be confirmed in disinterested honor and the employers of labor may fashion their dealings according to the laws of equity, we beseech Thee to hear us, good Lord."

This is not the prayer of a professional politician on the stump. It was recently used in a New York Episcopal church. And, after all, is there anything in Holy Writ to which this practical prayer of the times is abhorrent?—LaCrosse Tribune.

Episcopalians Have Up-to-date Prayer
Were you looking over a list of prayers to find one fitted for present day use, what would you think of one that incorporated these supplications: "From the sins that divide us, from all class bitterness and hatred, from forgetfulness of Thee and indifference to our fellowmen, good Lord, deliver us."

"From the fear of unemployment, chise and civil government, from greed and the arbitrary love of power, good Lord, deliver us."

"From the fear of unemployment, and the evils of overwork from the curse of child labor and the ill paid toil of women, good Lord, deliver us."

"That the labor movement may be confirmed in disinterested honor and the employers of labor may fashion their dealings according to the laws of equity, we beseech Thee to hear us, good Lord."

This is not the prayer of a professional politician on the stump. It was recently used in a New York Episcopal church. And, after all, is there anything in Holy Writ to which this practical prayer of the times is abhorrent?—LaCrosse Tribune.

Episcopalians Have Up-to-date Prayer
Were you looking over a list of prayers to find one fitted for present day use, what would you think of one that incorporated these supplications: "From the sins that divide us, from all class bitterness and hatred, from forgetfulness of Thee and indifference to our fellowmen, good Lord, deliver us."

"From the fear of unemployment, chise and civil government, from greed and the arbitrary love of power, good Lord, deliver us."

"From the fear of unemployment, and the evils of overwork from the curse of child labor and the ill paid toil of women, good Lord, deliver us."

"That the labor movement may be confirmed in disinterested honor and the employers of labor may fashion their dealings according to the laws of equity, we beseech Thee to hear us, good Lord."

This is not the prayer of a professional politician on the stump. It was recently used in a New York Episcopal church. And, after all, is there anything in Holy Writ to which this practical prayer of the times is abhorrent?—LaCrosse Tribune.

Episcopalians Have Up-to-date Prayer
Were you looking over a list of prayers to find one fitted for present day use, what would you think of one that incorporated these supplications: "From the sins that divide us, from all class bitterness and hatred, from forgetfulness of Thee and indifference to our fellowmen, good Lord, deliver us."

"From the fear of unemployment, chise and civil government, from greed and the arbitrary love of power, good Lord, deliver us."

"From the fear of unemployment, and the evils of overwork from the curse of child labor and the ill paid toil of women, good Lord, deliver us."

"That the labor movement may be confirmed in disinterested honor and the employers of labor may fashion their dealings according to the laws of equity, we beseech Thee to hear us, good Lord."

This is not the prayer of a professional politician on the stump. It was recently used in a New York Episcopal church. And, after all, is there anything in Holy Writ to which this practical prayer of the times is abhorrent?—LaCrosse Tribune.

Episcopalians Have Up-to-date Prayer
Were you looking over a list of prayers to find one fitted for present day use, what would you think of one that incorporated these supplications: "From the sins that divide us, from all class bitterness and hatred, from forgetfulness of Thee and indifference to our fellowmen, good Lord, deliver us."

"From the fear of unemployment, chise and civil government, from greed and the arbitrary love of power, good Lord, deliver us."

"From the fear of unemployment, and the evils of overwork from the curse of child labor and the ill paid toil of women, good Lord, deliver us."

"That the labor movement may be confirmed in disinterested honor and the employers of labor may fashion their dealings according to the laws of equity, we beseech Thee to hear us, good Lord."

This is not the prayer of a professional politician on the stump. It was recently used in a New York Episcopal church. And, after all, is there anything in Holy Writ to which this practical prayer of the times is abhorrent?—LaCrosse Tribune.

Episcopalians Have Up-to-date Prayer
Were you looking over a list of prayers to find one fitted for present day use, what would you think of one that incorporated these supplications: "From the sins that divide us, from all class bitterness and hatred, from forgetfulness of Thee and indifference to our fellowmen, good Lord, deliver us."

"From the fear of unemployment, chise and civil government, from greed and the arbitrary love of power, good Lord, deliver us."

"From the fear of unemployment, and the evils of overwork from the curse of child labor and the ill paid toil of women, good Lord, deliver us."

"That the labor movement may be confirmed in disinterested honor and the employers of labor may fashion their dealings according to the laws of equity, we beseech Thee to hear us, good Lord."

This is not the prayer of a professional politician on the stump. It was recently used in a New York Episcopal church. And, after all, is there anything in Holy Writ to which this practical prayer of the times is abhorrent?—LaCrosse Tribune.

Episcopalians Have Up-to-date Prayer
Were you looking over a list of prayers to find one fitted for present day use, what would you think of one that incorporated these supplications: "From the sins that divide us, from all class bitterness and hatred, from forgetfulness of Thee and indifference to our fellowmen, good Lord, deliver us."

"From the fear of unemployment, chise and civil government, from greed and the arbitrary love of power, good Lord, deliver us."

"From the fear of unemployment, and the evils of overwork from the curse of child labor and the ill paid toil of women, good Lord, deliver us."

"That the labor movement may be confirmed in disinterested honor and the employers of labor may fashion their dealings according to the laws of equity, we beseech Thee to hear us, good Lord."

This is not the prayer of a professional politician on the stump. It was recently used in a New York Episcopal church. And, after all, is there anything in Holy Writ to which this practical prayer of the times is abhorrent?—LaCrosse Tribune.

Episcopalians Have Up-to-date Prayer
Were you looking over a list of prayers to find one fitted for present day use, what would you think of one that incorporated these supplications: "From the sins that divide us, from all class bitterness and hatred, from forgetfulness of Thee and indifference to our fellowmen, good Lord, deliver us."

"From the fear of unemployment, chise and civil government, from greed and the arbitrary love of power, good Lord, deliver us."

"From the fear of unemployment, and the evils of overwork from the curse of child labor and the ill paid toil of women, good Lord, deliver us."

Miss Ida Jacobson of the town of Sigel was quite painfully injured on Saturday evening by being thrown from a wheel-chair. She sustained a bad cut on the side of the face and was rendered unconscious by her impact with the road, but after her injuries had been looked after by a surgeon has since been getting along all right.

SCHOOL BOARD PROCEEDINGS.
—Lincoln Building, Grand Rapids, Wis., November 10, 1913.

Regular meeting of the Board of Education was called to order by President I. P. Witter at 7:45 p. m.

The following Commissioners were present: Hill, Reeves, Searls, Witter, Kellogg, Rowland, Babcock, Paulus, Horton, Johnson, and Hatch; (11). Absent Commissioners Ragan, Bein, Nash, Mellicke and Natwick, (5).

It was moved and carried that the reading of the minutes of the regular meeting of October 13, 1913, be dispensed with.

By unanimous consent, the regular order of business was dispensed with, and Mr. Hausler of the firm of Alban & Hausler, St. Paul architects, was given a hearing concerning the construction of a suitable ward school North of the St. Paul tracks, West Side. The matter presented by Mr. Hausler was, on motion, referred to the proper committee.

The following bills were, on motion, allowed and ordered paid:

Chas. W. Minard $ 1.62
Wood County Telephone Co. 9.00
November rentals 3.60
Dr. Frank Pommerville tongue and eye blades 3.60
J. W. Natwick, supplies 11.70
Wood County Drug Store supplies 5.05
J. R. Ragan, permanent furnishings 78.00
Wood County Reporter, printing proceedings 5.40
Electric & Water Co., Oct. lights and power 32.97
W. M. Welch Mfg. Co., apparatus and supplies 41.37
Robert Brand & Sons Co., permanent furnishings 32.00
Wisconsin Valley Leader printing 21.55
Grand Rapids Tribune Supplies 5.50
Farquhar & Albrecht Co., record books 6.00
Clayton F. Summy Co. Glee Club music 4.58
Am. Exp. Co. Oct. Express 1.00
Sam Church school supplies 27.80
Grand Rapids School Supply Co. kindergarten and drawing supplies 121.91
MacMillan Co. history and commercial reference books 14.82
Louis Schroeder grade supply material 2.49
Associated Mfg. Co. baskets and sweeping compound 27.30
W. H. Wright repairing 2.00
J. A. Staub supplies 9.65
Consolidated W. P. & P. Co. Co. engineer's supplies 4.10
J. P. Farley repairs and plumbing 17.10
Siewert & Edwards, Dom. Sa. supplies 12.62
The First National Bank, Oct. Grand Rapids 81.11
G. R. Poultry Co. repairs 59.74
R. L. Nash, 100 stamped envelopes 21.24
W. H. Burchell, freight and drayage 10.31
Wm. F. Hess plumbing 1.00
D. M. Huntington, repairs and supplies 6.65
Nash Hwy. Co. engineer's supplies 1.75
E. W. Ellis Lumber Co. edgings 12.00
Mrs. C. S. Beardsley, Dom. Sa. supplies 10.38
Johnson & Hill Co. supplies 40.88
A bill from W. P. Noltner for over time was on motion disallowed.

The resignation of Miss Agnes McCormick as a teacher was accepted and Miss Grace Morgan of Amherst was engaged to fill the vacancy at $55.00 per month.

Motion to adjourn was then carried. (Signed) I. P. Witter, President. C. W. Schwede, Clerk of Board of Education.

Episcopalians Have Up-to-date Prayer
Were you looking over a list of prayers to find one fitted for present day use, what would you think of one that incorporated these supplications: "From the sins that divide us, from all class bitterness and hatred, from forgetfulness of Thee and indifference to our fellowmen, good Lord, deliver us."

"From the fear of unemployment, chise and civil government, from greed and the arbitrary love of power, good Lord, deliver us."

"From the fear of unemployment, and the evils of overwork from the curse of child labor and the ill paid toil of women, good Lord, deliver us."

"That the labor movement may be confirmed in disinterested honor and the employers of labor may fashion their dealings according to the laws of equity, we beseech Thee to hear us, good Lord."

This is not the prayer of a professional politician on the stump. It was recently used in a New York Episcopal church. And, after all, is there anything in Holy Writ to which this practical prayer of the times is abhorrent?—LaCrosse Tribune.

Episcopalians Have Up-to-date Prayer
Were you looking over a list of prayers to find one fitted for present day use, what would you think of one that incorporated these supplications: "From the sins that divide us, from all class bitterness and hatred, from forgetfulness of Thee and indifference to our fellowmen, good Lord, deliver us."

"From the fear of unemployment, chise and civil government, from greed and the arbitrary love of power, good Lord, deliver us."

"From the fear of unemployment, and the evils of overwork from the curse of child labor and the ill paid toil of women, good Lord, deliver us."

"That the labor movement may be confirmed in disinterested honor and the employers of labor may fashion their dealings according to the laws of equity, we beseech Thee to hear us, good Lord."

This is not the prayer of a professional politician on the stump. It was recently used in a New York Episcopal church. And, after all, is there anything in Holy Writ to which this practical prayer of the times is abhorrent?—LaCrosse Tribune.

Episcopalians Have Up-to-date Prayer
Were you looking over a list of prayers to find one fitted for present day use, what would you think of one that incorporated these supplications: "From the sins that divide us, from all class bitterness and hatred, from forgetfulness of Thee and indifference to our fellowmen, good Lord, deliver us."

"From the fear of unemployment, chise and civil government, from greed and the arbitrary love of power, good Lord, deliver us."

"From the fear of unemployment, and the evils of overwork from the curse of child labor and the ill paid toil of women, good Lord, deliver us."

"That the labor movement may be confirmed in disinterested honor and the employers of labor may fashion their dealings according to the laws of equity, we beseech Thee to hear us, good Lord."

This is not the prayer of a professional politician on the stump. It was recently used in a New York Episcopal church. And, after all, is there anything in Holy Writ to which this practical prayer of the times is abhorrent?—LaCrosse Tribune.

Episcopalians Have Up-to-date Prayer
Were you looking over a list of prayers to find one fitted for present day use, what would you think of one that incorporated these supplications: "From the sins that divide us, from all class bitterness and hatred, from forgetfulness of Thee and indifference to our fellowmen, good Lord, deliver us."

"From the fear of unemployment, chise and civil government, from greed and the arbitrary love of power, good Lord, deliver us."

"From the fear of unemployment, and the evils of overwork from the curse of child labor and the ill paid toil of women, good Lord, deliver us."

"That the labor movement may be confirmed in disinterested honor and the employers of labor may fashion their dealings according to the laws of equity, we beseech Thee to hear us, good Lord."

This is not the prayer of a professional politician on the stump. It was recently used in a New York Episcopal church. And, after all, is there anything in Holy Writ to which this practical prayer of the times is abhorrent?—LaCrosse Tribune.

Episcopalians Have Up-to-date Prayer
Were you looking over a list of prayers to find one fitted for present day use, what would you think of one that incorporated these supplications: "From the sins that divide us, from all class bitterness and hatred, from forgetfulness of Thee and indifference to our fellowmen, good Lord, deliver us."

"From the fear of unemployment, chise and civil government, from greed and the arbitrary love of power, good Lord, deliver us."

"From the fear of unemployment, and the evils of overwork from the curse of child labor and the ill paid toil of women, good Lord, deliver us."

Sold by Grocers everywhere

PARTICULARS OF THE BEELL-YOKEL MATCH

Duluth Herald—Fred Beell last evening demonstrated before 3,500 wildly cheering spectators that he is still the master matman of the world for the little Wisconsin wood chopper defeated the peerless Mike Yokel in two straight falls, winning the first with a flying mare and roll in one hour and 11 minutes and the second and deciding fall in half an hour and 12:35.

Until the first fall, which came with a brilliant unexpectedness that thrilled those who had been given no warning of the lightning move, there was little to choose between the two men.

For over an hour the stocky and lion hearted boy from the fastness of the Jackson Hole country met the old master of the mat at every move of the game, check-mated every trick, every hold of Beell, and appeared fully as strong if not as fast as the Marshfield wonder.

Then came the move that started into wild-eyed wonder, that drove every man yelling to his feet. Yokel made for the shifty and tricky Beell. Quick as a particularly agile cat Beell half turned his back to Yokel and then clamped on the flying mare and with the weight of his body in the heave threw the Salt Lake City man over his head and heavily to the mat.

Yokel alighted half on his side and with full force on the back of the head. It seemed as if the Jackson Hole boy was somewhat dazed, but the instinct for self preservation was still dominant. He attempted to roll and wriggle out of the hold, but Beell, hot on the scent of victory, and master of the wiles of the game, with a few more slowly but nevertheless surely pinned the broad back of the Utah boy to the mat.

There was an intensely dramatic moment as the broad hand of the champion heavyweight of the world, Frank A. Gotch, was poised in the air. The big hand held motionless. Then suddenly it descended and a great cheer rent the air and seemed to split the roof in the intensity of its volume. For the first time the spectators realized what had occurred, so quickly had it all happened. For the second time in more than 300 mat battles the back of Mike Yokel had been pinned to the mat.

Beell is the Master.

Maybe Yokel realized he was beaten and maybe he did not. Men with hearts like the great boy from the Western desert sometimes never know when they are beaten. Certain it is that when time was called for the second fall the Yokel boy came out and fought Beell around the ring for the first few minutes of the bout.

The wrestling was the fastest ever seen in a Duluth ring. Followers of Yokel yelled advice and encouragement above the din of thunderous volume, advice that fought its way to the two struggling gladiators above the fanfare of mingled sound.

But through it all the master remained the master; the wrestling art of Beell was never more fully brought out, for great as Yokel is, the greatest middleweight that ever stepped on the canvas, the light heavyweight marvel, Beell, with his added poundage, is greater.

With the great burst of Yokel's speed somewhat subsided, Beell again took the aggressive and went behind his man shortly after the ten-minute mark. Then Fred began working for the most effective holds known to the wrestling game. With a sudden move he upset Mike enough to get the proper leverage for the hold and then he applied the power of leverage properly executed, the power of every pound of weight behind it. Slowly Yokel was turned. Then suddenly the huge necked, and deep chested desert demon was into the bridge. The voice on his huge neck stood out, the corded muscles about the neck and bulky shoulders showed the fight the man was making. The huge brown arms, bent back on the canvas, bulged with the effort of throwing off the weight of Beell. But resistance was futile; slowly the form of Yokel was pressed nearer the mat. Again the huge hand of the champion of all champions was held in the air. On all fours, the huge form of Gotch almost obscured the two struggling wrestlers. With his head almost on the mat, with one last look, Gotch's hand descended on the back of the man who was at one time the greatest rival of the heavyweight king, and the contest that has been speculated upon for months was over.

What They Said.

Beell was seated on the bench in that funny little German countenance was hardly changed. The man showed only to the trained eye of the follower of athletics the intense efforts of the struggle. Slowly he pulled off his clothes.

"Yokel is the greatest middleweight no man of the middleweight poundage in the world," said Beell. "There is who can defeat him. That boy is the best little man I have ever met. If I had not been in the best shape that I have been in the past six years, the result might have been different. Yokel is wonderfully strong and he is willing to mix at all times. When a man mixes he is easier to beat—if he doesn't know how to wrestle. Yokel does, and he kept coming to me all the time. He's a real wrestler and a real man."

Over on the other side of the huge arena was the dressing room of the loser. The deep and hairy chest was heaving with the intensity of the struggle. The old Yokel smile, even in the moment of defeat, was not lost. It is often that the defeated are not without followers, utterly without consolation. Such was not the case with Yokel. People clamored to get into the dressing room of the Mormon youth to shake his hand.

"The best man won," said Yokel. It was highly characteristic of Yokel that he would give his opponent credit. "Beell has everything," said Mike. "I tackled too much and lost to a better man. He was heavier than I am and no man can beat so wonderfully a wrestler as Fred unless he is far heavier. I learned something from Beell, and believe me I will use it on some of the others."

It Was Some Match.

As has been said there was little to choose between the two men for the first hour. It was one test of strength, a constant battle of trickery and subtlety. Always it seemed that Beell was waiting for something. Always it seemed that Yokel was watching for this something. The speed of Beell was greater, his science more complete in the matter of strength there seemed little to choose.

Yokel carried the battle to Beell all

HEALTH DIVISION
EXTENSION DIVISION
R. L. CHANDLER, CHIEF

GRIPPE AND INFLUENZA

Contrary to the generally accepted notion, gripe is an exceedingly serious disease. According to the last figures at hand, there were 302 deaths in Wisconsin in the year 1919. This is nearly as many as died in this state from typhoid, the serious disease of which generally runs its course in a few days. Influenza is one of the few diseases more prevalent amongst rural dwellers than amongst the city inhabitants. There were in Wisconsin in 1919, 236 deaths in the country as against 68 in the cities.

Throughout the United States, over a ten year period, there are, on an even population basis, twice as many deaths in the rural districts as there are in the urban population.

In addition to being so frequent a direct cause of death, influenza is responsible for paving the way for other fatal maladies.

One of the reasons why the seriousness of genuine gripe is not more generally recognized is that with some people, every little immaterial "cold" is called gripe. Real influenza is a specific germ disease, marked by a degree of prostration out of all proportion to the seeming importance of the accompanying symptoms. This disease may attack the lungs and air passages. Pneumonia is not uncommon. The symptoms may not be dissimilar to those of a severe "cold." An intestinal form of the disease is frequently seen, in which there is severe colicky pain and diarrhea.

In addition to such treatment as may be given to relieve the symptoms, the patient should be confined to bed until he has completely recovered. Influenza is an epidemic disease. When it is raging, people should avoid contact with patients. Discharges should be disinfected. Manicure knives, or cloths used by the patient when coughing or for wiping the discharges from the nose should be handled with extreme care and be burned or thoroughly boiled to destroy the germs.

NEWS ITEMS FROM NEARBY PLACES

To Remodel Hotel Bellis.—The Bellis Hotel company are having plans made by Chromast & Speer for remodeling the front and part of the interior of the Hotel Bellis next year. The tentative plans of the company call for an outlay of $75,000 and will include a complete new front with brass tiled canopy to extend over the Third street entrance. It is possible that an entire section of the front of the building will be removed to accommodate the improvements. The architects will submit several sketches and plans with the remodeling. It is the aim of the company to make the Bellis one of the most attractive as well as best hotels in the state.—Wausau Sun.

Dog Wouldn't Stay in Jail.—Game Wardens Foster and Thorn, while looking out for violations of the game laws in the town of Green Valley Saturday discovered two dogs running loose. Fred Marsh was found with a gun and he was placed under arrest, charged with hunting with dogs during the month of November. The dogs were confiscated and brought to Wausau, but one of them, a pup five months old, crawled through a window at the Foster home and disappeared. Marsh came to Wausau Monday and entered a plea of not guilty to the charge. He also started a revivify action to recover possession of his dogs. The one that did not get away was turned over to the sheriff and he will hold it until the case is tried November 13. Just how the case concerning the other dog will be settled is something of a problem. Whether or not the game wardens can be made to produce the dog or pay for it is a matter about which there is difference of opinion.—Wausau Sun.

Survey Is Completed.—The survey of the new proposed railroad, the Minneapolis, Merrill & Marinette line was completed Monday, and as soon as possible it will be taken before the rate commission at Madison for their approval. Engineers Roy, Birdsell and Burnett, who had charge of most of this part of the work, together with a crew of fifteen men from this city, have been at work since July 21, endeavoring to secure the best practical route from this city to Athens. After surveying and re-surveying, and after about 150 miles all told, they have succeeded in laying out one of the finest routes for a railroad that can be found. They met with many obstacles, but overcame them one by one, and succeeded in securing a grade of a maximum of one per cent. The cost of the construction will be lower than for any road built in the state, on account of the painstaking methods employed in securing this excellent route. It will be as straight as a die, so to speak, it extends southwest from Merrill to Athens, a prosperous little village in Marathon county, whose residents are greatly interested in the project.—Merrill News.

Killed by Soo Train.—Herbert Specker, aged 22 and residing near Colby, went to a dance at Atwood last Saturday night and the next morning his dead body was found on the Soo line track about two miles east of the latter place. He had been killed by passenger train No. 3, or an extra west-bound freight, death coming no doubt instantaneously. Specker, with several companions, started walking on the track at about 2:30 o'clock Sunday morning. At that time, according to reports, he was under the influence of liquor to a considerable extent. It was about 4:30 o'clock when Engineer Harrison, on passenger train No. 17, saw the body on the track a short distance ahead. The emergency brakes were applied but the train could not be stopped before part of it had passed over the body. Specker, from all appearances, had been dead for an hour or more. The remains, which were mangled by the two trains over them, were taken in the coroner at Owen.

MEEHAN.
Thos. Medraw of Birch was a business caller here the first part of the week.

Orrin Pike drives a nice span of colts which he recently purchased from Byron Rogers of Plover.

Wallace Slack of Grand Rapids is here helping his brother Harry do his fall work and making improvements about the farm.

Orrin Clendenning expects to go over in the town of Stockton this week to shred corn for a while.

The boys who went to Birchwood after deer returned triumphantly bringing home proof of their luck. Burton Fox and Arnold Krohn are among the successful ones.

The Green Bay R. R. Co. put in a new switch and lengthened out their side track here last week, making it more convenient and pleasant for all.

Another fire here Wednesday morning of last week destroyed a couple of barns on the farm of D. H. Parks about one-half mile east of the station. Several tons of hay and corn fodder which was in the buildings was also destroyed. The property was insured for about $400.00.

Mr. Wm. Gaulke, Jr., of Kellner and Miss Ella Winkler of this place were married at the home of the bride's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Frank Winkler last week Wednesday, Nov. 12. Mr. Jos. Winkler and Miss Laura Gaulke were the attendants. The wedding ceremony was performed by Rev. Krusche of Kellner in the presence of about sixty relatives and friends. After the ceremony a bountiful dinner was served to all present. The couple received many beautiful presents.

Many of their friends who were not present at the ceremony came in the evening and the way shot guns and cow bells rang out on that clear starry night wasn't slow. Mr. Gaulke was so pleased to see them that he gave them a hand full of silver that sent them away rejoicing. The new married couple went to Ashland that evening and after returning home will go to house keeping soon in their new house on 19th street in Grand Rapids.

Mr. Gaulke is well known here and has a large circle of friends. Miss Winkler has resided here all her life having spent her school days here and growing up to a young lady in her old childhood home and neighborhood. We wish to join in wishing them happiness and success as they journey down life's pathway.

RUDOLPH.

Mrs. Geo. W. Baker, Sr., Mrs. Susie Scribner and Royal Baker of your city were Sunday guests at the Nick Ratelle home and enjoyed a chicken chowder dinner.

Mrs. Herman Shearers of your city spent Sunday with her uncle Elmer B. Croteau and family.

Kujawa and Wilkins are nicely settled in their new store. It is a fine brick building with a porch to keep it warm and a nice basement. They also have an elevator and many modern conveniences. They have sent out bills for their opening sale to start the 20th, and last until the 29th.

The Maeder Orchestra gave a dance in Marceau's Hall Monday evening. There was not a very large attendance.

Mrs. Peter Akey returned Friday night from a two weeks visit in Merrill and Edgar.

Mrs. J. A. Jackson was shopping in your city Saturday.

Mr. and Mrs. Emmett Slatery are rejoicing over the arrival of a baby boy born Monday, Nov. 17.

Three school teachers will give a hard time dance Tuesday evening, Nov. 25th. They will charge 49c and no change given. Come dressed in hard time clothes or it will cost you 25c. Hard time music will be furnished.

Mrs. Ang. Jacoby and daughter Mrs. Ida Blankenship were shopping in your city Wednesday.

Mrs. John Golan spent several days in Merrill.

Mrs. Julia Wiersheim spent a few days with her sister Mrs. Allie Hoover in Dexterville.

Miss Katie Nash on R. D. No. 4 in Sigel, was very agreeably surprised Monday afternoon by a few of her neighbors dropping in and helped her to a quilt. They brought a nice lunch and all had a good time.

Miss Bessie Materson of your city spent Sunday with her sister Floy.

Win. Corcoran surveyor from your city was up here Saturday trying to straighten out some land for Joe Sharkey.

Nick Ratelle sold a 150 foot lot to John Wilkins and we understand John will erect a fine residence in the

Barn Paint

60c Per Gallon in 5 gallon cans

How are your buildings? Do they need painting? Never before offered at this price. Anticipate your wants and save yourself money. This offer holds good until Saturday night, Nov. 22nd.

Johnson & Hill Co.
Paint Department

We refer those who have not banked with us to those who have.

OUR BANK SAFETY COURTESY ENTERPRISE

SOLID AS A ROCK

We refer those who have not banked with us to those who HAVE. We are here to serve our patrons, and are willing, at any time, to advise those who need help or advice. You go to the doctor when you are ill, you go to the lawyer to straighten out your legal difficulties; when you are in financial perplexity why not go to the BANK? The banker is the one man who gives his advice free and cheerfully.

Do YOUR banking with US. We pay 3 per cent interest compounded semi-annually.

Bank of Grand Rapids,
WEST SIDE

Announcements

Anna Joeten is working for Mrs. J. A. Jackson for a couple of weeks.

Mr. and Mrs. Boyd Sharkey departed Tuesday to make their home in Mosine in the future.

Mrs. Mauida Elliott returned home Friday evening from Grand Rapids where she spent the week with her brother and family.

Mesdames Evelyn Croteau and daughter Julia Wiersheim, returned Monday evening from Dexterville, where they spent a few days at dinner Sunday.

Mr. and Mrs. Mese Sharkey entertained as a farewell to Mr. and Mrs. Boyd Sharkey.

Frank Root, Emil Haumschild, Geo. and Fred Piltz, Barney Morgan returned home Monday night and each brought home a deer.

The Moravian ladies aid society will meet at the home of Mrs. Piltz on Tuesday, November 25 at 2 p. m. The meeting will be a Thanksgiving service.

Ernest Wilke is building an addition to his house.

Matt Schiltz who has been ill for some time is now confined to his bed and the attending physicians hold out no hope for his recovery.

Louise Omholt of your city is clerking at Kujawa & Wilkins.

The Lawersons boys sold some geese that were raffled off Saturday night. Elmer C. Croteau got two, Arsenie Ratelle got two, Ernie Raymore got one, Alex Zimmerman got three.

Dr. S. E. Cottrell of your city was called here Friday to doctor a sick cow belonging to Geo. Bushmaker. She recovered.

Joe Marceau has quit her work as telephone girl at Clark's.

Mesdames Frank Root and Emil Haumschild spent a couple of days in your city last week.

Mrs. Joe Dupree, a former resident of this town spent a few days the past week with Mr. and Mrs. Mese Sharkey.

(Too Late for Last Week.)

Mrs. Evelyn Croteau left on Saturday for Dexterville to keep house for her daughter, Mrs. Allie Hoover for a week while her daughter is on a visit.

Through a misunderstanding it appeared in last weeks issue that Fred Piltz would soon go into the horse breaking business but it should have read Will Piltz who recently bought a broncho for his boys and was trying to break it for horse back riding.

Mrs. Julia Wiersheim from Burnett county arrived Saturday night to spend a month with her mother Mrs. Evelyn Croteau and her brother Elmer C. Mr. and Mrs. Mike Mason and family drove up Sunday and spent the day at the Aug. Jacoby home.

Mrs. J. A. Jackson entertained her sister Mrs. Hilda a few days the past week.

Dr. and Mrs. Jackson and Mrs. High were Wausau guests Wednesday.

—We handle all kinds of insurance make abstracts of title, draw up deeds and mortgages. Give us a trial. Ed. Pomainville, Notary Public. 31.

BIRTHS.

A son to Mr. and Mrs. Wm. Diedrich on Tuesday Nov. 18th.

A son to Mr. and Mrs. Chas. Pagen November 16th.

A son to Mr. and Mrs. Emmett Slatery of Rudolph, Nov. 11.

A daughter to Mr. and Mrs. Aug. Miller.

A daughter to Mr. and Mrs. Art Slickles.

A daughter to Mr. and Mrs. Fred Brahmstead.

A daughter to Mr. and Mrs. F. W. Augett.

A daughter to Mr. and Mrs. Reinhard Miller.

A son to Mr. and Mrs. Will Rowland.

A daughter to Judge and Mrs. W. J. Conway.

A son to Mr. and Mrs. Emile Ziebell, Kellner.

A son to Mr. and Mrs. Peter Luczka.

A son to Mr. and Mrs. Harry Nelson.

A daughter to Mr. and Mrs. Otto Sornau, Kellner.

MARKET REPORT.

Patent Flour	5.20
Rye Flour	3.80
Rye	.55
Butter	25-29
Eggs	32
Beef, live	4-6
Pork, dressed	8-9 1/2
Veal	11-12 1/2
Hay, Timothy	10-12
Potatoes	.45
Hides	9-10
Hens	5
Spring Chickens	8
Outs	37

J. F. Andrew, who is now located in Fond du Lac, was in this locality several days during the past week looking after some business matters. Mr. Andrew left again for his home on Tuesday, and was among the callers at the Tribune office that morning, and asked us to say good bye to his many friends in this locality.

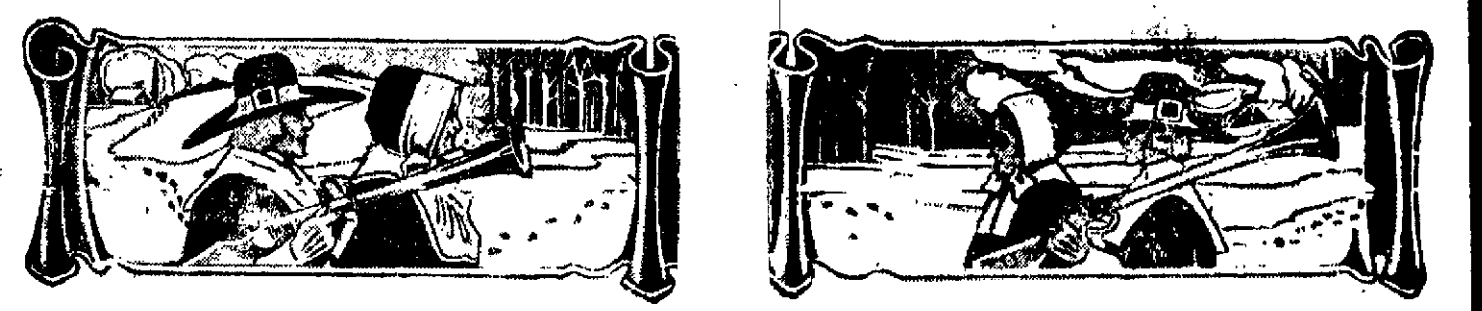

—We want to say to our patrons and customers, there never was a better medicine made than Barker's for Coughs, Colds, Catarrh and Rheumatism. We can recommend it every time Johnson & Hill Co. 41

—Don't forget that Mrs. Daly is to receive another carload of Pianos about the 20th of this month. You may be looking for something of the kind for a Christmas present, and if so, you will know where to look.

Farmers Notice!

Before selling your Hides and Furs, see us for prices. We are headquarters and highest prices assured.

M. L. GINSBURG

The Thanksgiving Table Dressed Correctly

adds pleasure and a taste to the feast. To have the table dressed right for any event is a matter of pride for milady of the house to take delight in, and because Thanksgiving is a feasting time, this is perhaps the best time in the year to provide new fittings for the Thanksgiving table. We all know how much better food tastes when served atop of snowy linen, surrounded by dainty dishes and silverware.

The aim of this store to be helpful in meeting the call for Thanksgiving table dressings has suggested an exhibition and sale for the next seven days to apply in promoting table linens, napkins, fancy linen pieces, silverware, china, and everything you need in the line of provisions for the Thanksgiving feast.

Linens for Thanksgiving

Table Linen—We give you the best values in Table Linen ALL THE TIME, but here are some very special prices for the Thanksgiving Sale:

60 inch Silver Bleached German all linen Table Damask, pretty patterns special for the Thanksgiving Sale per yd.	48c
70 inch all linen full bleached Table Damask, the regular $1.00 grade, our price is 88c but for the Thanksgiving Sale a yd.	75c
72 inch fine all linen full bleached Table Damask, splendid quality, sold in many stores at $1.25 a yard, our regular price is 98c but for this sale per yard.	85c
72 inch fine all linen Table Damask, our regular $1.25 grade for the Thanksgiving Sale per yard.	98c
72 inch fine all linen Table Damask, our regular $1.45 grade for this sale per yard.	$1.25

Napkins at 10 per cent off—We have napkins to match our table cloths, and during this sale we will give a special discount of 10 per cent of the price off.

Towel Special—During this sale we offer a fine assortment of Huck and Damask Towels, our regular price 25c. for this sale, each.

Toweling—18 inch fine all linen full bleached Toweling, our regular 15c grade for this sale, per yard.

18c
10c

Thanksgiving Needs in Our Hardware Department

We have nothing to offer in the eating line, but without our offerings it would be impossible to give the "Old Turk" the last delicious turn that makes the cook smile with the crowd. Savory Roasters are carried in all styles and sizes, ranging in price from $2.00 to 88c

The celebrated Diamond Edge carving sets make it impossible for father to ruin the turkey, at $6.00 to $2.50 prices ranging from.....

You will also find basting spoons, gravy strainers, meat forks, Pot cleaners, graters, pie tins, cookie cutters, Hot pan lifters and other kitchen helps too numerous to mention at prices ranging from 10c to 1c

Thanksgiving Sale in Our China Department

Silver plated Knives and Forks, good grades, set of 6	$2.95
Celery Trays in large variety of styles, prices ranging from $1.50 down to	25c
Casserole Cooking Sets, regular $2 value, special for the Thanksgiving sale	$1.45
Cut Star Water Sets, consisting of pitcher and 6 glasses for the Thanksgiving sale	98c

We have the largest line of dinner sets in this section of the state. Our prices range from $38.00 down to $7.50 but we are going to give 10 per cent discount off the regular price for the Thanksgiving Sale.

Finger Bowls at prices ranging from	$2.00 to 25c
Sugar and Cream Sets, in endless variety of patterns ranging in price from	$2.00 to 25c

Thanksgiving Provisions in Our Pure Food Market

Our pure food market is one of the most up-to-date in the state of Wisconsin. Here you will be able to find everything you may want for your Thanksgiving feast, such as celery, lettuce head, lettuce, spinach, cauliflower, cucumbers, cabbage, white grapes, oranges, bananas, grape fruit, pears, cranberries, mince meat, Irish and sweet potatoes, oysters and the finest line of cheese to be found in the state at the very lowest prices. We invite you to inspect our provisions and you will be convinced that you can get the finest grades for the least money here.

Johnson & Hill Co., Grand Rapids, Wis.

PARTICULARS OF THE BEELL-YOKEL MATCH

Duluth Herald.—Fred Beell last evening demonstrated before 3,500 wildly cheering spectators that he is still the master matman of the world for the little Wisconsin wood chopper defeated the powerful Mike Yokel in two straight falls, winning the first with a flying mare and roll in one hour and 11 minutes and the second and deciding fall with a halfelson and crochets in exactly 12:35.

Until the first fall, which came with a brilliant unexpectedness that thrilled those who had been given no warning of the lightning move, there was little to choose between the two men. For over an hour the stocky and the hearted boy from the fastness of the Jackson Hills country met the old, quick and cunning matman of the name, check-mated every trick, every hold of Beell, and appeared fully as strong if not as fast as the Marshall wonder.

Then came the move that started into wild-eyed wonder, that drove every man yelling and trilling Beell, made for a particularly agile and Beell half turned his back to Yokel and with the weight of his body in the air he threw the Salt Lake City mat over his head and heavily on the mat.

Yokel aligned half on his side and with full force on the back of the head. It seemed as if the Jackson flier boy was somewhat dazed, but the instant for self preservation was still dominant. He attempted to roll and wriggle out of the hold, but Beell, hot on the scent of victory, and with a reverse move, slowly but nevertheless surely pinned the broad back of the Utah boy to the mat.

There was an intensely dramatic moment as the broad hand of the champion heavyweight of the world, Frank A. Gotch, was poised in the air. The big hand held motionless, then suddenly it descended and a great cheer rent the air and seemed to split the roof in the intensity of its volume. For the first time the spectators realized what had occurred, so quickly had it all happened. For the second time in more than 300 mat battles the back of Mike Yokel had been pinned to the mat.

Beell is the Master. Maybe Yokel realized he was beaten and maybe he did not. He was beaten like the great boy from the Western desert sometimes never knew when they are beaten. Certain it is that when time was called for the second bout the Yokel boy came out and fought Beell around the ring for the first few minutes of the bout.

The wrestling of the best ever seen in a Duluth ring. Followers of Yokel yelled advice and encouragement above the din of thunderous volume, advice that fought its way to the two struggling gladiators above the fanfare of mingled sound.

But through it all the master remained the master; the wrestling art of Beell was never more fully borne out than the great as Yokel is, the greatest middleweight that ever stepped on the canvas, the light heavyweight marvel, Beell, with his added poundage, is greater.

With the great burst of Yokel's speed somewhat subsided, Beell again took the aggressive and went behind his man shortly after the ten-minute mark. Then Fred began working for the most effective holds known to the wrestling game. With a sudden move he upset Yokel enough to get the proper leverage for the hold and then he applied the power of average power of weight behind it. Slowly Yokel was turned, and then suddenly the huge necked, and deep chested demon went into the bridge. The veins on his huge neck stood out, the bulged muscles about the neck and corded shoulders showed the light of the man was making the fight. The huge brown arm, bent back on the canvas, bulged with the effort of throwing off the weight of Beell. But resistance was futile; slowly the form of Yokel was pressed nearer the mat. Again the huge hand of the champion of all champions was held in the air, all foam, the huge form of Gotch almost obscured the two struggling wrestlers. With his head almost on the mat, with one last look, Gotch's hand descended on the back of the man who was at one time the greatest rival of the heavyweight king, and the contest that has been speculated upon for months was over.

What They Said. Beell was seated in the bench in his dressing room. The expression of that tiny little German countenance was hardly changed. The man showed only to the trained eye of the follower of athletics the intense efforts of the struggle. Slowly he pulled off his clothes.

"Yokel is the greatest middleweight no man of the middleweight poundage in the world," said Beell. "There is no one who can defeat him. That boy is the best little man I have ever met. If I had not been in the best shape that I have been in the past six years, the result might have been different. Yokel is wonderfully strong and he is willing to risk at all times. When a man makes it his easier to beat—if he doesn't know how to wrestle. Yokel does, and he kept coming to me all the time. He's a real wrestler and a real man."

Over on the other side of the huge arena was the dressing room of the loser. The deep and hairy chest was heaving with the intensity of the struggle. The old Yokel snile, even in the moment of defeat, was not lost. It is often that the defeated are without followers, utterly without consolation. Such was not the case with Yokel. "People clamored to get into the dressing room of the Mormon youth to shake hands."

"The best man won," said Yokel. It was highly characteristic of Yokel that he would give his opponent credit. "Beell has everything," said Mike. "I tackled too much and lost to a better man. He was heavier than I am and no man can beat so wonderful a wrestler as Fred Beell. He is heavier, I learned something from Beell, and believe me I will use it on some of the others."

ways and over the little Beell was ready to meet his opponent. Beell was looking the greater part of the time. Yokel could do little with Beell. For Fred rested when on the mat. On the other hand Beell could not fasten an effective hold on the marvelously strong Yokel.

But in the end the canny ability of Beell to secure the smallest opening, to catch and when this opening came the cutlike agility of the Wisconsin man counted tremendously.

It was the old Beell that last evening beat the heretofore invincible Yokel and it required all Beell had to win.

HEALTHY
EXTENSION DIVISION
HEALTH INSTRUCTION BUREAU
H. C. DANFORTH, MEDICINER

GRIPPE AND INFLUENZA

Contrary to the generally-accepted notion, gripe is an exceedingly serious disease. According to the latest figures at hand, there were 302 deaths in Wisconsin in the year 1919. This is nearly as many as in the year 1918.

Influenza is one of the few diseases more prevalent amongst rural dwellers than amongst the city inhabitants. There were in Wisconsin in 1919, 123 deaths in the country as against 66 in the cities.

Throughout the United States, over a ten year period, there are, on an even population basis, twice as many deaths in the rural districts as there are in the urban population.

In addition to being so frequent a direct cause of death, influenza is responsible for paving the way for other fatal maladies.

One of the reasons why the seriousness of genuine gripe is not more generally recognized is, that with some people, every little immaterial "cold" is called gripe. Real influenza is a specific germ disease, marked by a degree of prostration out of all proportion to the accompanying symptoms. The disease may attack the lungs and air passages. Pneumonia is not uncommon. The symptoms may not be dissimilar to those of a severe cold.

An intestinal form of the disease is frequently seen, in which there is severe colicky pain and diarrhoea.

In addition to such treatment as may be given to relieve the symptoms, the patient should be confined to bed until he has completely recovered. Influenza is an epidemic disease. When it is raging, people should avoid crowds and with patients.

Disinfectants should be used by the patient when coughing, for wiping the discharges from the nose should be handled with extreme care and be burned or thoroughly boiled to destroy the germs.

NEARBY PLACES

To Remodel Hotel Bellis.—The Bellis Hotel company are having plans made by Chromaster & Speer for remodeling the front and part of the interior of the Hotel Bellis next year. The estimate of the plans of the company call for an outlay of $75,000 and will include a complete new front with brass tiled canopy to extend over the Third street entrance. It is possible that an entire section of the front of the building will be removed to accommodate the improvements. The architects will submit several sketches and with these as a guide the complete plans will be made. It is the aim of the company to make the Bellis one of the most attractive as well as best hotels in the state.—Wausau Sun.

Dog Wouldn't Stay in Jail.—Came Warden Foster and "Thorn," white bulldog, about for violations of the same laws in the town of Green Valley Saturday discovered two dogs running game. Fred Marsh was found with a gun and he was placed under arrest, charged with hunting wild dogs during the month of November. The dogs were confiscated and brought to Wausau, but one of them, a pup five months old, crawled through a window at the Foster home and disappeared. Marsh came to Wausau Monday and entered a plea of not guilty to the charge. He also started a reprieve action to recover possession of his dogs.

The one that did not get away was turned over to the sheriff and he will hold it until the case is tried November 13. Just how the case concerning the other dog will be settled is something of a problem. Whether or not the game warden can be made to produce the dog or pay for it is a matter about which there is difference of opinion.—Wausau Sun.

Survey Is Completed.—The survey of the new proposed railroad, the Minneapolis, Merrill & Marinette line was completed Monday, and as soon as possible it will be taken before the rate commission at Madison for their approval. Engineers Roy, Birdsell and Burnett, who had charge of most of this part of the work, together with a crew of fifteen men from this city, have been at work since July 24, endeavoring to secure the best practical route from this city to Athens. After about 150 miles all told, they have succeeded in laying out one of the finest routes for a railroad that can be found anywhere in the state.

They met with many obstacles, but overcame them one by one, and succeeded in securing a grade of a maximum of one per cent. The cost of construction will be lower than for any road built in the state on account of the interesting methods employed in securing this excellent route. It will be as straight as a die, so to speak, it extends southwest from Merrill to Athens, a prosperous little village in Marathon county, whose residents are greatly interested in the project.—Merrill News.

MECHAN

Thos. McGraw of Birch was a business caller here the fore part of the week.

Orrin Eike drives a nice splash of coils which he recently purchased from Byron Rogers of Flover.

Wallace Black of Grand Rapids is here helping his brother Harry do up his fall work and making improvements about the farm.

Orrin Clendinning expects to go over in the town of Stockton this week to shed corn for a while.

The boys here returned triumphantly bring home proof of their luck. Burton Fox and Arnold Krohn are among the successful ones.

The Green Bay R. R. Co. put in a new switch and lengthened out their side track here last week, making it more convenient and pleasant for all.

Another fire here Wednesday morning of last week destroyed a couple of barns on the farm of D. H. Parks a one-half mile east of the station.

Several tons of hay and corn fodder which was in the buildings was also destroyed. The property was insured for about $450.00.

Mr. Wm. Gauke, Jr., of Kellner and Miss Ella Winkler of this place were married at the home of the bride's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Frank Winkler last week Wednesday, Nov. 12.

Mr. Jos. Winkler and Miss Laura Gauke were the attendants. The wedding ceremony was performed by Rev. Kruse of Kellner in the presence of about sixty relatives and friends.

In addition to the ceremony a bountiful dinner was served to all present. The couple received many beautiful presents.

Many of their friends who were not present at the ceremony came in the evening and the way shot guns and cow bells rang out on that clear starry night. Mr. Gauke was so fatigued by the day that he gave them a hand full of silver that sent them away rejoicing. The new married couple went to Ashland that evening and after returning home will go to house keeping soon in their new house on 10th street in Grand Rapids.

Mr. Gauke is well known here and has a large circle of friends. Miss Winkler has resided here all her life having spent her school days here and growing up to a young lady in her old childhood home and neighborhood. We wish to join in wishing them happiness and success as they journey down life's pathway.

RUDOLPH.

Mrs. Geo. W. Baker, Sr., Mrs. Susie Scribner and Royal Baker of your city were Sunday guests at the Nick Ratelle home and enjoyed a chicken chowder dinner.

Mrs. Herman Showers of your city spent Sunday with her uncle Elmer B. Crockett and family.

Kujawa and Wilkins are nicely settled in their new store. It is a fine brick building with a furnace to keep it warm and a nice basement. They also have an elevator and many modern conveniences. They have sent out bills for their opening sale to start the 20th and last until the 29th.

The Mander Orchestra gave a dance in "Marseau's Hall" Monday evening. There was not a very large attendance.

Mrs. Peter Akey returned Friday night from a two weeks visit in Merrill and Edgar.

Mrs. J. A. Jackson was shopping in your city Saturday.

Mr. and Mrs. Emmett Slattery are rejoicing over the arrival of a baby boy born Monday, Nov. 17.

Three school teachers will give a hard time dance Tuesday evening, Nov. 25th. They will charge 40c and no change given. Come dressed in hard time clothes or it will cost you 24c. Hard time music will be furnished.

Mrs. Aug. Jacoby and daughter Mrs. Ida Blankenship were shopping in your city Wednesday.

Mrs. John Golan spent several days in Merrill.

Mrs. Julia Wiersheim spent a few days with her sister Mrs. Allie Hoover in Dexterville.

Miss Katie Nash on R. D. No. 4 in Sigel, was very agreeably surprised Monday afternoon by a few of her neighbors dropping in and helped her to a quilt. They brought a nice lunch and all had a good time.

Miss Bessie Margeson of your city spent Sunday with her sister Floy.

Wm. Corcoran surveyor from your city was up here Saturday trying to straighten out some land for Joe Sharkey.

Nick Ratelle sold a 150 foot lot to John Wilkins and we understand John will erect a fine residence in the spring.

ADDITIONAL LOCAL

Atty. C. O. Baker of Greenwood was a business visitor in the city on Monday.

Henry Carlson spent Thursday and Friday of last week in Dayton, Ohio on business.

Will Provost of the town of Rudolph was among the business callers at the Tribune office on Tuesday.

LOST.—A dark red galloway lap robe. Suitable reward for return to Dr. F. P. Pomainville.

A. G. Pankow, editor of the Marshall Democrat was a business visitor at the court house on Monday.

Miss Elizabeth Nash of Nekosha has accepted the position of bookkeeper in the Nash Hardware Co.'s store.

Clarence Jackson of Chicago spent several days with his parents, Mr. and Mrs. M. H. Jackson the past week.

Rev. Edgar Farrill, secretary of the Christian Endeavor societies of Wisconsin, will preach in English at the First Moravian church next Sunday evening, at 7:30 o'clock.

Ed. Hayes returned from the north woods last week with a large "spike horn" buck. Will Hurley who went up with him will remain for another week hunting and trapping.

FOR RENT.—Farm on Portage road, close to city limits, 40 acres with good house and outbuildings. Will rent house with part of all of the land. Inquire G. H. Kiley. 1tp

Mrs. J. A. Jackson entertained her sister Mrs. High a few days the past week.

Dr. and Mrs. Jackson and Mrs. High were Wausau guests Wednesday.

—We handle all kinds of Insurance make abstracts of title draw up deeds and mortgages. Give us a trial. Ed. Pomainville, Notary Public. 3t

Barn Paint

60c Per Gallon in
in 5 gallon cans

How are your buildings? Do they need painting? Never before offered at this price. Anticipate your wants and save yourself money. This offer holds good until Saturday night, Nov. 22nd.

Johnson & Hill Co.
Paint Department

We refer those who have not banked with us to those who have.

We refer those who have not banked with us to those who HAVE. We are here to serve our patrons, and are willing, at any time, to advise those who need help or advice. You go to the doctor when you are ill, you go to the lawyer to straighten out your legal difficulties; when you are in financial perplexity why not go to the BANK? The banker is the one man who gives his advice free and cheerfully.

Do YOUR banking with US. We pay 3 per cent interest compounded semi-annually.

Bank of Grand Rapids, WEST SIDE

BIRTHS.

A son to Mr. and Mrs. Wm. Diehrich on Tuesday Nov. 18th.

A son to Mr. and Mrs. Chas. Pagel November 18th.

A son to Mr. and Mrs. Emmett Slattery of Rudolph, Nov. 11.

A daughter to Mr. and Mrs. Aug. Miller.

A daughter to Mr. and Mrs. Art Sicles.

A daughter to Mr. and Mrs. Fred Brahmstead.

A daughter to Mr. and Mrs. F. W. Auelet.

A daughter to Mr. and Mrs. Reinhard Miller.

A son to Mr. and Mrs. Will Rowland.

A daughter to Judge and Mrs. W. J. Conway.

A son to Mr. and Mrs. Emil Ziebell, Kellner.

A son to Mr. and Mrs. Harry Nelson.

A daughter to Mr. and Mrs. Otto Sernau, Kellner.

MARKET REPORT.

Patent Flour	5.20
Rye Flour	3.80
Rye	5.50
Butter	25.25
Eggs	7.25
Beef, live	4.40
Pork, dressed	11.12 1/2
Veal	11.12 1/2
Hay, Timothy	$10.12
Potatoes	.45
Hides	9.10
Hens	.50
Spring Chickens	.80
Oats	3.75

J. F. Andrew, who is now located in Fond du Lac, was in this locality several days during the past week looking after some business matters. Mr. Andrew left again for his home on Tuesday, and was among the callers at the Tribune office that morning, and asked us to say good bye to his many friends in this locality.

—We want to say to our patrons and customers, there never was a better medicine made than Barker's for Coughs, Colds, Catarrh and Rheumatism. We can recommend it every time. Johnson & Hill Co. 4t

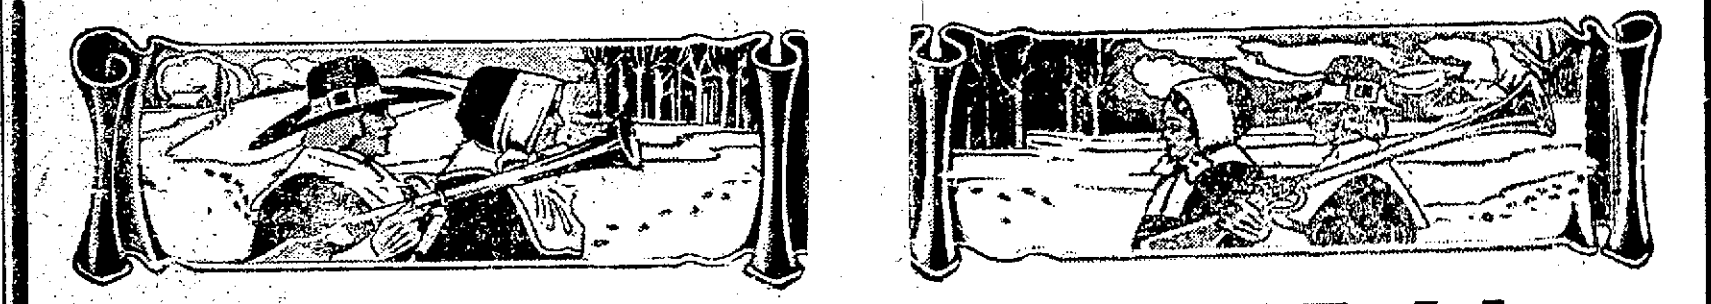

Nels Sundet and A. J. Daleto have entered into a partnership and will engage in the tailoring business, they having located in rooms over the Wesel store. Mr. Sundet is well known in this city, having been in business here for many years, while the other member of the firm has been employed in the tailoring establishment of H. F. Matthews.

—Don't forget that Mrs. Daly is to receive another carload of Planos about the 20th of this month. You may be looking for something of the kind for a Christmas present, and if so, you will know where to look.

Farmers Notice!

Before selling your Hides and Furs, see us for prices. We are headquarters and highest prices assured.

M. L. GINSBURG

The Thanksgiving Table Dressed Correctly

adds pleasure and a taste to the feast. To have the table dressed right for any event is a matter of pride for milady of the house to take delight in, and because Thanksgiving is a feasting time, this is perhaps the best time in the year to provide new fittings for the Thanksgiving table. We all know how much better food tastes when served atop of snowy linen, surrounded by dainty dishes and silverware.

The aim of this store to be helpful in meeting the call for Thanksgiving table dressings has suggested an exhibition and sale for the next seven days to apply in promoting table linens, napkins, fancy linen pieces, silverware, china, and everything you need in the line of provisions for the Thanksgiving feast.

Linens for Thanksgiving

Table Linen—We give you the best values in Table Linen ALL THE TIME, but here are some very special prices for the Thanksgiving Sale:

60 inch Silver Bleached German all linen Table Damask, pretty patterns special for the Thanksgiving Sale per yd.	48c
70 inch all linen full bleached Table Damask, the regular $1.00 grade, our price is 88c but for the Thanksgiving Sale a yd.	75c
72 inch fine all linen full bleached Table Damask, splendid quality, sold in many stores at $1.25 a yard, our regular price is 98c but for this sale per yard.	85c
72 inch fine all linen Table Damask, our regular $1.25 grade for the Thanksgiving Sale per yard.	98c
72 inch fine all linen Table Damask, our regular $1.45 grade for this sale per yard.	$1.25

Napkins at 10 per cent off.—We have napkins to match our table cloths, and during this sale we will give a special discount of 10 per cent of the price off.

Towel Special.—During this sale we offer a fine assortment of Huck and Damask Towels, our regular price 25c. for this sale, each.

Toweling.—18 inch fine all linen full bleached Toweling, our regular 15c grade for this sale, per yard.

Thanksgiving Needs in Our Hardware Department

We have nothing to offer in the eating line, but without our offerings it would be impossible to give the "Old Turk" the last delicious turn that makes the cook smile with the crowd. Savory Roasters are carried in all styles and sizes, ranging in price from

$2.00 to 88c

You will also find basting spoons, gravy strainers, meat forks, Pot cleaners, graters, pie tins, cookie cutters, Hot pan lifters and other kitchen helps too numerous to mention at prices ranging from

10c to 1c

Thanksgiving Sale in Our China Department

The celebrated Diamond Edge carving sets make it impossible for father to ruin the turkey, at prices ranging from $6.00 to $2.50

We have the largest line of dinner sets in this section of the state. Our prices range from $38.00 down to $7.50 but we are going to give 10 per cent discount off the regular price for the Thanksgiving Sale.

Silver plated Knives and Forks, good grades, set of 6.	$2.95
Celery Trays in large variety of styles, prices ranging from $1.50 down to.	25c
Casserole Cooking Sets, regular $2 value, special for the Thanksgiving sale.	$1.45
Cut Star Water Sets, consisting of pitcher and 6 glasses for the Thanksgiving sale.	98c

Finger Bowls at prices ranging from

$2.00 to 25c

Sugar and Cream Sets, in endless variety of patterns ranging in price from

$2.00 to 25c

Thanksgiving Provisions in Our Pure Food Market

Our pure food market is one of the most up-to-date in the state of Wisconsin. Here you will be able to find everything you may want for your Thanksgiving feast, such as celery, lettuce head, lettuce, spinach, cauliflower, cucumbers, cabbage, white grapes, oranges, bananas, grape fruit, pears, cranberries, mince meat, Irish and sweet potatoes, oysters and the finest line of cheese to be found in the state at the very lowest prices. We invite you to inspect our provisions and you will be convinced that you can get the finest grades for the least money here.

Johnson & Hill Co., Grand Rapids, Wis.